ILLINOIS SENATE VOTES TODAY ON U. S. DRY REPEAL

Convention July 10 Called Certain.

The Wisconsin convention yesterday voted unanimously to ratify repeal of the 18th amendment. Story on page 8.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—In the brief space of seven minutes the Illinois senate today erased its action of last week, postponing to April 7, 1934, the creation of the state repeal convention. The senate restored the original date, June 5, 1933, as that for the election of delegates.

Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago], author of the bill, called it up, had it sent back to second reading, the amending stage, and presented a set of amendments completely undoing the work of last week. At that time the bill in its original form had failed to pass and the election date was postponed until 1934, the date of the biennial state primaries.

"Noes" Scarcely Heard.

The negatives scarcely were audible when the change was made today by a viva voce vote. Then the date of the convention was fixed for July 10 by a like vote.

A bunch of amendments changing the dates for filing and other subordinate dates—six in all—were adopted on one more viva voce vote. Then, on Ward's motion, the bill was advanced to third or final reading, and made a special order for tomorrow morning. Ward and his associates are confident they now have the 34 votes necessary for passage with immediate effectiveness.

In the meantime the house of representatives was preparing to go ahead with a duplicate of the Ward bill sponsored by Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago] and Majority Leader Thomas P. Sinnett [Dem., Rock Island]. It will be up for passage tomorrow. It has been made to conform to the senate bill as revised today.

Various Reasons Assigned.

Several factors were mentioned in analyses of the senate's reversal of its previous action. One was a public statement issued by Gov. Henry Horner urging that the election be held this June. Another was the activity of three repealist organizations which became aroused when the effort of a year's postponement was launched and was unexpectedly successful last Wednesday.

The representatives of those three organizations—the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, the Crusaders and the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment—conceded that the governor's declaration had saved the day.

A message of congratulation was sent to him by Seymour Wheeler, national vice commander of the Crusaders, who with Col. Ira L. Reeves, western manager, and Capt. William Biesel, were busy all day fighting for the June election date.

The women's organization was represented by Mrs. William H. Mitchell and Mrs. Leslie Wheeler, co-chairmen. The Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment was represented by Lieut. W. W. Bayley. Each of the organizations congratulated the governor.

When to File Petitions.

The third important date changed by the new amendments was the deadline for filing candidates' petitions. The bill in its revised form requires that these petitions must be filed "not less than twenty-five days" before the election. That means they must be filed not later than May 11.

The workers in the cause of repeal joined, following the senate action, in the following statement:

"We commend the senate on their action in striking out the April 7, 1934, amendment, thereby giving the people of the state the opportunity to vote for delegates to the repeal convention at the June 5 election.

"This action, taken in accordance with the party pledges and the thrice expressed wishes of the voters as signified in each referendum since 1922, was the result of the untiring efforts of those senators who so forcibly brought to the notice of their colleagues the apparently forgotten wet mandate of the citizenry of Illinois.

Trust House Convictions.

"We have complete confidence in the house. They have always taken a progressive stand on the repeal question and we feel that they will not forsake the issue now but will continue in session until the June 5 bill becomes a law."

The first definite action taken in reference to repeal was Senator Ward's call for a caucus of Democratic senators at the close of the morning session. There he read the

Mayor Tells Plan to Pay Teachers

GETTING EUROPE TOGETHER

TAX COLLECTION PROGRAM WINS QUICK SUPPORT

Board Votes Today on Closing Schools.

Pay for school teachers and a successful drive to collect Cook county's delinquent taxes seemed apparent yesterday as efforts to solve the two problems resulted in these developments:

1. Mayor Kelly announced that Chicago banks are ready to make substantial loans to meet school pay rolls the moment the legislature and State's Attorney Courtney put through the measures outlined by Mayor Kelly to strengthen tax collections.

2. The legislature swung into its part of the program when the house advanced to third reading the Skarda bill, authorizing the county treasurer to collect the rents and income of tax delinquent properties. This is the first of six measures designed to put teeth in tax collection.

3. State's Attorney Courtney will start his share of the program this morning, it was announced, when he will go before County Judge Jarecki and file informations against a number of large properties which have not paid taxes. This procedure is an application of the principle that governments may take any measures necessary to preserve their existence.

4. Orville J. Taylor, president of the school board, announced that the board will vote today on a proposal to close the schools from May 12 to Oct. 1. He made it plain that if the schools close, the teachers may place the blame squarely on the shoulders of those of their number who staged disorderly "demonstrations" in loop banks Monday.

5. Mayor Kelly told Mr. Taylor and Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan that the school system must cut its expenses so that it can live within its present tax income. He believes that the school budget for the present year can be cut from 20 to 25 per cent.

Mayor to Go to Springfield.

In his announcement of the bankers' willingness to help meet teacher pay rolls, Mayor Kelly stated that he and Patrick A. Nash, leader of the Democratic party in Cook county, will go to Springfield tonight to work for passage of the Skarda bill and five other measures designed to strengthen the tax collection machinery.

The other bills, to be introduced in the legislature before the end of the week, would [a] provide that a taxpayer must pay 75 per cent of his bill before protesting the remainder in the courts; [b] designate the county treasurer as the officer to hold all funds placed in escrow for the eventual purpose of paying taxes, of which funds it is estimated that $30,000,000 or more is now being withheld from the tax collector; [c] provide that the county treasurer may obtain orders of forfeiture and sale against tax delinquent properties at any time, instead of only once a year; [d] increase the facility with which tax deeds may be obtained, to encourage revival of tax buying; [e] fine inciters of tax strikes, or lawyers who solicit clients to attack assessments, from $100 to $1,000 for each offense.

Attacks on Bill Fail.

Minority attacks upon the Skarda bill were beaten off yesterday in the house at Springfield. The bill was amended to make it an emergency measure, applicable immediately following its passage and signature by Gov. Horner. Today the Democratic majority and some Republicans will attempt to muster the 102 votes necessary for its final passage as an emergency measure.

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago], minority leader in the house, led the unsuccessful fight against the bill. He proposed two amendments which would have forced the receiver to obtain permission from the owner and the County court before he could use income from the property for needed repairs.

Opposes Collector Plan.

"We are not ready," he said, "to have the county collector put in charge of the homes of this state."

"There is no disposition to take over the homes of the state," retorted Representative Howard L. Doyle [Dem., Decatur]. "The purpose of these amendments is to defeat the whole plan behind this bill."

"Let's have a clear understanding of this bill," broke in Benjamin S. Adamowski [Dem., Chicago]. "It is designed to get the big tax dodgers who are hiding behind the skirts of

KELLY EXPLAINS HOW BANKS HOPE TO AID SCHOOLS

Mayor Kelly's statement on the prospective payment of school employes, issued last evening at a dinner given at the Morrison hotel by the city council committee on committees, follows:

"After ten days' work and coöperation with Chicago bankers I laid out a program for the purpose of forcing the payment of taxes and for the enactment of legislation which would protect the bankers and their depositors and investors against depreciation of tax warrants. I met with the bankers again today and they have agreed, if this program is carried through to conclusion as it has been outlined, that they will aid substantially in loaning money toward the payment of salaries of school teachers in the near future.

MAYOR KELLY.

"I have every confidence that the legislature will remedy any defects in existing statutes, the correction of which is deemed necessary for the purpose of forcing the collection of taxes and the validation of warrants to be issued in the future. I am going to Springfield Wednesday night, together with the Democratic leader, Mr. P. A. Nash, for the purpose of urging the speedy enactment of necessary legislation in order that this money may be forthcoming as soon as possible.

"Furthermore, I wish to state that the bankers have coöperated in every way and have given constant attention to this matter ever since I was selected for the office of mayor."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald discussed today the British plea for cancellation of the four billion dollar war debt Great Britain owes the United States.

No decision or understanding was arrived at, except that the conversations on the revision of the war debt settlement should be continued between the representatives of the two governments in London and Washington.

In official circles, however, the greatest significance was attached to the intelligence. It was construed as evidence that an accord on the questions involved in the approaching world economic conference had been reached by the President and the prime minister, for which reason Mr. Roosevelt had consented to enter into debt revision negotiations with the British government.

Late tonight Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. MacDonald, and Mr. Herriot set the London parley for June 12.

Economic Issues Agreed On.

The President previously had taken the position that he would not discuss the debts pending disclosure of how far the debtors were willing to go in stabilizing currencies, removing trade restrictions, and effecting other economic reforms.

The British delegation satisfied the President on the economic issue and Mr. Roosevelt then consented to discuss debt revision. In some quarters it is surmised that in due time Mr. Roosevelt will propose to congress a reduction of the debts and perhaps a lump sum final settlement.

Announcement of the fact that a debt revision discussion had taken place was made by the White House tonight in a joint statement by the President and Prime Minister MacDonald.

Formal Statement on Debts.

The statement follows:

"During the day the prime minister and the President have discussed the problems of the debt of the British government to the United States government. Both have faced the realities and the obligations and both believe that as a result there is laid the basis of a clearer understanding of the situation affecting the two nations.

"It would be wholly misleading to intimate that any plan or any settlement is under way. It is the simple truth that thus far only preliminary explorations of many different routes have been commenced. The point to be emphasized is that with the most friendly spirit progress is being made. After the prime minister's departure these conversations can well continue in London and Washington."

Hopes to Open Negotiations.

Thus Mr. MacDonald in his concluding conferences with the President achieved what he had come for—at least all that he expected to accomplish at this time. With congress opposed to a reduction, not to mention cancellation, of the debts, he entertained no hopes of negotiating a revision agreement.

All he aimed at was an opening of the negotiations and an acknowledgment by the President that he had consented to consider the British plea for forgiveness of the debt.

On the eve of his departure for England tomorrow Mr. MacDonald was able to send back the word that he was bringing home the bacon. The White House statement was withheld from publication until the hour for the London morning papers of tomorrow to appear.

The debt discussion and the announcement of its result were handled in such manner as to convey a strong hint to other debtors that they likewise can draw Mr. Roosevelt into dis-

OLD FASHIONED TOWN MEETING SLASHES BUDGET

An old fashioned town meeting effected some old fashioned economies yesterday as 400 citizens, gathered in the American Legion Memorial home in Waukegan, passed the 1933 levy for Waukegan township.

After a spirited discussion of the needs for the township, which includes all of Waukegan and half of North Chicago, the 400 citizens by a rising vote passed the 1933 levy in the amount of $67,000. This was $58,000 less than the 1932 levy.

The citizens divided the $67,000 levy as follows: $50,000 for poor relief, $7,000 for officers' salaries, $7,500 for the township assessor and his office, $2,000 for the highway commission, and $500 for printing.

The $50,000 apportionment for poor relief was one-half that of the 1932 apportionment. Fred W. Buck was elected moderator of the town board.

Nine Indicted in Collapse of Security Life

Machir J. Dorsey, once a millionaire insurance promoter, was indicted in Criminal court yesterday with eight associates, including John H. S. Lee, prominent attorney, on charges of conspiracy to obtain $1,555,000 by false pretenses.

The indictment charges that the nine alleged conspirators engineered a complex deal to saddle $1,705,000 in mortgages on a vacant Waukegan factory worth no more than $150,000 and then dump the mortgages on two of the string of insurance companies which Dorsey formerly controlled. The two concerns, the Security Life Insurance company of Chicago and the Northern States Life Insurance company of Hammond, Ind., are now defunct and the mortgages are listed among their most desperate assets.

Issue Capiases for Arrest.

Acting swiftly to forestall operation of the statute of limitations, the grand jury returned the indictments before Chief Justice John Prystalski, who immediately issued capiases for the arrest of the nine and fixed bonds of $5,000 for each. Defendants named with Dorsey and Attorney Lee are the following:

EDWIN HULT, president of Edwin Hult & Co., a Delaware corporation with no office or telephone number.

JOHN W. SEIDS, secretary treasurer of Edwin Hult & Co., and a director of Security Life.

C. EDWIN JOHNSON, vice president of Security Life and director of the Keystone Holding company, through which Dorsey controlled the insurance companies.

BERTRAM DAY, president of Northern States Life, director of Security Life, and vice president of Keystone.

HARRY TRESSEL, vice president of Security Life and treasurer of Northern States.

HARRY W. HUTTIG, joint owner with Attorney Lee of the Manufacturers' Terminal company, prior owners of the vacant factory at Waukegan.

CHARLES R. SURFACE, alleged dummy to whom Lee transferred the Waukegan property.

According to Assistant State's Attorneys C. Vernon Thompson and Benjamin Nelson, the Waukegan factory was originally owned and occupied by the Corn Products Refining company.

Sell Plant to Junk Dealer.

In 1916, following a disastrous fire, the prosecutors say, the refining company disposed of the plant for $150,000 to a junk dealer, who salvaged $80,000 in scrap iron from the ruins. The property finally passed into the hands of the Manufacturers' Terminal company, headed by Hult.

Owing Attorney Lee a considerable sum for legal services and unable to pay in cash, the state charges, Hult satisfied his claim by deeding the lawyer an interest in the Waukegan plant. Edwin Hult & Co., the indictment charges, was incorporated on April 12, 1929. Within five days, it is charged, the Waukegan factory was transferred in escrow to Surface, acting as the alleged dummy for Lee.

Dorsey Enters Picture.

Meanwhile, the hitherto obscure Dorsey had emerged as head of the Keystone company, which had bought up control of Security Life, Northern States Life, and Intersouthern Life, the last being a company through which the Tennessee promoter, Rogers Caldwell, had controlled the Missouri State Life and Southwestern Life.

In the transaction between Hult and Attorney Lee on the one side and Dorsey and his men on the other, mortgages to the amount of more than ten times its true worth were piled on the Waukegan factory, the indictment charges, Dorsey arranging that the mortgages be bought up by the insurance companies.

In the split up, the indictment charges, Hult and Attorney Lee got sufficient cash to pay off $350,000 in mortgages, which were on the property before the deal was launched. They also took participation certificates in the Crescent Life Insurance company, which Security Life later absorbed, it is charged.

Security Life went to the wall last April. Northern States Life failed in June.

Ask Removal of Judge Who Freed Negro

Washington, D. C., April 25.—(AP)—Demands came from some southern representatives today that Federal Judge James A. Lowell of Boston be punished by abolition of his office or by impeachment for his action freeing George Crawford, a Negro, after Gov. Ely of Massachusetts had granted extradition.

Judge Lowell, at Boston yesterday, released Crawford on a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that Negroes do not serve on juries in Virginia and that any conviction obtained against him there could be reversed by the United States Supreme court. Crawford was charged with the murder of Mrs. Agnes Boeing Ilsley and her maid Nina Buckner at Middleburg, Va.

H. W. Smith [Dem., Va.] said he would institute impeachment proceedings if he could find a way to do so under the law.

Would Abolish Job.

As he conferred with members of the judiciary committee, Martin Dies [Dem., Tex.] introduced in the house a resolution that would abolish Lowell's judgeship.

Judge Lowell, the Dies resolution said, "flagrantly violated his oath of office." Dies called "impeachment proceedings slow" and added "this disgrace to the judiciary profession requires immediate and drastic action." Judge Lowell, the resolution insisted, displayed "a venom and prejudice unparalleled in the judicial history of this or any other country and has arrogated to himself the powers of dictatorship," as well as applying "an insult to every state in the union."

Mitchell Denounces Judge.

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, formerly assistant chief of the air corps, who was a neighbor of Mrs. Ilsley's, telephoned a statement to Leesburg, Va., this afternoon saying he had taken steps toward Judge Lowell's impeachment even prior to the judge's decision yesterday.

"Due to communistic elements and an unpatriotic judge," Gen. Mitchell said, "justice has been thwarted."

Mitchell said he had requested Representative Smith to be ready to introduce impeachment proceedings after Judge Lowell "kept putting off the hearing [of the Crawford case] and we came to the conclusion that communistic societies were exerting influence on him."

cussion of their pleas for debt revision by satisfying some of their willingness to enter into international economic agreements.

The President is understood to have told Mr. MacDonald that the American people never will sanction a reduction, much less a cancellation, of the 11 billion dollar war debts, unless the Americans come to the conclusion it is to their advantage to do so. The British, however, have set out to make a deal with the President on debt reduction in exchange for economic concessions, confident that if Mr. Roosevelt pronounces it a good bargain he will be able to swing congress and the American people in line for it.

Await London Session.

No settlement of the debt question, therefore, is expected by the British in advance of the meeting of the London economic conference. They will seek, however, a postponement of the June 15 war debt payment or at least an arrangement whereby the payment, if made, may be treated as a payment on account of the obligation, as eventually revised. The MacDonald ministry served notice in December that it was making its last payment on the debt, but there is reason to doubt that Britain will default in June, even if no mitigation of the terms is obtained.

Some Democratic leaders believe Mr. Roosevelt will ask congress for authority to deal with the June payments as he deems proper, if not to negotiate a new settlement of the debts.

This hint was thrown out just as former Premier Edouard Herriot of France was about to resume conversations with Mr. Roosevelt in behalf of his country, which is not only a debtor seeking cancellation of the debt, but a defaulter in the December payment.

The President and the prime minister devoted the greater part of the afternoon to the debt discussion while the British and American economic experts were in session considering technical aspects of the currency stabilization question.

It was learned that one of the proposals advanced by the Americans in the concluding negotiations with the British was the devaluation of the dollar and the pound sterling in such manner as to redistribute the huge stocks of gold held by the United States and France.

American Money Scheme.

The American monetary stabilization proposal may be summarized as follows:

1. Simultaneous devaluation of currencies.

2. Acceptance of the real value of each currency as a basis from which to start devaluation. Real value means the value which the currency will settle at on international exchanges without any support such as the British equalization fund.

3. Currencies to be devalued in such a way as to promote a redistribution of gold. Gold flows to those countries with relatively low values on their money. Therefore, countries poor in gold, such as Britain and Germany, would devalue their currencies more than countries such as America and France. This device is admittedly designed to siphon gold out of this country in order to stabilize foreign currencies.

If such a plan were adopted the pound sterling might be revalorized at approximately $3.50 instead of $4.86, its value in American money before Great Britain went off the gold standard, while the dollar would be revalorized at about 85 or 90 cents.

It is to enable him to ente into an international agreement of this character that the President is seeking the authority of congress to reduce the gold content of the dollar not more than 50 per cent. Such authorization is one of the provisions of the pending administration inflation bill.

Remonetization of Silver.

The remonetization of silver by international agreement was another subject that occupied a prominent place in the discussions between the American and British economic experts. One proposal was that silver be included by a fixed ratio in the specie backing of currency. In this and many other countries currency is backed by 40 per cent gold.

James P. Warburg, one of the American experts, advanced a suggestion that the specie reserve consist of 25 per cent gold and 5 per cent silver with the proviso that the remaining 10 per cent of the 40 per cent should be optionally either gold or silver.

The strongest support for the remonetization of silver emanates from America, but there is a growing sentiment in Great Britain in favor of bimetallism by international agreement and the British delegation here is preparing for serious consideration of the question at the economic conference.

Fears Tariff War.

That the President is concerned by intimations of a possible tariff war between the United States and France became known during the day. It is understood that his concern was occasioned by hints thrown out by former Premier Herriot that it would be necessary for the French government to raise tariff and other restrictions against American imports as a means of protection from the effects of the United States going off gold.

By withdrawing support of the dollar in foreign exchange the United States is allowing the dollar to depreciate abroad. The dollar being cheaper the United States becomes a cheaper market for foreigners to buy in.

French importers will increase purchases in this country. To the extent that France imports more goods from the United States, its already adverse trade balance will be increased. To settle an adverse trade balance France would be required to ship gold to the United States. To counteract this trend which would drain gold from France, the French government would put up the bars against imports from the United States.

Imperils Roosevelt Program.

Prohibitive tariffs and other trade restrictions are what the President is striving to induce the nations to tear down, not to raise higher. He fears that a tariff war with France would not be conducive to the negotiations of the reciprocal tariff reductions he has in view and agreement on which he hopes to bring about at the economic conference.

To avert such a complication in the relations with France the President is pressing for a removal of the cause of the friction by an early stabilization of the dollar. But he is willing to stabilize the dollar only on condition that Great Britain stabilizes the pound. Hence he has been active in promoting a plan for concurrent stabilization of the pound and dollar temporarily by international agreement in advance of the meeting of the London conference, at which permanent stabilization will be attempted.

ROBS WOMAN OF TAX MONEY.

Mrs. Mary Liston, 6058 South Albany avenue, was robbed of $850 yesterday by a man who snatched her purse and fled. She had just withdrawn the money from a loop bank and was walking in Clark street to the county building to pay taxes on an apartment building.

MACHADO NAMES 4 OF GROUP TO NEGOTIATE U. S. TRADE TREATY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, April 25.—President Machado today named four members of the commission of eleven which will meet with President Roosevelt soon to negotiate a new trade treaty between Cuba and the United States, under which Cuba hopes the United States will admit sugar duty free in return for lowered Cuban tariffs on United States exports. Orestes Ferrara, secretary of state, has already been appointed head of the Cuban delegation.

Those named today were Ramiro Guerra, secretary to President Machado; Eugenio Molinet, secretary of agriculture, commerce and labor; Octavio Averhoff, secretary of the treasury, and Senator Viriato Gutierrez, president of the Cuban sugar institute and also chairman of the National Sugar Exporting corporation.

They will sail for Washington as soon as notified of the date for the conference. Ambassador Oscar Cintas will join the commission at Washington.

FRANCE BORROWS IN BRITAIN; FACES TREASURY CRISIS

Bares Short Term Deal with Bank of England.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 25.—For the first time since the Poincare administration, the French government is obliged to borrow money abroad in order to meet internal obligations.

This is the significance of an accord just negotiated between the Bank of France and the Bank of England in regard to the use of franc holdings in the Bank of England's equalization fund. Under the terms of the agreement, $80,000,000 worth of francs will be placed at the disposition of the French treasury to make up for an insufficiency in tax collections, which are always low at this season.

Treasury Believed Bare.

The official communique on the understanding between the two banks, which was published here today, is obscurely worded, but it is apparent that the transaction is neither more nor less than a short term loan to the French treasury by the British bank. The rate of interest on the loan was not divulged, but in financial circles here it is believed it must be high.

The new accord with the Bank of England, according to observers, means two things:

First, that $200,000,000 of short term treasury notes issued last December by former Finance Minister Henri Cheron and receipts from a $200,000,000 long term loan floated a little later have been exhausted and that the treasury is almost bare again.

French Credit Strained.

Second, that although the franc is credited with being the only sound currency in the world today, credit conditions are so unfavorable that the government does not care to risk another issue of treasury obligations, but prefers to contract a disguised loan with a foreign bank.

It is normal for the French treasury to be a little short at this time of the year, but the fact that the government is unwilling to adopt normal measures to tide it over such a period indicates considerable uneasiness over the situation.

The bulk of the French public does not know that there is a treasury crisis or even that the transaction with the Bank of England constitutes a loan, as the papers do not clarify the ambiguous communique. The amount of the loan is not published at all.

Cabinet Delays Action.

The cabinet met again today to consider the situation of the franc in the light of the Washington conferences, but so far has not adopted any concrete policy. It was decided last week to adhere to the gold standard, so the present valuation of the franc remains platonic.

On the other hand, concern is felt over the ability of the franc to stay on gold alone, to say nothing of the disastrous consequences to French trade during the period of fluctuation. Consequently the government is anxious above all to see the Anglo-Saxon currencies stabilized and is believed to be willing to make considerable concessions to realize this.

At the moment, however, it does not seem that they can go so far as to devaluate the franc. If such a step ever becomes possible it is believed it will only be by lowering the gold basis of the franc but maintaining the franc and the dollar, which would serve largely to disguise the depreciation.

Schacht Sails for U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 25. — Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, who sailed today for the United States aboard the Deutschland, will arrive there on May 5 to represent Germany in economic conversations with President Roosevelt. Chancellor Hitler and other cabinet members expressed regret that they are unable to leave Germany under present conditions.

Schacht was accompanied by a financial expert of the Reichsbank.

Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen is scheduled to represent Germany at the world economic conference, but reluctance was felt at sending him to Washington. American diplomats were discreetly sounded out as to what America's reception would be for former Wilhelm's wartime military attaché at Washington. The question is still unanswered.

Seeks Interest Reduction.

Schacht is anxious to show America Germany's intense interest in coöperation for reorganization of business on a "sound basis." He holds that improvement is impossible unless all nations pull together—that partial agreements will be useless.

The main object of his visit will be to discuss the possibility of reducing Germany's interest bill on her debts. Germany still pays $240,000,000 annually in interest on international short and long term loans. A new stable international gold standard, coupled with a reduction in interest rates, would help Germany to find a financial balance, in the opinion of Reichsbank leaders.

Switzerland to Stay on Gold.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 25.—(AP)—The federal council declared today for the maintenance of the gold standard by Switzerland and decided that the American gold standard withdrawal did not affect the Swiss franc.

Italian Envoys Sail.

GENOA, Italy, April 25.—(AP)—Finance Minister Guido Jung embarked today on the steamship Conte di Grande for the United States, where he will discuss world problems with President Roosevelt. With Sig. Jung are two experts, Eugenio Anzilotti, who framed Italy's recent commercial treaties, and Giorgio del Vecchio, war debts expert and undersecretary of finance.

Canada Free to Sign Trade Pact

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Canada and the United States are free to swing wide their gates of trade with each other, and they should do so, declared Richard Bennett, prime minister of Canada, today in his first public interview since his arrival at Washington.

Fears had been expressed that the Ottawa pacts, under which Great Britain and its dominions agreed to favor each other in trade, might prevent the breaking down of trade barriers between the United States and its northern neighbor.

But Mr. Bennett said flatly today that the Ottawa agreements do not stand in the way of negotiating trade treaties with the United States.

"I stated in the house of commons two days ago," said Mr. Bennett, "that I stood ready to discuss any proposals looking for freer trade relations between Canada and the United States. I repeat that stand now."

The Canadian prime minister made it plain that he saw eye to eye with the President on the plan to lower the tariff walls between the two nations, but he added somewhat cryptically that trade agreements are not necessarily "reciprocal" in that one side may gain more than the other, and his attitude suggested that Canada would bargain for the best possible deal for Canada.

Mr. Bennett declared that nothing less than united action by the nations could avert a world disaster. He pleaded for immediate action.

"The forthcoming international economic conference," he said, "makes world action possible. The duty of every country is to make it certain.

"Immediate action is imperative. The world is in tragic trouble and distress. If we do not soon defeat the forces of disruption and discord, they will defeat us. We must act boldly and unselfishly. It may be our last chance."

HOME MORTGAGE BILL MAY PASS IN HOUSE TODAY

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.] — The administration's home mortgage refinancing bill was reported favorably to the house by the banking and currency committee today and may be passed tomorrow.

The measure authorizes a two billion dollar bond issue by which the government is to refinance mortgages on modest price dwellings at five per cent interest.

Several amendments were effected by the committee, among them one under which loans up to $10,000 may be made on homes with an appraised value of not more than $15,000. Under the bill as orginally drawn by administration experts, the limit of appraisal value was set at $10,000.

Another committee amendment would permit loans for the payment of taxes on small urban homes if it can be shown that money for tax payments is not available to the home owner.

No Cut in Taxes, So London Puts Off 'Joy Week' a Year

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, April 25.—London's "joy week," scheduled to begin May 28, will be postponed to 1934 at the suggestion of the lord mayor, it was announced tonight. The reason given was that the response of various public bodies wishing to make the week a success has been so great that there has not been time to coördinate all the events. The general opinion is, however, that the failure of the government to reduce taxation is not conducive to joy.

VICTORY SEEN FOR INFLATION IN SENATE TODAY

Reed and Harrison Clash as Vote Nears.

BY JOHN HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—The senate today flipped the pages of the Congressional Record back to impassioned afternoons of 37 years ago as to and fro across the chamber hurtled phrases that were familiar in the free silver days of 1896.

Always eloquent, never oratorical, Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], leader of the anti-inflationists, swished a stubborn, academic broom at the Democratic tide that he knew was going to carry the Thomas inflation amendment to the farm bill to a victorious passage, probably late tomorrow.

Always eloquent, sometimes bombastic, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi — summoned to his rôle of Democratic gadfly—fired smilingly malicious shots into the conservative Republican ranks, and to grave warnings of dire and inevitable consequences retorted with glowing prophecies of more prosperous days.

Recalls Roosevelt Pledge.

It was only last November, Senator Reed recalled, that Candidate Roosevelt pledged himself to preserve a sound currency "at all hazards."

"Yet now," he said, "President Roosevelt is sponsoring the Thomas amendment, plus the Wheeler free silver amendment, and in those two measures are embodied every variety of unsound money that the wit of man can suggest."

Senator Harrison let fly a barbed shaft at Senator Reed and his cronies, former secretaries of the treasury, Mellon and Mills, who have been powers behind the scenes in this Republican fight against expansion of the currency and possible debasement of the gold dollar.

"It takes a good deal of nerve upon the part of this group who made such a miserable mess of the fiscal affairs of the government to come here now and tell us what to do," he shouted. "Do you not think it would be in a little better taste if they would rest in the shadow of their failure for at least a few weeks, and give the group that has come into control an opportunity to carry out its policies, in the hope that they might be better than the Mellon-Mills-Reed group?"

Hurls Taunt at Reed.

"There is nothing in this bill that is against sound money," he maintained.

"Will the senator tell us any kind of unsound money that is not in this amendment?" grumbled Senator Reed.

"At least, if they cannot coöperate, they ought to stand aside for a little while and give us a chance," complained Senator Harrison.

"Little sugar coated measures," was what the Democratic senator called former President Hoover's efforts—like the Reconstruction Finance corporation act and the Glass-Steagall bill—by which he said the Republicans had tried to inflate "a little bit."

"We are confronted with two roads," Senator Harrison proclaimed. "One is the road which marks a warfare with the nations of the world in depreciated currencies. The other is the road which might mark a stabilization of currencies among the nations of the world."

Then the senator, who was famous for his bitter scourgings of President Hoover, portrayed in fervent syllables the new occupant of the White House.

Takes Shot at Hoover and Mills.

He ridiculed the efforts of the Republicans under Hoover and Mills to balance the budget.

"But the budget is now balanced," he trumpeted. "Just as soon as we pass the tax bill which passed the house the other day, and as soon as the reorganization plans go through, we will have balanced the budget."

The senator from Pennsylvania sat gloomily, head in hand. Then suddenly he perked up as Senator Harrison swung onto a new tack. The evils cited earlier by Senator Reed as having followed historic inflation attempts were evils of uncontrolled inflation, Senator Harrison contended. This bill, he asserted, was safeguarded by limitations—for example, the 3 billion dollar limitation and the sinking fund proviso in the proposal to issue currency under the 1862 greenback act.

"Unlike Germany's Inflation."

"And the senator in citing the cases of revolutionary France and Germany following the war knows that the cases are not parallel," Senator Harrison declared. "He employs them because they are bugaboos and the American people do not want uncontrolled inflation.

"Am I right?" the Mississippian shot out at Senator Reed.

"No, the senator is all wrong," retorted Senator Reed, gloomy no longer.

"Was a limit placed on German inflation?" inquired Senator Harrison.

"There was," came the answer. "In the beginning it was very strictly controlled in the same way that is proposed in this measure. Then they increased the limit, then it got out of hand, and they had to keep on increasing it. They all started this way, with a limitation, and they have always had to increase it."

Cites Limit on 1862 Issue.

And a little later Senator Reed pointed out that in 1862 the original greenback issue was limited to 150 millions of dollars.

But "Let me give some of the senator's Republican colleagues a piece of friendly advice," said Senator Harrison. "Don't be deceived by the senator's wily speeches. Don't follow his leadership. Senators will recall what happened to a great many of their party last year who followed the leadership of Andrew Mellon and Ogden Mills."

Earlier Senator Reed had pointed to the historic disasters caused by inflation from the days of Rome down. To give President Roosevelt power to cut the gold content of the dollar was nothing more or less than reviving Henry VIII.'s pernicious habit of clipping the gold coins of his day.

"It is an old trick practiced by most of the despots in history," he remarked.

He referred to the greenbacks.

Borah Joins Debate.

"The government's promise will be behind them just as it was in 1862," suggested Senator William E. Borah [Rad., Idaho].

"Yes, and the notes issued under that act went down to 35 cents in gold after the civil war," answered Senator Reed.

"The moment we begin to debase," the Pennsylvania senator continued, "the moment we begin to deflate, we set in motion a force we cannot control."

But Senator Harrison declared:

"This is a conservative measure. The hope of this country lies in this proposal. It means better days for America. Thousands of people now staring bankruptcy in the face can come back, thousands of banks can keep their doors open, thousands of closed banks will progress toward reopening and people will get their money.

"I shall stand with the President to the last," he went on with Democratic fervor. "I shall vote against every amendment which has not the administration's approval."

Senators W. Warren Barbour [Rep., N. J.], Roscoe C. Patterson, Rep., Mo.], and Daniel O. Hastings, Rep., Del.] spoke against the Thomas amendment.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME BEGINS AT 2 A. M. ON SUNDAY

Chicago and practically all the suburban area will go on daylight saving time next Sunday at 2 a. m. The hour of sleep lost in shifting the clock hands will not be regained until the last Sunday in September.

The change makes daylight come an hour later in the morning and adds an hour of sunshine in the afternoon.

Next year the daylight saving program may be extended to cover the period from the last Sunday in March to the last Sunday in October. Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] announced yesterday he would introduce an amendment to the daylight saving ordinance, providing for the time extension, at the council meeting this afternoon. No change, he said, is expected in the autumn of 1933, his amendment specifying that any change be made effective in 1934.

CRACKS IN WALL FORCE VATICAN TO CLOSE HALL

VATICAN CITY, April 25.—(AP)—A dozen cracks appearing in the walls of the lapidary hall of the Vatican induced the authorities today to close the hall, in which thousands of Holy Year pilgrims, including many Americans, have been received in general audience by the pope in the last three weeks.

Th hall flanks the Sistine salon of the Vatican library, which collapsed in December, 1931. It is long and narrow, and filled with statues and busts.

Pilgrims ordinarily lined both sides and the pope passed between them, extending his hand to be kissed. The authorities removed the heaviest statuary.

BRITISH BUDGET AGAIN IGNORES U. S. WAR DEBT

America Blamed for Last Year's Deficit.

BY EUGENE SPECK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 25.—American taxpayers unknowingly held a front seat in the British house of commons this afternoon when Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, presented the 1933-34 budget. The United States taxpayers were not mentioned, but the war debts owed America figured considerably in the treasury chief's calculation. Chamberlain sought to show that last year's deficit was caused chiefly because the December war debt installment to the United States was paid.

If the United States had not insisted upon collecting this installment, which Chamberlain intimated was something of a surprise, then, he pointed out, the deficit for the year would have been reduced from £32,000,000 to £3,000,000.

[Translation of these figures into dollars is difficult because of the great fluctuation in the value of the pound during the last year. Before England went off the gold standard the pound was worth $4.86. Since then, however, it has fluctuated between about $3.20 and $3.90.]

Ignore U. S. Debt Again.

Following the same procedure as a year ago, no provision was made in the budget for the forthcoming war debt payments to America. Nor does the budget calculate on collecting reparations and war debts due from Germany and the former allies, which were suspended by the Lausanne agreement. These collections more than balance the money owed the United States.

Two payments are due America from Great Britain this year, in June and in December. They total $193,500,000. If paid, these payments will upset this budget more than the last, for the 1932 payment included only one installment of $95,500,000.

The chancellor also announced that the exchange equalization fund, which the government uses to keep the pound on an even keel, will be increased. The administrators of the fund were given the power when it was created a year ago to operate secretly with a capital of $750,000,000 [at gold par]. The money has been used to buy and sell gold as the pound tended to rise and fall, to stabilize international exchange and maintain the pound at about $3.50 so as to foster Britain's export trade. Chamberlain said the increase in the fund had nothing to do with the dollar leaving gold.

Explains British Action.

"Money is on the way to England because of distrust elsewhere," he said. "Money which comes under these conditions is obviously bad. Britain cannot risk a repetition of the conditions prevailing in the fall of 1931. I have decided to increase the fund.

"A word about this action and the United States. There is no connection whatever between the recent American action and the increase of the fund, which was decided upon long before the United States went off gold."

He added that he British government recognizes that President Roosevelt acted purely for internal reasons and is waiting further restorative steps from Washington.

Chamberlain concluded his address with the assertion that the desire of the British government to arrive at universal economic stability prompted MacDonald to go to America.

Good News for Beer Drinker.

If there was no good news in the budget for America, the British beer drinker benefits. Hereafter a pint of beer will cost two cents less, or about 16 cents. It will be better beer, too. In announcing the cut in the beer tax Chamberlain read a letter from the brewers agreeing to an increase of alcoholic content, provided they were given relief from taxation.

The chancellor firmly resisted agitation for an unbalanced budget which accompanied the clamor for income tax reduction. The only concession he made was an agreement to allow the taxpayers to meet one-half instead of three-fourths of the year's installment next January and the other half, instead of one-fourth, a year from July.

Other minor concessions included a reduction in the stamp duty on new capital issues from 1 per cent to ½ of 1 per cent. Also reduced were estate duties and interest on arrears of excess profits taxes, while sinking fund appropriations for debt reduction were suspended.

Tax Revenues Drop.

A steady fall in tax revenues was noted in last year's returns, and further declines are predicted for the next year.

New taxes, including levies on foreign matches and oil, are expected to bring the revenue, despite losses on the income tax, beer, and other sources, to £698,770,000 (about $2,690,000,000 at current rate of exchange), against an estimated expenditure of £697,486,000 (about $2,685,000,000), leaving a surplus of about $5,000,000.

JEANNETTE RANKIN URGES LETTERS FOR PREVENTION OF WARS

Reading, Pa., April 25.—(AP)—War, in the opinion of Miss Jeannette Rankin, former Montana congresswoman, can be outlawed if enough people send the right kind of letters to members of congress.

Miss Rankin, a speaker today at the state convention of the Women's International League of Peace and Freedom, expressed the belief that letters are the only medium of true expression for public opinion.

"At present the small minority who benefit by wars make their voices louder and more effective than the indifferent majority," she said.

IT'S LADIES' DAY FOR HEARING ON FIXED WAGE BILL

Mrs. Roosevelt Hears Miss Perkins.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Eleanor Roosevelt, first wife of a President ever to attend a congressional hearing, went today to the house labor committee to hear Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, first woman cabinet member, tell why she thought the government ought to be given the right to fix wages as well as hours of labor in this emergency.

As if that weren't enough work for the cameras, Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of England's visiting prime minister, came along, too.

The combination lured so many spectators that the hearing had to be moved to the large caucus room. Even then people jammed the aisles.

Explains Her Sponsorship.

In explaining why she wanted the Black bill, which passed the senate with a 30 hour week provision, expanded to include a minimum wage provision, Miss Perkins maintained that "the plain purpose of this bill is to increase employment and thus increase the total purchasing power of the public."

This purchasing power will not be increased, "it will merely be divided," she argued, unless the employer is prevented from lowering wage scales as soon as the shortened week day is compulsory. Hence her sponsorship of the minimum wage clause.

Representative Russell Ellzey [Dem., Miss.] wanted to know where President Roosevelt stood on the amended bill. Was it correct to assume that, "while this is not, you say, an administration measure, it is one to which the President is friendly?"

"That is right," said Miss Perkins.

For Board of Three.

Hitting at charges that the bill would make her a dictator, Miss Perkins condemned any provision that would make the secretary of labor the sole judge in cases of exemptions from the thirty hour rule which could be expanded to a forty hour week for not more than ten weeks. Such a power in the hands of one person is bad, she argued, "might lead to favoritism, and even corruption." She suggested a board of three and thinks open hearings an absolute necessity before the granting of any exemption.

"Moreover," she declared, "I would be opposed to permitting any concern to avail itself of the exemption for any long period which might include its entire busy season. That would defeat the basic purpose of the bill, which is to spread employment."

Denies It Builds Bureaucracy.

To the challenge that her bill would require an army of deputies to enforce, Miss Perkins said decisively, "If I thought that, I'd resign tomorrow. It is unthinkable that we should ever build up another superstaff of enforcement officials."

She relies on civic and labor groups in the local community to bring about enforcement of the provisions.

Representative Ellzey wondered if it wouldn't be unfair to "force our American labor to compete, under these strict conditions, against foreign labor."

Miss Perkins didn't feel so; said she knew some that did.

Representative Ramspeck [Dem., Ga.] argued that a 30 hour week of six 5 hour days would ruin much scientific work which has to be continuous.

To which Miss Perkins, a bit tartly replied: "You mean the chemical process has to be continuous; the man watching the process doesn't have to be. Often it is the digester that does the work; the man sits and watches the digester digest."

Praise by Miss MacDonald.

Having heard Miss Perkins talk, Miss MacDonald was full of praise for America's first woman cabinet member.

When a woman in public life fails, she should be no more cushioned from criticism than a man would be, Miss MacDonald maintains.

For instance, she made the statement specific, "If Miss Perkins should fall below the standards of the men in the cabinet, then I think she should not be spared criticism, just because she is a woman. But I am sure there is no danger of that. She has a good mind, and an open mind."

UNIVERSITY JANITOR FOUND SLAIN.

Alexander Sololovieff, 36 years old, a janitor employed by the University of Chicago, was found shot to death in his home at 6134 Woodlawn avenue last night. His body lay in a water filled bathtub, and it is believed he committed suicide.

FAMOUS DANCERS ARE PARTED

Ruth St. Denis and her husband, Ted Shawn, who have agreed to separate. No plans for divorce have been discussed, according to Miss St. Denis.

Reveals Break

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, well known dance team, have decided to call it a day, maritally. Miss St. Denis today at the Mansfield theater confirmed a rumor that has been flitting around Broadway that she and her husband had parted, but declared that divorce has never been discussed.

For some time she has been living alone at her Bronx home, Denishawn, while her dancing star husband has been teaching young men the art of interpretative dancing at his farm at Lee, Mass.

Miss St. Denis can't see any reason why two people married to each other can't have extra martial affairs and be happier for it. She thinks that if two people are properly adjusted to each other and to life they will even be able to discuss their extraneous love experiences with one another.

HOUSE PASSES MUSCLE SHOALS BILL, 306 TO 91

Measure Calls for Fifty Million Bond Issue.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—The house of representatives today completed its consideration of the Roosevelt Muscle Shoals bill, and by a vote of 306 to 91 turned it over to the senate and the ministrations of Senator George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.].

Concluding two days of fruitless debate, the Democratic machine functioned perfectly to do Mr. Roosevelt's bidding. Of the 306 ballots for passage of the measure, 284 were Democratic, 17 were Republican and five were Farmer Laborites. Opposed were 89 Republicans and only two Democrats, Representatives John G. Utterback of Maine and George B. Terrell of Texas.

Defeat Motion to Recommit.

Although house leaders are frank to opine that the senate will adopt the Muscle Shoals bill introduced by Senator George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.], the house refused today to substitute the Norris bill for its own McSwain bill. A motion to recommit the house measure and pass the Norris bill was defeated, 68 to 326.

The house version proceeded to the senate unchanged from the form in which it was brought up for consideration three days ago. Generally, it is regarded as a less drastic measure than the Norris bill. The principal point of difference between the two is that the house bill provides an appropriation of $10,000,000 and a bond issue of $50,000,000 for starting the development program, while the Norris bill simply authorizes "all appropriation necessary."

Power Transmission Lines.

The Nebraskan's measure is likewise more rigid with regard to government construction of power transmission lines.

Representative John E. Rankin [Dem., Miss.], urging substitution of the Norris bill on the floor today, declared that the Nebraskan, who has agitated for 20 years for government operation of the shoals plant, is definitely opposed to the house measure. Mr. Rankin asserted also that President Roosevelt approves the Norris bill in preference to the McSwain bill.

How Illinoisans Voted.

Representatives from the north central area voted as follows on the passage of the house bill:

ILLINOIS.

FOR—Adair, Arnold, Beam, Brennan, Dobbins, Gillespie, Keller, Kelly, Kocialkowski, Major, Meeks, Nesbit, O'Brien, Parsons, Schafer, Schuetz, Thompson, Democrats; Reid, Republican.

AGAINST—Britten, De Priest, Dirksen, Moynihan, Simpson, Republicans. Speaker Rainey voted "aye." Not voting: Sabath, Democrat, and Buckbee, Republican.

INDIANA.

FOR—Boehne, Crowe, Durgan, Farley, Gray, Greenwood, Griswold, Jenckes, Larrabee, Ludlow, Pettengill, Schulte, Democrats.

AGAINST—None.

WISCONSIN.

FOR—Henney, Hughes, O'Malley, Reilly, Democrats; Boileau, Frear, Peavey, Withrow, Republicans.

AGAINST—Blanchard, Republican.

NOT VOTING—Cannon, Democrat.

Evalyn McLean Would Sell Hope Diamond, Mystery Gem

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Wanted—a buyer for a $250,000 bauble that has brought either death or disaster to almost every one who has owned it in the last 250 years.

Mrs. Edward B. McLean has placed the famous Hope diamond, a glittering blue gem the size of a walnut, in the hands of an agent. She wants to raise funds with which to preserve the Washington Post for her sons.

Carries Legendary Curse.

For a little more than twenty years the great scintillant stone has been in possession of the McLean family. Edward McLean bought it for $300,000. With it came the legendary curse that clings to its owners. A son of the couple was killed in an automobile accident; the family fortune has dwindled sadly; Mr. and Mrs. McLean are estranged. It is not remarkable, perhaps, that now this glittering symbol of eternal bad luck is on the bargain counter for a quarter of a million.

A French traveler took the Hope diamond from Asia to France in 1688. He sold it to King Louis XIV. That gorgeous monarch hung it upon Mme. de Montespan. Soon the great king's taste changed and a new mistress took the place of Montespan.

Goes to Marie Antoinette.

Came Nicholas Fouquet, a banker who farmed [collected] the taxes for Louis, and borrowed the gem from his king. The favor of the monarch faded in a short time. Fouquet was thrown into a prison; he died there. Louis the XV. [the well beloved], who inherited the blue talisman of untoward fate, lived out his life, with various beautiful women, and died [well despised] of smallpox. His grandson, Louis the XVI., good husband and father and a poor king, used the diamond to adorn Marie Antoinette, his queen. The French mobs called her "Mme. Deficit." In the revolution she died by the guillotine, as did her royal mate. The Princess de Lamballe, whom the queen loved so well she had allowed her to wear the bauble, was torn to pieces by the raging people of Paris.

The diamond disappeared for nearly forty years. Then it was sold to Thomas Henry Hope in London and thereby acquired its present name. His heir, Lord Francis Hope, held it until 1901.

Lord Hope was unlucky in love. His wife, May Yohe, former Chicagoan and a music hall artiste, ran away with another man and Lord Hope got a divorce. He sold the gem to a New Yorker, who transferred it to a Russian, Prince Kanitovski, who lent it to a dancing lady in the Folies Bergere of Paris. The next day the prince shot the actress.

Next Owner Goes Mad.

The next owner was a French broker, who went mad. Then the Hope fell to another Russian prince who was slain by revolutionists. A Greek jeweler bought it and later leaped over a precipice to his death. In Constantinople the Sultan Abdul Hamid was the next owner. His favorite wife, Salma Zubayaba, was shot as she wore it. Abdul himself was deposed.

Selim Habib, a Turk, obtained the gem after two men to whom it was entrusted had been slain. Selim sold it to a jewelry firm which conveyed it to Mr. McLean.

Former Bishop in India Denies Need of Unity

India is divided into many sections, each with its own culture, and there is no reason why there should be a united India, Dr. Frederick B. BERLIN, April 25.—Protection of seals from slaughter by Americans and Canadians through a boycott of American sealskins is the latest demand raised in Nazidom. The Voelkische Beobachter, a Hitler newspaper, says:

"The American and English people often go into terrific lamentations when some Polish Jew receives a just penalty for deeds committed against the German people. That public had better mind what goes on in their own countries and put a stop to this low down carrion hunting."

CITY STATE BANK OFFICIALS' FATE IN JURY'S HANDS

Five Face Prison Terms if Found Guilty.

The fate of Seymour Stedman, former Socialist candidate for mayor, and four other defendants who were officers or directors of the City State bank when it crashed on Nov. 2, 1929, was placed in the hands of a jury yesterday afternoon before Judge Francis B. Allegretti.

After deliberating for more than six hours they jurymen had failed to reach an agreement at 11 p. m. Judge Allegretti then ordered them locked up at the Criminal court building for the night. They are to report on the case at 10 a. m. today.

The defendants are charged with receiving deposits with the knowledge that the bank was insolvent and if convicted face prison sentences of one to three years. Besides Stedman, who was vice president and trust officer of the bank, the other defendants in the present trial are Alexander L. Jarema, vice president, and Morrison H. Castle, William C. Hartray and Edwin G. Rellihen, directors.

Warned by State Auditor.

Prosecutor John O'Hora, in his closing argument, pointed out yesterday that the state auditor had warned officials of the bank in February, 1929, that they would have to close if they did not eliminate a large quantity of insecure paper from their assets, and that the directors had paid no attention to the warning.

He also pointed out that the day before the bank closed the state auditor's office instructed bank officials to segregate all new deposits received on the following day and that they failed to do this.

Defense attorneys contended that officials of the bank had no knowledge of its insolvency, and had in fact made large deposits shortly before the institution crashed. On behalf of Hartray, Castle and Rellihen it was pleaded that as directors they had no knowledge of the bank's standing from day to day. The prosecution maintained, however, that the bank's affairs were discussed at regular directors' meetings, and that the defendants determined the bank's policy on loans.

Borrower Aids State.

One of the star witnesses for the state was Joseph Doerflinger, a hide dealer who owes the insolvent bank a large sum. He testified that in the summer of 1928, when he started getting loans from the bank, he did so on a proposition submitted to him by Jarema. This was that the bank was to receive 20 per cent of any profits he made in hide speculations, and that the remainder of the profits were to be divided equally between himself, Jarema and Harold Bue, an assistant cashier of the bank. He never made any profits, however.

The defendants were indicted within a yea, after the bank failed, but they obtained 54 continuances before the case was finally brought to trial, over the protests of their attorneys, before Judge Allegretti on March 22.

Director Since 1924.

The controlling interest of the bank's stock was owned by the now defunct Coöperative Society of America, organized in 1917 by Harrison Parker. Stedman became a director of the bank in 1924 when a federal court appointed him a trustee of the coöperative society.

Three other defendants were indicted in the case. Frank D. Robinson, a vice president, pleaded guilty. The others, Frank Bergen, a vice president, and Bennett J. C. Johnson, a director, obtained separate trials. Bergen and Robinson testified for the prosecution in the present trial.

RETIREMENT ACT TO HIT POSTAL VETERANS HERE

A shakeup causing the retirement of more than a hundred executives in the Chicago postoffices and more than 10,000 employés in the entire postal service will hit the United States postoffice department the first of June if the proposed automatic thirty years retirement bill is passed by congress. The estimate was made by postal officials yesterday.

Two hundred employés who are members of the railway mail association met last night at the Hotel Sherman to discuss the possible effect of the bill. It was estimated that 5,000 men in that branch alone would be taken from the service. The association previously had sponsored such action.

According to Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder practically the entire executive staff in the Chicago office would be removed by the legislation, making room for promotion of scores of younger men. One result, causing worry among the employés' association, would be the sudden drain on the pension funds.

THREE KILLED AS FAST TRAIN SMASHES AUTO

Crash Occurs at Crossing Long Closed as Menace.

A young couple and a 12 year old girl were killed yesterday in Waukegan when the coupé in which they were riding was demolished by a Chicago and North Western express train at a crossing at the foot of a steep hill. The Waukegan city council had kept the crossing closed for years until last October on account of its peril.

The dead were: Michael Hamperzomian, 22 years old, 570 Oak street, Waukegan; Stella, his 18 year old bride, whom he married last July, and the young wife's sister, Frances Vitkus, 12 years old, 1122 South Victoria street, North Chicago. The train carried their bodies 275 feet along the right of way.

Out for Drive on Day Off.

The husband, employed at the Griess-Pfleger tannery in Waukegan, was taking his wife for a ride, it being his day off. They stopped at the North public school in North Chicago after class to pick up the child, a pupil in the fifth grade.

They drove north along Sheridan road to Belvidere street, which descends to the railroad tracks on a steep incline. At the request of Chicago and North Western officials the street had been closed to traffic since 1925 until Ald. Carl Staben, at a council meeting, moved for its reopening to satisfy what he described as public demand in his ward.

Unable to Stop, Witness Says.

The crossing is protected by a bell. A Los Angeles hitch hiker, Tillman Sharp, the only witness whom the police could find, said the signal was in operation but the grade appeared too steep for the driver to stop before the car reached the tracks.

The north bound train, which makes the run from Chicago to Waukegan in forty-one minutes, was moving about forty miles an hour when the impact came, according to the engineer, Thomas J. Reily of Chicago.

Three Deaths in Chicago.

There were four automobile deaths in Cook county yesterday, increasing the traffic toll since the first of January to 269. The victims:

John Stapolis, 6 years old, 1835 Washington boulevard. Killed by a truck in front of 1850 West Madison street, while on his way to school.

Mrs. Ella Lange, 75 years old, 1707 North Mansfield avenue. Died in Belmont hospital. She was injured April 18 when her grandson, Richard Lange, 20, lost control of their automobile.

Addison Johnson, 45 years old, 713 East 41st street, colored. Fatally injured in a fall off a truck on which he was a helper, at 41st street and Calumet avenue.

James Murray, 68 years old, 7417 South Racine avenue. Died last night in the Auburn Park hospital. He was injured yesterday while standing on the sidewalk near his home when the automobiles of John O'Connor, 133 West 78th place, and Gerald O'Brien, 6515 Kimbark avenue, collided and O'Connor's car rolled upon the sidewalk, hitting him.

WOODIN MAKING NEW EFFORTS TO PREVENT HOARDING OF GOLD

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Last minute efforts were made today to round up the millions of dollars in gold which, still is hoarded. Secretary Woodin declared all gold, except that specifically exempted or licensed, must be in the reserve banks or member banks by May 1. A $10,000 fine or 10 years in prison or both may be imposed on any one failing to comply.

Approximately 800 million dollars in gold remain outside the central reserves.

The treasury department is forwarding to every postoffice and banking institution a printed notice for public display, setting forth the President's order in full, and calling attention to the pealties thereunder.

OFFICIAL OF U. S. GYPSUM COMPANY IS SUED BY WIFE

Mrs. Ruth Glines Gardner, 30 years old, of Highland Park, yesterday filed suit for divorce against Ralph A. Gardner, 32 years old, manager of the United States Gypsum company plant at Mansfield, O. The bill, filed in the Superior court, charged cruelty and alleged that Gardner ejected his wife from his home on Feb. 19, 1932, the day of their separation. The bill also recited that soon after their marriage on Sept. 16, 1931, Gardner and his wife moved to Pittsburgh, taking with them Gardner's mother. Mrs. Gardner charged that her mother-in-law, "abused, molested and annoyed" her, and her husband refused to admonish his mother.

Woman Doctor Is Charged with Murder by Operation

Dr. Abigail Traxler, 3924 West 26th street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of murder by abortion and released on bonds of $5,000. It was alleged that the death of Mrs. Helen Minskull, 30 years old, 7218 Coles avenue, on April 20, was caused by an operation performed by the woman physician. The arrest was made by Police Sergeants Marshall Pigeon and James Kehoe.

That new "Parlor game" to test your powers of observation may well be applied to style. How long does it take you to answer the following questions about style trends for spring?

1. What is the miraculous boon to good hosiery invented recently? Where do most hose "tragedies" start?
2. What one accessory is becoming more and more an indication of a woman's style consciousness?
3. What outdoor pastime is regaining greater popularity each year?
4. What commodity now made into jewelry is being shown in Chicago for the first time?
5. What cotton material, formerly used for sports only, has met with unprecedented enthusiasm?

See Stevens for the answers.

MAYOR KELLY TELLS PLAN TO PAY TEACHERS

Vote Today on Closing Schools May 12.

the few little taxpayers who haven't paid."

The Schnackenberg amendments were tabled by a vote of 70 to 30.

State's Attorney Courtney's action today before Judge Jarecki is an entirely new procedure for tax collection, which the prosecutor himself first suggested to Mayor Kelly. It won instant approval from the mayor and bankers. The procedure was explained last night by Hayden N. Bell, Mr. Courtney's assistant in tax matters.

"The present statutes are inadequate to cope with the problem of delinquent taxes," said Mr. Bell. "But there is a law outside the statutes, the oldest principle in existence. It is the principle in equity that a government may take any measures which are necessary to preserve its existence.

Ferret Out Hidden Assets.

"Mr. Courtney will file informations in the nature of a bill in equity, under which it will be possible to go into the affairs of these large tax dodgers on the broadest scale imaginable and ferret out hidden assets to be applied on the delinquent tax bills. If any criminal conspiracy to withhold those assets is uncovered, the matter will be presented to the grand jury."

That bankers expect the tax collection drive to reach a point quickly where sound banking practice will justify the purchase of tax warrants to finance public pay rolls was evident from the comment yesterday.

"Most of the small homeowners have paid their taxes," one banker said. "If some of the receivers for big buildings are persuaded by the courts to pay on the line instead of holding back their money for operating costs, some headway can be made. About 25 per cent of the delinquent taxes could be paid immediately by the mere signature of a check. Another 25 per cent could be paid very soon if a little pressure is brought to bear.

Power to Reduce Taxes.

"There is one other thing to be considered, however. Until the Supreme court decides whether the board of tax appeals has the power to reduce taxes by blanket orders, no tax warrants have any investment standing."

The speaker referred to the order of the appeals board for a 15 per cent cut in assessments of homes and small flat buildings. The Supreme court has been asked to order the board to expunge that order.

Mr. Taylor's proposal for a "school moratorium" beginning May 12, followed his conference yesterday with Mayor Kelly on economy measures. He was accompanied by Supt. Bogan.

"I would like to save from 20 to 25 per cent under the present school budget figures," said Mayor Kelly after the conference. "This is possible, since the city council has not passed the board of education's tax levies for 1933.

"Every municipality should keep within the revenue it can reasonably expect to get. If tax collections are only going to be 60 per cent of levies, the budget should be cut to fit those figures. Of course it would hurt, but if you were in private business you'd have to do the same thing."

Shortly afterward President Taylor proposed closing the schools. His proposal would cut six weeks off the present school term and three off that starting in the fall, with a saving of about $9,000,000 in salaries alone.

"I believe the state of mind of both teachers and children makes it imperative that the schools be closed," said Mr. Taylor. "I have stood out vigorously against this, but now, in the light of recent demonstrations by teachers, it seems inevitable.

"Teachers Want It."

"The school teachers have shown by their activities that this is the action they want, and we will comply with their wishes. During this school moratorium, if we declare it the school trustees will roll up their sleeves and work out a plan for a school system which will operate on the amount of revenue taxpayers show they are willing to pay for public education."

To date only three trustees, H. Wallace Caldwell, who has a resolution pending to that effect, Mrs. Helen Hefferan, and John English, have indicated that they favor closing the schools. Mr. Taylor has previously opposed it. With his change of position, it seemed possible that the board would muster the necessary six votes today in favor of closing.

Thomas V. Sullivan, attorney for the board, was out of town yesterday, but will be back today in time to advise the board as to whether it will be liable for teachers' salaries after the date of closing. Formerly the board made yearly contracts with teachers, but this practice ended with the passage in 1917 of the Otis law, providing for teacher tenure, with dismissal only after trial by the board.

At present the board appropriates each year salaries for the full school year. Whether, by shortening the year, the board would free itself from payment of salaries during the "moratorium" period may depend upon interpretation of the statutes fixing the length of the school year. These are conflicting, setting it at nine months in one section, and at not less than seven months in another.

COUNTY EMPLOYES TO RECEIVE SALARIES FOR MONTH TODAY

Four thousand county employés today will receive salaries for a full month, the last two weeks of last September and the first two weeks of October. Funds were provided from $500,000 worth of tax warrants sold through the Dewey committee and $600,000 in fees furnished by County Treasurer McDonough from 1931 tax collections.

Besides the county employés, 1,500 mothers and 6,000 children will receive pension funds for the same period. Blind pensions will be paid for the months of December, January, and February. County highway employés, home placing debts, and Cook county nurses training school salaries will be paid also.

PISTOLS AND BOMBS HELP TO CONDUCT FARM GOODS SALE

Pennsburg, Pa., April 25.—(AP)—With 75 sheriff's deputies, state troopers and special police officers displaying pistols and tear gas bombs, John Lelko's farm implements and live stock went under the hammer for $1,000 at forced sale today.

Four previous unsuccessful attempts were made to sell the goods. Each time the auctioneer and deputies were chased home. The last time they were roughly handled, and promised a "ducking" in a lake if they returned.

Jeers greeted the lone bids by Micahel Budnick, an Allentown, Pa., farmer and son-in-law of the mortgage owner. Budnick is related to Lelko through marriage.

For the $1,000 bid, Budnick got a complete set of farming implements, 3 horses, 18 cows, 8 pigs, about 25 chickens, 20 ducks[and a bull. Budnick hurriedly loaded his purchases on trucks, and started for home accompanied by six state policemen on motorcycles.

SENATE LIMITS SANITARY BONDS TO $18,500,000

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—On the motion of Senator Richey V. Graham, the amount of bonding power sought in the Chicago sanitary district's bill was reduced from $100,000,000 to $18,500,000 in the state senate here today. A bill setting up the $100,000,000 amount was defeated in the house of representatives a week ago.

The receipts from the sale of the bonds, according to Thomas J. Bowler, president of the district, would be used to carry out the mandate of the United States Supreme court. The high court has decreed that the district must limit its diversion of water from Lake Michigan to 1,500 cubic feet per second by the end of 1938. Lack of funds have halted the district's program.

Automatic Automobiles!

Studebaker's sensational contribution to 1933

THEY'RE the world's first cars that all but drive themselves . . . these amazing new Automatic Studebakers. They're the pattern cars for all cars of the future with their 12 uncanny "mechanical brains" that not only act for you automatically but practically "think" for you, as well.

See how Power Brakes—greatest engineering achievement of the year—bring these Studebakers smoothly, surely, to a stop at your toe tip's touch. See how Studebaker's fully automatic control of choke, carburetor and spark operates without even a gesture of help from you. See how Studebaker starting is automatic not only when you're starting—but even should you stall!

No other cars in existence have so completely eliminated the human element from driving—so thoroughly reduced physical effort and mental strain as these Automatic Studebakers. They've simplified everything—even steering and gear shifting.

Come in and drive an Automatic Studebaker, even if you're not ready to buy—no matter how new or old your present car may be. It will be the most fascinating motoring experience you've ever had.

How many times have you said: "Why, they're as alike as two peas in a pod"? It's another way of saying: "They're uniform."

A CLASSIC OF Uniformity

"TWO PEAS IN A POD"

HILLS BROS COFFEE IS ANOTHER CLASSIC OF UNIFORMITY!

The exclusive Controlled Roasting process (a little at a time) gives every pound the same rich goodness

VARIETY may be the spice of life. But you don't want variety in the flavor of your coffee! That's why Hills Bros. developed their exclusive Controlled Roasting process. The wonderfully rich and superb flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is the same in every pound!

Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. roast their coffee evenly, continuously, a little at a time. Every berry is perfectly "done"—roasted to the very degree that develops the full charm of its flavor!

Such uniformity is unattainable in bulk-roasting. For big batches of coffee don't permit a uniform spread of heat. Under-roasting and over-roasting may easily occur.

You can expect to sit up and take notice, the first time you drink Hills Bros. Coffee. The flavor is fairly startling—deeper, richer, and with more aroma than you ever thought possible! And every pound alike too. Order some today, by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

FRESH ALWAYS! The vacuum process of packing coffee, originated by Hills Bros. in 1900, is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh. No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it fresh always!

GROUND RIGHT TO TASTE RIGHT
No coffee, however good, can be uniform in taste unless uniformly roasted and uniformly ground. Hills Bros.' exclusive, continuous process—Controlled Roasting—and correct granulation insure this uniformity. Hills Bros. granulation will give best results by the drip process or any other method.

LICENSE DRIVE BOOSTS AUTO TAX RECEIPTS HERE

4,361 Drivers Arrested in Second Day's Campaign.

Hundreds of motorists went to the city hall yesterday and purchased 1933 state license plates and city vehicle stickers to avoid arrest in the first serious police drive against license delinquents, which was begun on Monday.

Increased collections reflected the rush. City Clerk Brady reported that the sale of city stickers yesterday amounted to $59,000, as against $43,000 the day before.

State Takes in $57,000.

The branch office of Secretary of State Hughes in the city hall recorded yesterday's state license plate sales as $57,200 against Monday's $50,000.

Despite the sudden desire of automobile owners to square themselves with the license requirements, police continued their drive. Up to midnight last night the report on the second day of the campaign showed that 4,361 drivers had been served with summonses.

Volume of Arrests Falls.

This total was less than the 5,896 who were caught on Monday, the first day of the drive, and showed, police said, that delinquent drivers either feared to take chances or were buying licenses.

Commissioner Allman in ordering the department not to let up in the drive, instructed the men to schedule the court appearance of violators for various dates. This staggering is to avoid clogging court calendars.

BYRD RESIGNS AS CHAIRMAN OF ECONOMY LEAGUE

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd resigned as chairman of the National Economy league, a position which he had held since the organization's founding last July, at a meeting of the executive committee today at the University club.

Admiral Byrd, who explained that his personal affairs, "which I have entirely neglected for nearly a year," made his resignation "imperative" retained his membership in the league. He will continue in the future as a member of the national executive committee of the organization and possibly in other offices.

The committee, which accepted his resignation with regret and praised his work for the league as "his greatest public service," adopted resolutions reaffirming the league's original purposes—the elimination of "unjustifiable federal, state, and local expenditures." Because of the economy measures already adopted by the Roosevelt administration, it was said that in the immediate future the league's efforts to reduce governmental expenditures would be largely concentrated on state and local budgets.

BARS INDIVIDUAL CUTS IF BLANKET TAX SLASH FAILS

If the state supreme court invalidates the board of tax appeals blanket order for a 15 per cent reduction in the base assessment values for homes and small apartment buildings, the board will have no right to accomplish the same purpose by ordering the reductions individually, State's Attorney Courtney said yesterday in an opinion given to Assessor J. L. Jacobs and the appeals board.

The opinion added that any action on individual complaints carried on after the blanket order is held to be void would constitute a violation of a section of the present revenue laws which states that assessors or members of the appeals board who "connive at evasions" of the law or "unlawfully exempt" property are subject to fines ranging from $100 to $5,000 and removal from office. "No subterfuge can outwit the law," the opinion said.

BRITISH EMBARGO AGAINST RUSSIA GOES IN EFFECT

LONDON, April 25.—(AP)—An embargo against 80 per cent of Russian imports, invoked a week ago in protest to the trial in Moscow of six British technicians on charges of sabotage, became effective at 5 p. m. today at the closing of the British customs offices.

Vessels bringing commodities on the prohibited list were obliged to get their clearance papers passed through the customs before the closing hour. Those which failed to do so will not be permitted to unload the banned products. They will have to be sent back to Russia or disposed of elsewhere.

British officials said the complete ban imposed by the soviet government on British goods and vessels also became effective today. The soviet ban was decreed as a reprisal against the British embargo.

KILLS 2 IN HOME OF HIS ESTRANGED WIFE, ENDS LIFE

Crothersville, Ind., April 25.—(AP)—Three persons are dead and two wounded following invasion by Stanley Hammelman of the home of his estranged wife's parents here tonight. He shot every one in the house, then killed himself.

Besides Hammelman, the dead are Howard Weddle, his father-in-law, and Donna Joyce Hammelman, his 4 year old daughter. The wounded are Mrs. Weddle and her daughter, Mary Weddle, 15.

Hammelman's wife was attending a high school alumni meeting when her husband arrived at the home. Officers were told he shot the Weddles and their daughter, who were downstairs, then went upstairs and shot the little girl while she was lying in bed. Then shot himself.

J. H. Crawford, a neighbor, said Mrs. Weddle stumbled into his home after the shooting, said "Stanley has shot us all," and collapsed. Crawford and other neighbors took the Weddles to a hospital, but Mr. Weddle died on the way.

The condition of both Mrs. Weddle and her daughter was pronounced serious.

Number of Dead in Aegean Earthquake Rises to 119

ISLAND OF KOS, Ægean Sea, April 26.—[Wednesday.]—(AP)—The death list from Sunday's earthquake had grown to 119 today, with 600 injured. The figures of the number dead were based on the number of bodies recovered and those believed certain still remaining in the ruins. Troops, hospital and food supplies began arriving today from Rhodes.

"So pure and safe," says

Mrs. Charles R. Crane, II

"I never hesitate to dip anything washable in its lively suds"

MRS. CRANE possesses a charm that is always refreshing. And how easily she wears responsibility, particularly that of supervising her household and directing her three active boys—which, as she will tell you, is no small task!

"I know the soap flakes I use have a great deal to do with the smooth running order of my home," she says with conviction. "Since we have put American Family Flakes in the laundry I have been amazed at the ease with which the laundering is done. It's almost miraculous the way my silken lingerie retains its fresh beauty—my table linens, sheets and towels keep that snow-white look.

"American Family Flakes is just the soap, too, when it comes to washing the boys' play clothes. Its rich, creamy suds whisk out all the dirt without any hard rubbing. And I have yet to see a color streak or fade after using these flakes—they're so pure and safe.

"How fast working and efficient they have proved in the kitchen also! China and glassware dry sparkling-clean in no time. And tile and linoleum fairly gleam with cleanliness. Really, I am mighty thankful for American Family. It's the only laundry and cleaning flakes I ever buy."

• • •

Why waste your precious strength and hard to get dollars on cheapened soap flakes that give stingy lather . . . require hard rubbing . . . weaken fabrics to such an extent as to make your garments unwearable?

Insist, instead, on Kirk's American Family Flakes—as pure as pure can be. You'll find it the most economical flakes you can buy . . . for every household-cleaning use. You'll be delighted, too, at the way it keeps your hands so white and smooth. American Family Flakes, you see, makes double the suds of ordinary flakes—because it was created especially for the hard water of this Great Lakes region. And it's the pure, rich double-suds that makes the difference.

RATIFICATION OF REPEAL VOTED BY WISCONSIN

Historic Event Takes Place in Madison.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., April 25.—[Special.]—Ratification of eighteenth amendment repeal was voted unanimously today in the Wisconsin assembly chambers by fifteen delegates at a state convention. Wisconsin is the second state to pledge itself to ratification, but has the honor of being the first to ratify repeal unanimously.

The vote was taken after Gov. A. G. Schmedeman told delegates who were chosen April 4 in a state election that they were about to take part in a great historical event and wished them Godspeed.

Once the formalities of organization of the convention had been effected and the governor's address had been heard, it took the delegates only eight minutes to produce a resolution ratifying repeal of prohibition and adopt it.

Move to Assembly Chambers.

Because of the statute under which the convention was called the delegates were forced to meet first in the public service commission hearing room. This disturbed progress of a state-wide investigation into the Wisconsin Telephone company, and after officers of the convention had been elected and committees appointed the meeting was transferred to the assembly chambers.

Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan, was elected chairman of the convention. Harry Sauthoff, Madison, was elected secretary, and Chauncey Yockey, Milwaukee, sergeant at arms. Since George Vits, Manitowoc delegate, was absent, Dr. J. J. Seelman, Milwaukee, who was instrumental in arranging the state wet ticket, was elected by other delegates to take Vits' place.

Three committees were appointed. William George Bruce, Milwaukee, was made chairman of one to draw a resolution for ratification. The other two committees escorted Gov. Schmedeman and Chief Justice Marvin B. Rosenberry of the Wisconsin Supreme court to the assembly chambers.

Song Greets Delegates.

As delegates marched into the chambers, which were filled with senators, assembly, and other citizens, a few bars of "How Dry I Am" floated from a corner in which Senator Ben Gettelman, Milwaukee, Republican, was standing. The song faded into applause for delegates.

The oath was administered by Justice Rosenberry who pledged delegates to support the national and state constitutions. After Gov. Schmedeman addressed the group, Mr. Bruce read the ratification resolution. He moved for its adoption and Victor Minahan, Depere, seconded.

When the resolution had been adopted Sergeant at Arms Yockey was asked to deliver a copy to Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, for his signature and certification.

"I never have had a more happy moment in my life," said Yockey. "Come on, sign this, Mr. Secretary of State."

There was a short delay because no one in the vicinity of Dammann's seat could find a pen. Solomon Levitan, former state treasurer, offered his fountain pen and the resolution was signed and sent on its way to the national capitol.

Although the convention was a mere formality, because its outcome was a foregone conclusion, Gov. Schmedeman pointed out it had considerable historical significance.

"The occasion is at once a happy and important one," he said. "Happy, since citizens of Wisconsin have expressed in unmistakable terms the longing in their hearts and see in this gathering the partial fulfillment of their desires.

"You, delegates, in the fullest sense of the phrase are the people's chosen representatives. Therefore, you should rejoice in the opportunity each one of you has to carry out the will of the voters. You all are especially honored in the overwhelming manner your principles were approved by the electors on April 4.

Important History Chapter.

"Your convention is important, politically, morally and historically. It is important politically, that is, from the standpoint of the body politic. The subject matter of your deliberations involves matters of grave consequence not only to this state, but also to the United States.

"Morally, your actions here are important because of the effect it will have upon the citizens and representatives of our sister states. What you do here today will be eagerly watched throughout the land. Moreover, you will determine to a very large extent what the future disposition of the liquor question will be, by your course of conduct in this convention.

First Action of Kind in State.

"This body is the first of its kind to be assembled in Wisconsin to perform the function of passing upon a proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States. Because of the great public interest and the vital concern to the nation, your assemblage in Madison naturally partakes of a truly great and historical event. May your association prove a pleasant one and may your endeavors be guided by the best interest and welfare of the people of Wisconsin, in whose name I wish you Godspeed."

FORECAST MICHIGAN WILL LEGALIZE 3.2 BEER SALES TODAY

Lansing, Mich., April 25.—[Special.]—With a substitute bill before the house for action, it was being forecast today that 3.2 beer would be legalized by the Michigan legislature tomorrow.

The substitute bill carries a safeguard against the threat of referendum action by die-hard drys in the form of an appropriation of $50,000 from beer revenues to the primary school fund, with the remainder of the tax receipts going to meet the general fund deficit. Appropriation bills, under the constitution, are not subject to referendum.

The points at issue between the houses have been local control of licenses and appeals from decisions of the 17-member liquor control commission provided in the bill. One of these is believed eliminated in a provision that local governing bodies shall designate a person from whom license applicants must obtain a certificate of character.

The senate approved, 18 to 11, the amended O'Neil house bill for a general rod license for resident fishermen of 50 cents, applicable only to inland waters.

ILLINOIS SENATE VOTES TODAY ON U. S. DRY REPEAL

Convention on July 10 Is Believed Certain.

Horner statement. A secret vote was taken. As a result, Ward expressed his confidence that thirty-four votes were in sight and announced that he would ask action as early as possible at the afternoon session. That started at 4 o'clock. He obtained the floor at 4:20 and it was all over by 4:27.

There was no argument against Ward's motion to send the bill back to second reading for reamendment, and not a single senator spoke against the restoration of this year's June date.

Slowly and emphatically Ward read the governor's public statement as soon as he proposed the new amendments and asked for a vote. The ease with which the battle then was won was a surprise.

Horner Cites Voters' Decision.

"It is my hope that Illinois will be among the first states of the Union to ratify the repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution," the governor's statement asserted.

"The voters of the state have repeatedly declared for repeal and I am convinced that the legislature, a majority of whose members were elected pledged to repeal, will continue to respond as they have heretofore responded to the mandate of the people.

"I feel, I have always felt, that the people of this state desire a prompt calling of the election of delegates to the state convention to determine the important issues.

"I am for the holding of that election on June 5th.

"The election of delegates should be held then, for it is the only statewide election date this year, and, furthermore, would save the counties and cities the cost of a special election this year. It is unfortunate that for reasons which had nothing to do with the merits of repeal legislation it is proposed by some to delay the state's vote on the question until next year. I hope that the members of the legislature realize that this proposed delay is a mistake.

"It would be paradoxical for our commonwealth, long regarded as a leader among the states standing for prohibition reform, to lag behind the score of states that are soon to call conventions, or have called them, for the consideration by convention of the repeal amendment.

Bench Campaign Unaffected.

"I believe it a fallacy to say that election of convention delegates on June 5 would inject the prohibition question into judicial campaigns. The question of prohibition reform has been taken out of politics, and it would not be and should not be a partisan issue in the judicial elections. To postpone election of the delegates would unquestionably make this nonpartisan subject the football of politics again.

"Illinois always has been active in expression of its opinion in great questions that affect the nation. Unquestionably it has influenced other states by its progressive attitude on questions of public policy. It would be unfortunate if Illinois, at this critical stage in the long fight for true temperance, should delay action."

Maria Caseolotti, Opera Singer, Granted Divorce

Los Angeles, Cal., April 25.—[Special.]—Maria Caseolotti, grand opera and radio singer, won a divorce from Guido Hocke-Caseolotti today, alleging that her husband became indifferent to her and manifested mental cruelty. Her daughter, Adriana Caseolotti, was a witness for the mother. They were married in 1909, when Caseolotti became his wife's vocal instructor, and separated July 10, 1932.

How to Win Children's Appetites

If your child doesn't eat proper foods, how can it hope to thrive and grow as it should? . . . Of course you try; but sometimes trying gets nowhere with a fussy appetite.

Here's a suggestion: Get a package of CREAMETTES from your grocer. (It's a delicious macaroni product with new recipes to serve in tempting ways.) Children will eat CREAMETTES—and enjoy them. It's good for them; nourishes, builds sturdy bodies. Try this idea. You'll be amazed. Two big packages of CREAMETTES at your grocer, cost only 15c.

RELIEF 'CLIENTS' BOOM TRADE IN MOONSHINE DEN

Death of One Reveals a Shelter Hangout.

That the Cellar inn, a moonshine saloon at 1213 South Morgan street, did a thriving business among "clients" of the Kirby shelter of the Illinois Emergency relief commission, 1210 South Morgan street, was revealed yesterday at the inquest into the death of Carl Larson, 52 years old, a member of the Furniture Movers' union.

Larson, a resident of the shelter, was found dead outside the Cellar inn early Sunday. James Jacobs, 1030 Maxwell street, a colored bootblack, testified that he saw Larson stagger out of the inn late Saturday night supported by the proprietor, Albert Don, 23 years old, 1218 Miller street, and an unidentified Negro.

Order Hunt for Assailant.

Don went back into the saloon, Jacobs said, and the colored man struck Larson and threw him to the ground. The inquest was closed with the recommendation that the colored man be found and held for manslaughter. Testimony showed that Don came out of the saloon at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, glanced at Larson's body, and then returned to the saloon.

Done was arrested after an investigation by Acting Lieutenant Edward Balata and Sergt. Patrick Gaynor of Maxwell street police. The policemen confiscated four five gallon cans of alcohol and 50 pints of alcohol "shots" ready for sale in the Cellar inn.

Don, who once was placed on probation for one year for receiving stolen goods, testified at the inquest that Larson, despite the fact that he received food and lodging from the relief commission, was one of the best customers of the Cellar Inn.

Buys Drinks for Others.

"He came in at 6 o'clock Saturday night," Don said. "He bought several half pints of alcohol for 23 cents a half pint and bought a lot of drinks for the other bums. We had to put him out because he got insulting."

"What kinds of drinks do you sell" Deputy Coroner Jacob Schewel asked.

"I get 180 proof alcohol," Don told him, "and dilute it by adding just as much water as there is alcohol."

"You know what that stuff does to those men?" Deputy Schewel asked.

"Not my stuff," Don said. "I get good alcohol and I know how to cut it. Some of the gas stations out there sell the relief bums denatured alcohol."

"Do you get much business from the shelter?" Don was asked.

"O, yes," he answered, "about one-third of my trade comes from there."

George Dexheimer, 412 South Wood street, a furniture mover and a friend of Larson, testified that the dead man had been an expert furniture mover and usually worked two or three days a week.

"A $4 Ticket Guy."

William Boege, janitor at the relief shelter, testified that Larson was "a $4 ticket guy" and received meals and lodging every day.

"That's a fine saloon," Boege announced under questioning by Deputy Coroner Schewel. "They treat you like a gentleman. It's a high class place, a nice joint."

"Who is your boss?" Boege was asked.

"E. Peterson, the superintendent of the shelter," the witness said. "He can see the bums from the shelter go in and out of the saloon all day."

Other witnesses explained that relief shelter "clients" who apparently had been using alcohol were not admitted to the shelter. For this reason, they said, Larson was allowed to lie outside the saloon instead of being taken to the shelter.

Acting Lieutenant Balata announced that Don would be held for the government while the police sought revocation of his license. Mr. Peterson, manager of the shelter, said yesterday that there are 1,500 men in the shelter and that he is unable to watch the actions of each resident.

BILLS TO PUT TEETH IN ELECTION LAWS PASSED BY SENATE

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—The state senate today passed a series of eight election purification bills, the chief purpose of which is to increase penalties for violation of the election laws. They now go to the house for consideration.

They were introduced by Senator Richey V. Graham, president pro tempore, and Senator George Maypole, two Chicago Democrats. Their principal objects are as follows:

To increase penalties against making and soliciting campaign pledges to fines from $500 to $5,000 or imprisonment from one to fourteen years. The increased penalties for distribution of anonymous "literature" concerning a candidate to fines from $500 to $2,000 or jail sentences from six months to one year. To penalize fraudulent obtaining or giving of assistance to voters in marking ballots.

To increase penalties for defacing registration lists, for registration in more than one district, and for giving false name or address in registering. To increase penalties for repeating, for failure of judges to deliver returns, for making false entry in returns, and similar offenses.

To increase penalties for false oath under absentee voters act. To increase penalty for selling liquor near polling place, for attempting to vote illegally, for receiving or requesting bribes to vote, and other offenses.

To increase penalties for violations of law by election judges and clerks to fines ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 or penitentiary sentences from five to fifteen years or both.

COURT UPHOLDS $37,500 VERDICT AGAINST MORGAN

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Supreme Court Justice William Harman Black refused today to set aside the verdict of $37,500 in damages awarded by a jury to Howard A. Baugh, a salesman, against J. P. Morgan, the banker.

Mr. Baugh was knocked down and injured on Jan. 27, 1932, by Mr. Morgan's car and subsequently brought suit for $75,000 damages. When the jury returned its verdict in his favor, but reducing the claim, counsel for Mr. Morgan asked Justice Black to set aside the verdict on the ground that it was against the weight of the evidence.

Justice Black reserved decision on the motion and today made his opinion known. Mr. Baugh's leg was permanently injured. Mr. Morgan was not in his car when the accident happened.

Son Born to La Follettes at Washington Hospital

Washington, D. C., April 25.—(AP)—A son was born this morning at Garfield hospital to Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, wife of the senator from Wisconsin. The weight was seven pounds fourteen ounces. Attachés in the senator's office said that Mrs. La Follette was "getting along fine," as was the baby. As the news spread around the capitol "Young Bob" was the center of congratulatory offerings.

Mother and Daughter Meet First Time in 35 Years

De Kalb, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. Pearl Northcutt, 36, of Oskaloosa, Ia., and her mother, Mrs. John Curry of Woodstock, Ill., were reunited here today after being separated for 35 years.

BOTH PARTIES IN COUNTY DEMAND JUNE 5 WET VOTE

Slate Eaton vs. O'Connell for Probate Judge.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The legislature at Springfield was urged yesterday to give Illinois a vote on repeal of prohibition six weeks hence, by both Republican and Democratic organizations of Cook county. The two parties, by unanimous votes in their county conventions, favored the holding of the repeal vote on June 5 at the time of the judicial elections.

JUDGE O'CONNELL. TRIBUNE Photo.

The county conventions were held to nominate candidates for Gov. Henry Horner's old place on the Probate bench, with the following results:

John F. O'Connell was nominated by the Democrats at the Morrison hotel for probate judge. He is at present a judge of the municipal court, elected in 1922 for two years, and elected in 1930 for a six year term.

Charles Schribner Eaton was nominated for probate judge by the Republicans at the Bismarck hotel. He is a former Hyde Park alderman whose record was highly extolled by the Municipal Voters league. He was sponsored by the Deneen and Harding groups.

The nominating papers for Judge O'Connell were filed with County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer later in the day.

Two more changes were made by the Republicans in their ticket for the Circuit court. Thomas Marshall, former assistant state's attorney, who was named Monday night for one of the vacancies caused by the withdrawal of Republican sitting judges to run on the Democratic fusion ticket, withdrew his name. A woman was picked for a vacancy that had been left open. The two new candidates are:

JOHN R. McCABE—City clerk under Mayor Busse from 1907 to 1909. He defeated Daniel S. Wentworth by one vote yesterday for the nomination.

MRS. ELIZABETH M. FIHE—A former referee in the juvenile court under Judge Mary M. Bartelme.

The Republicans now have a full party ticket for the 20 places on the Circuit court, the two on the Superior court and for the probate judgeship. Five present Republican Circuit judges, indorsed by the bar association, who were named by both parties, withdrew from the Republican ticket and elected to run under the Democratic circle. A name can appear only once on the ballot. Their withdrawals were filed yesterday in Springfield. Also John Sbarbaro withdrew as a nominee, making six vacancies on the Republican Circuit court ticket, which are now filled.

Revised Court Tickets.

The judicial tickets of the Republican and Democratic parties, with incumbents designated by asterisks, and a present Superior judge indicated by a double asterisk are as follows:

The order in which the names will appear on the Republican ticket is to be determined today.

A third ticket was filed late yesterday by the "People's Judiciary Ticket." The campaign director is William F. Gailing, who since 1912 has been identified with some 22 independent movements.

Mr. Gailing and C. Doering, chairman of the third ticket movement, told County Clerk R. M. Sweitzer that more than 140,000 signatures to the petitions had been obtained in five days.

BURGLAR GETS SPRING CLOTHES.

A window breaking burglar got a complete outfit of spring clothes in raids on the Albert Hoefeld haberdashery shop at 100 South State street and the Feltman and Curme shoe store, 30 West Van Buren street, early yesterday.

FIND CAFE OWNER RECEIVING RELIEF COMMISSION FOOD

K. S. Papoutsis, owner of the Busy Bee restaurant at 1209 West 69th street, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Leon Edelman in the Stockyards court for not having a city restaurant license.

"I don't need a license," Papoutsis told the court. "I've got a card from the relief commission."

He produced a card showing that he is receiving food, milk, and coal from the relief commission. Judge Edelman ordered the defendant to produce a license this morning or go to jail. Police were ordered by Judge Edelman to find out why the proprietor of a restaurant should be entitled to aid from the relief commission.

HYDE PARK'S DRY ACT OF 1877 MAY BAR BEER SALES

Beer drinkers in Hyde Park were given a possible cause for worry yesterday when Assistant Corporation Counsels William V. Daly and Otto F. Weiner dug up an ordinance of the old town of Hyde Park prohibiting alcoholic beverages in the town.

Daly and Weiner included a copy of the old ordinance in a document filed by them in the Circuit court to oppose mandamus proceedings brought by Charles C. Fahey, 911 East 47th street, to compel the city to grant him a beer license.

The anti-beer ordinance was passed by Hyde Park in 1877

MOVE TO CHANGE BOUNDARY MEANS WAR! CZECHS CRY

Hands Off! Is Foreign Chief's Warning.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, April 25.—(AP)— Foreign Minister Edouard Benes told parliament today that whoever desires to change the boundaries of Czechoslovakia must bring an army along with him.

Benes assailed attempts to revise the war treaties and criticized Premier Mussolini's four power peace plan as "a great backward step."

"History shows," he said, "that the surrender of territory always is connected with the bloodiest wars."

Confer in Warsaw.

WARSAW, April 25.—(AP)—Poland, France, and the Little Entente nations were said today to be in close contact presumably in connection with anti-revision sentiment, but the foreign office denied that such an agreement had been signed. The little entente is composed of Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia.

Reports published abroad were that the countries had signed an agreement against the revision of world war treaties and opposing Premier Mussolini's four-power peace plan.

Conferences have been conducted between Foreign Minister Joseph Beck and the Czech and French envoys.

Duce Agrees to French Plan.

ROME, April 25.—(AP)—Officials said today that some action was expected before the end of the week on the French memorandum replying to Premier Mussolini's four-power peace club plan.

Premier Mussolini has practically agreed to the French suggestion, it was learned on reliable authority, and a delay now is caused by recent suggestions made by the German government.

Proposals regarding the revision of peace treaties are said here to be the principal difference between the Mussolini plan for collaboration by Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany, and the French memorandum. The French memorandum asserts that the sanctity of treaties should be respected.

RE-ELECT NOYES AS ASSOCIATED PRESS PRESIDENT

New York, April 25.—(AP)—Frank B. Noyes, publisher of the Washington Star, was reëlected president of the Associated Press today at a meeting of the board of directors.

William J. Pape of the Waterbury Republican became first vice president, succeeding George B. Longan of the Kansas City Star, who yesterday was elected a director.

W. R. Hearst Jr., of the New York American, succeeds Mr. Pape as second vice president.

Kent Cooper, the general manager of the Associated Press, was reëlected secretary and Jackson S. Elliott, the assistant general manager, was reelected assistant secretary.

The board elected Mr. Noyes; Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times; Paul Patterson, Baltimore Sun; Robert McLean, Philadelphia Bulletin, and Richard Hooker, Springfield Republican, members of the executive committee.

J. R. Youatt was reëlected treasurer.

Hunt Youths Who Robbed Dancer in Her Home

Police are seeking two young bandits who on Monday night entered the flat of Miss Staseli De Ana, 24 years old, a dancer at 5668½ Ridge avenue, struck her and threatened to torture her before they fled with a cameo brooch and $28 in cash, according to Miss De Ana's report to Summerdale police. She said the brooch was 500 years old and valued it at $1,500.

TREE SITTING CAT IN NEW RETREAT UNDER A PORCH

The tree sitting kitten which had perched since Sunday in a tree in front of the home of J. V. Wasem, 5226 Kimbark avenue, descended yesterday. It was grounded by strategy after the Hyde Park police cat squad, composed of Policemen William Tapscott and Louis Olson, had failed in efforts to bring it down.

Members of the Wasem family hit upon the plan of placing a large bowl of milk at the bottom of the tree. The cat came down, drank the milk, and then scampered to an inaccessible spot beneath the Wasem front porch. The police again were notified, and with the aid of neighborhood boys began the work of inducing the cat to leave its new hiding place.

SPAIN'S PREMIER REJECTS 'BID' TO GIVE UP POWER

Refuses to Break with Growing Marxists.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, April 25.—In a stormy session of the Spanish parliament tonight, Premier Manuel Azana flatly declined the pressing invitation of his opposition to resign because Sunday's municipal elections failed to give him personally, though it gave the republic, a majority.

The position of his government before the regularly elected constituent assembly is in no way affected, the premier told his enemies, by elections of municipal council men in the country's "rotten boroughs of the monarchy."

Brings Feud to Head.

By refusing to break with the Socialists, to whom his opponents say he is enslaved, he brought to a head the feud between conservative Republicans and the Spanish Marxists who strengthened their power in the country's bad lands in the elections.

The united opposition announced in parliament tonight that it would henceforth obstruct by means of the filibuster every piece of legislation until the 118 Socialist deputies out of a total of 470 leave the government.

Miguel Maura, conservative veteran of the first Republican government, called on Azana to divorce the Socialists before it is too late. He pointed to what he called a conservative and anti-Republican victory as a danger sign.

Says Socialism Kills Republic.

"The daily dose of Socialism is killing the republic," he said. "The country which expected so much from the revolution is puzzled to see the Republican spring polluted by Marxism. The Spanish people are entitled to a moderate republic or else to seeing that the Socialists take the full responsibility of what they are doing by assuming power. One or the other! A mixture of the two soon will end in tragedy."

The Socialists, who argue that they smashed the monarchy and consolidated the republic, stiffened their backs. In the event the Azana regime is forced to resign, they are prepared to demand that President Alcala Zamora charge their chief, Largo Caballero, with the forming of a new Socialist Republican coalition government with the accent on the Socialist.

They likewise are ready to spring a general strike within an hour at any sign of a conservative revolt which is rumored imminent. Dispatches from Barcelona tonight said syndicalists ordered a general strike in protest against the arrest of more than 100 persons in the transportation strike. Three warships are standing by.

OIL MAN WANTED FOR FRAUD TELLS U. S. "GO TO HELL"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, April 25.—C. C. Julian, fugitive Oklahoma City oil promoter, who is wanted in the United States on charges of mail fraud, today defied efforts to extradite him to America.

"You can tell the United States to go to hell," he said. "I am a Canadian citizen. They can't touch me."

Julian has employed local American and European lawyers familiar with the intricacies of Chinese extraterritorial jurisdiction, which makes it practically impossible to extradite a Canadian from Chinese soil for a crime committed in the United States. The Chinese government has not even the power to arrest him without the consent of the British government.

BERLIN STUDENTS DEMAND RECTOR QUIT UNIVERSITY

Head Objects to Theses Assailing Jew.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 25.—Nazi students today demanded the resignation of Edward Kohlrausch, rector magnificus of Berlin university. The students went on a warpath when the rector objected to two of 12 theses against the "un-German spirit."

The rector expressed his displeasure at the following pronouncements which were displayed on a bulletin board:

"Whenever a Jew writes German he lies. Jews can only think in Yiddish. We demand that Jewish works appear in Hebrew; if they appear in German they must be labeled translations."

Students Issue Statement.

The students issued a statement which declared that Rector Kohlrausch had no right to criticize them.

"Only professors imbued with the Nazi spirit have the right to find fault," read the statement attacking the rector. "Our opponent is an un-German spirit. The university includes liberal intellectualism in every form and within our province the spirit emanates from other races. Its conquest devolves upon the German spirit."

Dr. Kohlrausch objected to the students' theses, he said, because they discredit the campaign against things un-German besides slandering fellow humans. The rector has refused to resign.

The government, meanwhile, dismissed 25 university professors "because they are Jews or leftists." Seventeen educators were discharged in Frankfort university, six in Goettingen, and two at Marburg. It was announced that other dismissals would follow.

Will "Purge" Libraries.

Chancellor Hitler's campaign to "Germanize" cultural life in the reich was advanced today with plans for the "purging" of state and public libraries. A great public bonfire of books considered harmful because they are Marxist or "un-German" is planned.

Students throughout the reich will erect "pillories of shame" May 3 on the campus of every university. Un-German books and works of those persons "who took part in the campaign of hatred against Germany" will be nailed on them before they are destroyed.

Place Limit on Jewish Students.

BERLIN, April 25.—(AP)—The cabinet today adopted a law fixing the admittance of Jewish students in universities and state schools according to their ratio of the entire population.

Children whose fathers fought in German trenches during the world war, or one of whose parents is Aryan, were exempted. Children of Jews who emigrated from the east after Aug. 1, 1914, were completely barred.

Meanwhile a German Evangelical church commission extended full powers to its president, Hermann Kapler, in his efforts to draft a new Protestant constitution and to create a united German Evangelical church union.

It is understood that Kapler's efforts are directed towards taking the wind out of the sails of the "German Christian" Nazi movement by instituting a reform aimed at relating the church more intimately with daily life, but without making it subservient to political leadership.

The Nazi state government in Schwerin today decided to withdraw Church Commissioner Walter Bohm as a result of an indignant protest by Mecklenberg-Schwerin church authorities.

RABBI TRICKS NAZIS; ROLLS UP IN CARPET AND FLEES GERMANY

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, April 25.—(AP)—How he outwitted Nazis in Berlin and escaped from Germany by rolling himself in a carpet was told today by Rabbi Jonas Fraenkel, aged 70, on his arrival here.

Rabbi Fraenkel said Nazi storm troops had invaded his Berlin home and had robbed him of $520 after beating him. He feared thereafter to leave his house, he added, but finally rolled himself in a carpet and had friends cart him across town. They eventually got him aboard a train for Prague.

Rabbi Fraenkel formerly was active in New York religious circles.

Bandits Capture Mexican Town; Try to Kill Mayor

MEXICO CITY, April 25.—(AP)—A dispatch from Guadalajara said a bandit gang headed by Ramon Aguilar captured and sacked the small town of Jacona, Michoacan, and attempted to kill the mayor. The mayor escaped.

SERBIAN TREASON TRIAL FINISHED; VERDICT DELAYED

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 25.—(AP)—The trial of Dr. Vladko Matchek, Croat peasant leader, on charges of treason, closed today with the dramatic plea of the defendant that "the Croatian people want freedom; I worked for the realization of that freedom; if that is a crime, let the court sentence me."

The verdict will be handed down Saturday. Matchek was accused in connection with a manifesto issued last fall in which revision of the 1918 treaty forming the new Serb-Croat-slovene state was advocated.

Before the opening of today's session, a statement purporting to have been issued by Serbian radicals, Democrats, and Agrarians was circulated, protesting against "this trial, which is a political persecution culminating a long list of terroristic acts against the entire people."

Russia Asks Italy to Bid on 4 New Warships

ROME, April 25.—(AP)—The soviet government asked shipbuilders today to bid on four light cruisers and one submarine. It is understood that similar requests have been made in other countries.

Hugh Gibson Notifies King Job as Envoy Is Near End

BRUSSELS, April 25.—(AP)—Hugh Gibson, who will soon leave his post as United States ambassador to Belgium, today gave official notification to King Albert that his departure was imminent.

TEACHER'S DEATH CALLED MURDER; HUNT KIDNAPERS

VICTORIA, B. C., April 25.—(AP)—Police chiefs of Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., agreed today Stewart Ashley, 19 year old Vancouver school teacher, was murdered by kidnapers.

The young teacher's body was found in a slough near here Sunday, three days after a kidnaper's letter said he would be killed unless $5,000 ransom was paid. Investigating officers believed Ashley was killed by some poisonous gas, probably carbon monoxide.

REMOVES BABY'S EYE IN EFFORT TO SAVE HER LIFE

Doctors Say She Has Only Even Chance to Live.

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Medical science acted today to save the life of 2 year old Helen Vasko. The child underwent an operation at the eye institute of the Columbia Medical center. Her left eye and part of the optic nerve were removed by Dr. John H. Dunnington, assistant to Dr. John M. Wheeler, who removed a cataract from the eye of the king of Siam, in an attempt to prevent the growth of a malignant tumor which, it was feared, ultimately would have caused her death.

A bulletin issued after the operation reported the condition of the patient was "entirely satisfactory." The physicians admitted, however, that the child had only an even chance to recover, especially in view of the delay in removing the infected eye.

Judge Orders Operation.

The operation had been recommended in January, but the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vasko of Hastings, had opposed it. When physicians told them that removal of the child's eye was the only hope of saving her life, they replied their daughter's fate was "in the hands of God." The operation was ordered by Judge George W. Smyth of the Westchester Children's court and the Appellate division confirmed his decision.

It was not until last night that Mrs. Vasko changed her mind about the operation, Judge Smyth revealed today. The couple had been in hiding. On Monday night they went to Judge Smyth's chambers, bringing Helen with them. After three hours, the judge said Mrs. Vasko said she would permit the operation and the child was taken from her and placed in St. John's Riverside hospital, Yonkers.

Parents Are Ill at Home.

Theodore Murin, attaché of the Children's court, and Mrs. Mary Miner, a nurse, drove to the Medical center with the Vasko child shortly after noon. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Vasko were there. According to Murin, both were ill at home.

The child was crying when she was brought into the operation room, according to an observer. She received a general anesthetic and, after the operation, was returned to the ward. At the hospital it was said her parents would be permitted to visit her at any time. If she recovers she will be able to leave the hospital in a week or ten days and will be able to use a glass eye within a month.

WINKLER GIVEN A DELAY ON GUN TOTING CHARGE

A charge of carrying a concealed weapon against Gus Winkler, alleged successor to the slain Ted Newberry in north side gang circles, was continued yesterday until Friday by Judge Joseph McGarry. The defense asked for the delay to allow Winkler to decide whether he wants a jury trial.

Hearing on the concealed weapon charge was started after a charge of vagrancy had been nol prossed on motion of the state. Sergt. William J. Drury of the state's attorney's police called to support the vagrancy charge, testified that he had arrested Winkler on April 1 at Broadway and Grace street. The hoodlum, Detective Drury said, was carrying a revolver and $5,000, said to have been part of a pay roll for the Winkler underlings.

Arguing a motion to suppress the vagrancy charge, Defense Attorney W. W. Smith asked the detective if he knew Winkler's business.

"He's a gangster," Drury answered.

"What do you mean gangster?" Attorney Smith asked.

"A racketeer," the detective told him.

"What's that?"

"He carries a gun and muscles people around and holds them up," Drury explained. "He's a bank robber. That's the only business I know he's in." Prosecutor Charles Dougherty interrupted the examination and asked a nol pros in order to try the gun case. Winkler is known to police as a bank robber and an intimate of Fred [Killer] Burke, now serving a life sentence for the murder of a Michigan policeman.

HELEN WALKER SZUKALSKI ASKS DIVORCE DECREE

Suit for divorce was instituted yesterday at Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, by Mrs. Helen Walker Szukalski, daughter of Dr. Samuel J. Walker of Chicago, against Stanislaus Szukalski, Polish artist and sculptor, according to dispatches from Los Angeles.

The charge is incompatibility. Mrs. Szukalski is being represented by a firm of Hollywood and Mexican lawyers. Szukalski, who is working in Hollywood, has signed a paper of consent as required under Mexican law. Mrs. Szukalski will retain custody of their 6 year old daughter, Kalinka, it is understood.

The Szukalskis were married May 31, 1922, in Dr. Walker's apartment at 229 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Szukalski is said to be in Chicago now with her daughter. She is well known as an artist and writer.

ORDER HOSPITAL AT GREAT LAKES TO CUT FORCES

Capt. Norman T. McLean, in charge of the naval hospital at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, received orders yesterday from Washington to reduce immediately the number of present patients and, by May 1, to decrease by 60 per cent the number of civilian employés.

The order was regarded by station officials as further evidence of the plans, currently reported, to close the training station in the interests of economy.

There are now 400 veteran patients and fifty station or sailor patients in the hospital, and 150 civilian employés. According to the Washington instructions, the veteran patients must be transferred as rapidly as possible to the Hines hospital.

Globe, Ariz., April 25.—(AP)—Two men armed with submachine guns and with their features smeared with green grease robbed the Valley bank here of about $40,000 today.

KEMPER QUIZZED ON REINSURANCE OF ILLINOIS LIFE

Proposed R. F. C. Loan Is Chief Topic of Testimony

James S. Kemper, head of a group of casualty and fire insurance companies, whose contract for reinsurance of the policy holders of the Illinois Life Insurance company is under consideration by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, submitted to examination yesterday by Attorney David D. Stansbury, counsel for dissenting stockholders.

Although Mr. Stansbury had complained that Mr. Kemper had "dodged" a subpoena, the insurance executive took the stand voluntarily, notwithstanding a ruling of the court that he need not testify unless he wished to. He informed the attorney that his bid, which calls for $500,000 of new capital and $750,000 of paid in surplus for Illinois Life, had been submitted only after Abel Davis, receiver for Illinois Life, had suggested he bid.

Withholds Source of Cash.

"Where are you getting this new capital and surplus," Mr. Stansbury asked.

"I don't think it's any of your business," the witness responded.

Mr. Kemper's attorney, Donald Defrees, objected to further questioning along this line and was upheld by the court. Mr. Stansbury then switched to the matter of a $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 loan, which the Kemper organization hopes to get from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, on Illinois Life collateral when the company is reorganized.

"How much interest will you pay if you get the loan?" Stansbury asked.

"Five per cent," the witness said.

Dispute Over Interest.

"What will you do with the R. F. C. money if you get it?"

"We will probably invest it in government securities."

"In other words, you will pay 5 per cent for money which you will reinvest at about 3½ per cent?"

Mr. Kemper disputed the imputation. The loan, he thought, could be invested in government bonds paying 4 o 4½ per cent. In any event, he asserted, the loan would be of benefit to policyholders by assuring prompt payment of death and double indemnity claims.

"Are you going to invest any of the loan in capital stock of your own companies?" Stansbury asked.

"It would be a damned good investment, if any of the stock were available," Kemper replied.

Receiver's Actuary Quizzed.

Edward Fackler, consulting actuary for Receiver Davis, also testified. Mr. Fackler said he was not informed of the plan to borrow from the R. F. C. when he recommended the Kemper bid. He declined to guess whether knowledge of the intention to borrow might have caused him to recommend rejection of the bid. He admitted giving only scant consideration to a reorganization plan submitted by Mr. Stansbury's client, James Sullivan, calling for divorcement of the company from "the banking business" and confining itself to paying death claims.

At the conclusion of his testimony Judg. Wilkerson instructed Mr. Fackler to return today with data on the profits the Kemper organization may gain from reorganization under their plan. Attorneys for other dissenting groups have charged that "the sky will be the limit" on profits for the Kemper company.

Lost Wedding Ring Found After Half a Century

Connersville, Ind., April 25.—[Special.]—Lost for nearly fifty years, a wedding ring belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Looney, Rushville, was found today by Mrs. Ida Powell on a farm near Bentonville.

HUNGRY PUPILS FUND GIFTS DROP TO $10.50 FOR DAY

The Flying Eagle patrol of Boy Scout troop 529 sent a contribution to the Hungry School Children's fund yesterday. The gift of $1.50 was sent by Sam L. Lazarus Jr., patrol leader, and Billy Appel, treasurer.

Three other gifts were the only ones reaching the fund. They were $5 from P. F. M., $3 from Sarah A. Bates, and $1 from "Bill." These increased by only $10.50 the fund which has the job of feeding 10,000 hungry school children daily in 100 public schools.

All gifts are welcomed, no matter how small. Only 5 cents will provide a small child with a nourishing hot lunch, while 15 cents is sufficient to feed a pupil of high school or junior high school age. Contributions should be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower, accompanied by the adjoining coupon. The grand total now stands at $23,734.07.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS DO TASTE BETTER

HURRY!

THERE is really no reason to wait—as a matter of fact, it is inadvisable to wait. When material costs go up, and according to current press reports this may be expected any day, the price of this Kelvinator must go up because Kelvinator will not cheapen the product to meet a low price.

This beautiful model is a Standard 1933 Kelvinator—full-sized—full-powered—with Kelvinator quality all the way through. It is not a new model built to meet a price!

Standard Power Plant

It has the standard Kelvinator power plant—the same as used in the large DeLuxe model which costs nearly a thousand dollars.

It has an abundance of power—so much, in fact, that it runs but a third of the time to maintain proper low temperatures. Compare this with others that must run all the time, and you will realize that Kelvinator is the more economical. And in addition to greater economy, you get less wear and longer life.

Behind this dependable power plant is the longest experience in the industry—nineteen years devoted to electric refrigeration.

A Beautiful Cabinet

The cabinet is beautifully designed. You'll be proud to own it. But, of even greater importance than beauty, is the fineness of materials and the quality of design and workmanship. It is large, roomy, ruggedly built. It has 2½ inches of Kelvatex insulation – odorless, waterproof, indestructible insulation to keep the cold in and the heat out.

Many Features

And wait until you see its many features. Porcelain interior; Temperature Selector, with 8 freezing speeds; 3-Zone Cold; KeepCold Defroster; rustproof bar type shelves; chrome hardware; Table Top; rounded corners for easy cleaning; and many others.

Come in and see it. Don't wait. Take advantage of the present low price. On our easy payment plan you can actually save enough money to pay for it. Hurry!

Special Notice From the Factory!

Since we first gave to the public the information repeated in this advertisement, more Kelvinators have been shipped than in any similar period in Kelvinator's 19 years in the industry. The big Kelvinator factories at Detroit and Grand Rapids are working NIGHT and DAY to supply the unprecedented demand. Unfilled orders on hand are greater than at any time in the last 3½ years. For your own protection, we suggest that you place your order NOW so as to assure delivery when you want it.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

THE HOOVER REPUBLICANS AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Something more than an echo of the voice and opinions of Ogden Mills has been heard in Washington and the significance of it is something more than would be derived from Mr. Mills as an individual citizen. It is quite plain that the intervention is that of the secretary of the treasury under Mr. Hoover and of Mr. Hoover's principal campaign advocate last year. In connection with this it is to be noted that Hoover Republicans are planning for the congressional elections of 1934 in the hope of getting back the control at least of the house of representatives.

Republicans naturally hope that the Democratic administration will have worked itself into a disadvantageous position by 1934 and that states which deserted in 1932 will have reconsidered and will be ready to return to their Republicanism. It is politically possible that this should be the case, although the period is a bit short for a reaction. It does not follow from these hopes that the Republican comeback should be undertaken under the direction of the men who headed the party in its defeat of last November. They may think that in spite of the defeat they remain at the head of the party. There is a mistake in that. It will be either the mistake of the men so assuming a prerogative of command or it will be a mistake of the party which accepts such control. The defeat of November was the defeat of Mr. Hoover and his advisers as much as it was the defeat of the Republican party. It might have been that no Republican President could have survived Mr. Hoover's years in office. It was certain that Mr. Hoover could not. He left few things undone which, in being done as he did them, would make his defeat less than a certainty.

Mr. Hoover's temperamental difficulties robbed the party of any chance it might have had to survive hard times. These difficulties remain a part of Mr. Hoover's character and they disqualify him when the party faces the problem of its own reconstruction, which is the essential of its recovery.

Mr. Hoover's approach to the questions confronting him as President and the country in its domestic and international affairs started wrong and was bound to have wrong objectives. He not only misinterpreted the ideas of a majority of the American people, but no one could have been more stubborn in maintaining his position. This development in him was unexpected, because when he was elected he was thought to be preeminently a man whose mind was open to the meaning of facts when they were discovered and who would not in the face of them be a stiff minded doctrinaire. He proved to be one, and the fault is a part of his political character.

No President ever made more pretense of reliance upon fact finding inquiries and practical use of their discoveries, and none was ever more indifferent when the discoveries were inconsistent with personal theories or desires. A reference to one instance, that of the Wickersham commission, is sufficient. Many of Mr. Hoover's troubles in Washington were the troubles of a man who did not have an instinct for the political action wholly essential to successful administration. He ignored the repeatedly expressed ideas of the people, and he sought to give the authority to acts which had to have popular sanction or had to be failures.

These disabilities are not correctible in Mr. Hoover's case, and when the Republican party seeks to return to favor in Republican states it must do so with other men in charge of its destiny than the men who were consulted by Mr. Hoover. It would be extreme foolishness to imagine that defeat left the men of the Hoover administration at the head of the party. It is not an instance of a royal family in exile, nor is it a case of Benjamin Harrison yielding to Grover Cleveland and waiting to step in again. Not only did the country go Democratic, but the Republican party went anti-Hoover. It will try to make some gain in the next congressional election, but it will not try to make that as a part of the process of reelecting Herbert Hoover as President of the United States.

WHY UNCLE SAM IS UNCLE.

The sanitary district denies the petition of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club of Wilmette that a sand bar be removed from the harbor entrance. The explanation is that the work would be too costly. As a demonstration of what the bar does to the harbor, a boat was stranded on it and later pulled off by the Wilmette coast guard.

The federal government undertakes such work everywhere else. If that is to be regarded as its obligation in other sections, there is no reason why the Wilmette harbor should be left to worry about its troubles. What is the due of a Cape Cod cruiser should not be too good for a Wilmette pleasure boat. If outstretched hands are filled elsewhere, there is no reason why a Chicago region petition should die on the doorstep.

THE TENNESSEE VALLEY SCHEME.

In view of Mr. Roosevelt's repeated references during the campaign to plans and planning it was no doubt inevitable that some such program as is now outlined for the Tennessee river valley would be undertaken. Some sizable region in the country would be used to show what could be done with it by way of exploiting its natural resources to the full.

Still it is difficult to see why the Tennessee valley was selected for the purpose unless, indeed, the President wished to show what could be done by planning under most unfavorable circumstances. The Tennessee valley began to attract pioneers about the time of our revolution and it is still sparsely settled. In their advance across the continent the American people passed beyond the valley of the Tennessee for more fertile lands and for locations better suited to the needs of industry, agriculture, and commerce. That is not to say that the Tennessee valley is a desert but only that its natural advantages are surpassed elsewhere.

The choice of the Tennessee valley for the experiment may have been dictated by the cheapness of the land involved, but that is only another way of saying that the land is worth little. No doubt the fact that the project will involve the spending of considerable sums in half a dozen southern and therefore Democratic states may have had something to do with the selection of the site. But the commanding consideration was probably the investment already made by the federal government at Muscle Shoals, near Florence, Ala. The notion still persists that the dam and power plant at this site are national resources of incalculable value. What the evidence for this belief may be it is not easy to determine. Perhaps the statesmen are convinced that Muscle Shoals is worth a great deal because they have sunk so much money in it.

The truth of the matter is that the Muscle Shoals plant represents an inexcusable waste of public money. The dam was built under the Wilson administration ostensibly to provide nitrates for ammunition during the war, but in fact it was pork for deserving Democratic districts. The best evidence that the site as such was not worth developing is the fact that in the days when private interests were going in for water power they passed up Muscle Shoals. The notion that the electricity produced there can be marketed now at a price to yield a fair return cannot be substantiated, and surely if the present current is unsalable at a fair price the additional investment at Cove creek, intended to produce more current, can hardly be made to pay even if, as is claimed, the additional dam will provide a more uniform year round flow.

The final nonsense with respect to Muscle Shoals is the continued talk about nitrates for fertilizer. At the moment when congress is being pressed to pass a farm bill aimed at decreasing the production of cotton and other crops the construction of a new nitrate plant to increase the yield per acre can hardly be regarded as a rational procedure.

Muscle Shoals is a gold brick. It owes much of its reputation for genuine worth to the salesmanship of Senator Norris, who acquired his expert knowledge of water power in Nebraska, where there isn't any water power worth talking about. Compared with Muscle Shoals, Boulder dam stands out as a triumph of economic statesmanship. The Boulder dam development, to be sure, is not what it purports to be, a national construction for national advantage. In reality it is intended to supply Los Angeles with power and water at the expense of the taxpayers all over the country; but at any rate there are substantial numbers of people in southern California who stand to benefit from this eleemosynary outlay. As much cannot be said for the Muscle Shoals program. It is all baloney.

If the administration wants to see what it can do by way of regional planning and large scale capital expenditure it ought to try its experiments in more favored regions. The money spent in the Tennessee valley if used, say, in the Chicago area to electrify the railroads, build elevated highways, clear the slums, and erect the outer bridge, might be expected to yield a reasonable return in money and in human happiness. We do not advocate any such outlay by all the taxpayers of the United States for the benefit of one region, but only cite it as an illustration of what might better be attempted if something must be undertaken.

Editorial of the Day

NORTH DAKOTA WENT TOO FAR.

[Wisconsin State Journal.]

Gov. Langer of North Dakota has made the discovery that in following a pathway blazed by Wisconsin it is wise not to attempt outdistancing this state as to the breadth of its measures.

North Dakota legislated on the subject of a moratorium on mortgage payments. Instead of adopting the Wisconsin law, which accords to the courts wide discretion in mortgage foreclosure judgments but does not entirely suspend payments on mortgages, the North Dakota statute provided an absolute bar to their collection.

The governor of North Dakota declared the law would be strictly enforced. He even called the militia to his aid to prevent levies based on mortgage foreclosure judgments.

Then came the reaction. The federal government loan activities of the Farm Land Bank system, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the Agricultural Credit Corporation discontinued loaning money in North Dakota. Private loan agencies followed the federal government's example. Now North Dakota will modify its moratorium law to the terms of the Wisconsin statute.

Gov. Langer has discovered that wise legislation as regards the collection of mortgages is far better than a plan which was nothing more or less than debt repudiation.

We would suggest to North Dakota that it also adopt another Wisconsin law that is proving of great benefit in aiding inquiries into the status of mortgage debts and in giving recommendations as to the orders of the courts in mortgage foreclosure proceedings.

The measure creates what is practically an advisory committee for each county to hold hearings when mortgage collections are attempted and to decide from the facts gathered what extensions if any shall be granted delinquent mortgagors. These committee recommendations are giving great satisfaction throughout Wisconsin and courts are according them consideration in their judgments.

TOOLS WANTED.

A tough looking thug stopped a gentleman and tried to make a touch. "Can't you get into any business that is more profitable than this?" the gentleman asked.

"I'd like to open a bank if I could only get the tools," was the answer.—Boston Transcript.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

MR. HUTTON, the w. k. husband of Aimee Semple McPherson, while conducting a revival meeting in Detroit, had his overcoat stolen, and immediately said to the perspiring reporters, "The devil seems to be on the job." We believe in being just with every one, even the devil, and we rise to ask Mr. Hutton what in—no, that sounds like profanity and we will put it in more euphonious langage. What the devil—no, that doesn't sound nice, either, so we will put it this way—where, in a certain place that is much warmer than southern Indiana in the middle of July, would a certain gentleman reputed to have horns, a tail, and cloven hoofs find it comfortable to wear an overcoat?

CUBA SENDING 12,000 Barrels of Beer to the United States."—Headline. Which won't interfere with their revolution at all; they'll go back to razzing President Machado as soon as the beer is sent away. Down in Cuba their national maxim is, "Business first and pleasure afterwards."

CONGRATULATIONS!

(News item: Clarence Darrow asks congratulations on his birthday last week because he has fewer years to live.)

For seventy some odd years subtracted
From sentence-serving here below;
For seventy some long milestones counted
And little distance yet to go!
Confess, old cynic, what robbed life of living?
What smoke obscured the vision? We would know.

What bitter dregs within the cup were tasted
Before repletion gave you pause,
What frenzy of fine effort wasted
To make a mockery of laws?

Has proving man a helpless creature,
Of will devoid, by passion tossed,
Reshaped within your mind a Maker
Creating something to be lost?

Because by devious legal windings,
By eloquence and pleading voice
Men shift the burden of their blunders
And feebly waive the law of choice,
You think, oh weary world-worn cynic,
We with your sophistry rejoice?

If death end life and life be futile
The sooner ended—best for all;
Why fight to lengthen then the sentence—
A short walk and a little fall?

GOHEEN.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON yesterday said the famous Hope diamond had been left for sale at a pawnbroker's shop down there. But what's the pawnbroker going to do with it? Nowadays people are not given much to buying things like the Hope diamond, which used to be quoted at five hundred thousand dollars, a million, or what have you? Probably the pawnbroker will trade it off in exchange for a gent's used tweed suit and a second hand saxophone with two keys missing; the lucky stiff.

THINK OF WALKING AROUND these days wearing the Hope diamond. Why, you can just hear the boss bandit shouting to the other gun lads: "Now, fall in line on the right, youse birds, and wait yer turn!"

My arms close tight at the thrill of you;
For you I would keep, jealously, safely;
Nature is only a part of you.

AND SINCE SO MANY of the news items from Washington speak of it as "President Roosevelt's Reflation Bill," so, of course, we've got to reflate the last line today. But we don't like it. Not that we know what it means—Old Man Webster doesn't know what it means—but we do distinctly remember that back in 1932 when "reflation" was the word of the year in good Wall street circles, every time an H. E. financial wizard hurled it at the daily headlines the stock market nose dived for new and better lows. We know it sounds right soft and soothing compared to a horrid word like "inflation"; it reminds you of "relation" or "sensation" or "foundation" more than it does fifty quadrillion marks for a two cent package of matches, but it's a hoodoo, just the same. We're telling you.

SO NOW to reflate. And, gee, how we dread it. And how does one reflate, anyhow? Well, as Salmon P. Chase said in speaking of resuming specie payment, the way to resume is to resume, so probably the way to reflate is to reflate. We don't understand it, but, heck! there are lots of things happening these days that we don't understand, but we have to do 'em anyhow. R. H. L.

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

BLOOD WORMS.

A RECENT number of Hunting and Fishing contained a report of filariasis in a kennel of hunting dogs. Some died, others were made worthless, and still others were cured. When the veterinarian examined a specimen of blood he found the larvae, and he began his search for a cure. When some of the dogs died and he autopsied them he found a bundle of round worms in the heart. Eventually he found that one of the newer synthetic arsenicals was an almost perfect cure. When injected into the blood stream the worms and their larvae were destroyed and the symptoms disappeared.

The statement is made that the disease is a new one. This is an error. About thirty years ago a New Orleans pathologist presented a fine specimen of this worm to a pathologic museum located in a northern city. He accompanied the specimen with a note in which he said that a considerable proportion—perhaps 10 per cent—of the alley dogs in his city, when killed and autopsied, showed this worm in the heart cavity.

The magazine said the infection was spread by mosquitoes. The probability is that the New Orleans professor was right and that this disease is fairly widespread in North America. Nor is it limited to dogs.

That worms live in the blood stream, and even develop into a ball about one inch in diameter, and without causing any symptoms for a while, may be a source of general surprise. Some persons may feel they have no interest in the matter since they have no dogs.

There are several varieties of worms and near-worms that infest human beings. Some of these are of the family to which this dog worm belongs. In most of these the mature worm lives in a lymph vessel, or somewhere in the tissues, but the larvae or young enter the blood stream and remain there for a while. However, most of the human blood worms are not found except among people who are living in the tropics, have lived there, or have been in close contact with some one who was infected in the tropics. But it is not necessary to go to the tropics for illustrations of worms, using the term broadly, that get into the blood stream.

Trichinosis is caused by a worm which hatches in the digestive tract and then wanders into the tissues. It is spread in part by the blood vessels. There is no small amount of trichinosis among our people, though most of it is called acute rheumatism.

Hookworm enters the body through the skin, generally of the foot. It is carried by the blood stream and, finally, comes to rest in the digestive tract.

The young round worm wanders through the lungs, causing thumps and, finally, gets back into the digestive tract. The round worm is well known.

The parasite which causes African sleeping sickness belongs to the worm family. So does the parasite of syphilis. This animal is in the blood stream during the period known as the secondary stage.

Fortunately for us, the worms that get into the blood stream are not at home there, and escape into the tissues as quickly as possible. In a sense the blood has marvelous powers of self-purification.

MENINGITIS.

Mrs. H. K. writes:

1. What are the first symptoms of epidemic meningitis?
2. Is it almost always fatal?
3. What precautions can be taken to prevent a child having it?
4. Are there any cases in Boston and vicinity?

REPLY.

1. As a rule epidemic meningitis starts with the usual symptoms of onset of a contagious disease. However there is apt to be stiffness and soreness in the neck and back. Symptoms are headache, fever, rapid pulse, vomiting. The fever and pulse are a little out of line. Some cases start with deep coma, convulsions, discomfort on exposure to light, but that type of onset is unusual.
2. No. Somewhere about 75 per cent of the cases recover. If the disease be severe there may be after effects.
3. Keep out of crowds. On rainy, cold days it is better to stay indoors, provided you can keep away from people. As between a crowded, badly ventilated room and outside, the outdoors is safer regardless of sleet, snow, rain, and cold.
4. Yes. It is everywhere, especially at this season.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

Chicago, April 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it possible when owing a hotel bill of $250 to move to cheaper living quarters? We find, after having had a cut in salary, that it is impossible for us to continue here. 2. If we cannot meet our weekly bill what can they do? 3. If we were put out could they collect? J. E. T.

1. If the relationship is simply that of landlord and tenant, then the landlord has no right to hold your goods without court proceedings. If the relationship is that of innkeeper and guest then he can hold them.
2. See 1.
3. They would still be entitled to collect the rent that you owe.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

GARNISHMENT.

Oak Park, Ill., April 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I reduced my rent, although I had a lease. The owner has since sued me and obtained a judgment. I have an income from my husband from whom I am divorced and am supporting two children. The income is a court agreement. Can this income be affected in any way by this judgment? M. B.

Volume 28, Corpus Juris, section 230, is in part as follows: "Some courts hold that alimony is a debt of record and may be reached by garnishment. Other courts hold that garnishment does not lie to reach alimony, as it would obstruct the performance of a decree for the enforcement of a duty in which the public has an interest."

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

40 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 26, 1893.

CHICAGO.—Members of the legislature will cool their heels at the World's Fair grounds May 1 along with the hoi polloi. If they are in great luck they will have received their season passes admitting them to the grounds without the payment of 50 cents each, but they must take their chances with the other representatives of the nations of the earth and hustle for a good place from which to listen to the various features of the program and to watch President Cleveland press the button which starts the machinery of the fair.

Spaulding & Co. have obtained from the Spanish government a copy of the coat of arms of Christopher Columbus. It is to be reproduced in enamel, showing its colors, upon the silver passes to the fair which that firm is engraving for the members of the Veragua family.

Midway Plaisance has a new attraction. It is a Javanese baby. It is a girl and was named Chicago Cleveland Javanica by Foreman Ferrari. Andoet is the surname of the father and mother.

"The Canadian Mite," the largest cheese ever made in the world, arrived at the World's Fair grounds and was put in place. It forms a part of the Canadian dairy pyramid in the Agricultural building. Two hundred and seven thousand and two hundred pounds of milk were used in making it. The cheese itself weighs 22,000 pounds and measures twenty-eight feet in circumference by six feet in height.

The steamer Cynthiana, which arrived in New York from Gibraltar, brought a party of 274 Syrians, who will exhibit at Chicago during the World's Fair. Twelve dromedaries, forty Arabian horses, loaned by the sultan of Turkey, and seven donkeys form a part of the cargo.

The De Witt Clinton, the first locomotive built in America, and the two cars it hauled on its initial trip, carefully reproduced, will form an interesting exhibit in the Transportation building at the World's Fair.

WAR SUMMARY.—The British continued their advances along the front between Cojeul and Scarpe rivers. Repeated German attacks in an effort to recover ground lost to the French were repulsed with terrific casualties to the Germans. One division was practically wiped out by the French fire. The British forces in Mesopotamia have driven the Turks from the west bank of Shatt-el-Adhem to seventeen miles north of its junction with the Tigris. The British forces in Macedonia have advanced 500 yards along a mile front between Doiran lake and Doldzeli, near Saloniki.

CHICAGO.—Figures have been obtained by federal investigators which show that 1,184 cars of potatoes were held out of the consuming market in Chicago during the first two weeks of March. The wholesale price of potatoes yesterday ranged from $2.75 to $3.15 a bushel. This is in spite of the fact that 81,000 bushels were held in storage yesterday, where one year ago, on the same day, only 19,000 bushels were held. Yet last year the price was 80 to 85 cents.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 26, 1917.

WASHINGTON.—The selective conscription plan of choosing an army, as outlined by the war department and approved by the President and members of the general staff, probably will pass the house, in the opinion of administration leaders. The same bill will pass the senate this week, and by the latter part of next week it should be signed by the President and become a law.

WASHINGTON.—With the arrival of the French commission, including Marshal Joffre, the actual transfer of $200,000,000 as a loan to Great Britain and the formal expression by British Foreign Minister Balfour of his confidence that the United States "is going to see the war through," the events of yesterday signalized the initiation of a far reaching program of coöperation among the allies against Germany. By tonight the conferences of the British, French and American officials on all phases of the great war undertaking will be in full swing and the administration will learn in detail the service the country can give immediately in supplying food, ships and money and eventually in supplying a great army and other military resources.

FINANCING THE ORCHESTRA.

Chicago, April 21.—At the last Thursday concert of the symphony orchestra Mr. Stock made an appeal that I cannot think it possible will be denied. He said that unless the Thursday night concerts were better attended we shall have no concerts next winter. Unthinkable, isn't it? Five or six hundred additional season tickets he thought would turn the trick. I have three suggestions whereby this might be accomplished. First, that civic minded citizens who do so much for education might give season tickets to the university schools of music to be used by the students. This would serve two purposes—first, the cause of musical education, and, second, it would help to support our most important civic organization.

The second of these suggestions is the starting of the sale of season tickets early enough to enable those who wish to buy these tickets to pay for them in monthly installments, so that they would be paid for before the opening of the orchestra season. There are a great many people who would, it seems to me, avail themselves of this plan who cannot pay the whole amount at one time. Stress should, of course, be put on the tremendous saving in the price of tickets bought for the season.

Thirdly, if the Friends of Music would be as active as the Friends of Opera have proven to be it should not be a hard matter to get the extra subscriptions required.

I would also like to call attention to the fact that some subscribers seem to think that when they have bought a season ticket that is all that is required of them. They have only done part—the seats should be used, if not by them then by some one else. JOHN COLE.

UNALTERABLY OPPOSED.

Chicago, April 21.—Too recently it was "point with pride" and "view with alarm." Now our puddin' head legislators have a new one, "unalterably opposed."

Nobody but a jackass could be unalterably opposed to anything. Wise men frequently find it expedient to change their minds.

Some of these "unalterably opposed" boys are either going to change their minds [I can't help feeling that the word mind is a compliment] or go back to the sticks, though it seems that even there they do not particularly grace their respective communities. L. C. K.

INTERESTING IF TRUE DEPARTMENT.

Chicago, April 19.—It makes me laugh to hear Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor in Washington, criticize various industrial plants because they let their employés work over eight hours each day. I wonder if she is aware of the fact that the federal reserve bank right here in Chicago is employing their help up to fifteen and sixteen hours a day. This has not just happened since the bank moratorium, either.

MARGARET WEST.

SALVATION BY BREAD PUDDING.

Newport, R. I., April 20.—Add scheme for ending the depression, No. 41114. Out of the billion bushel production of wheat perhaps 30 per cent is exported or used for billposters' paste. The remaining 700,000,000 bushels are consumed in some form of human food. Of this, 50 per cent is served in public eating houses, half of which is unconsumed at the table and finds its way into bread pudding and stuffings. I propose a constitutional amendment to prevent the reserving of any article of food that has made its debut on the table. In this way, with wheat alone, 175,000,000 bushels will be withdrawn from the surplus. That there may be no waste the castoff bread may be fed to the hogs, thus displacing an equal amount of corn, which can be distilled and used in lieu of gasoline. To compensate the petroleum industry more householders should be compelled—by another constitutional amendment—to replace coal furnaces with oil burners. The coal thus displaced could be converted into coal tar dyes at the expense of importations from Hitlerland. A couple of million faithful noncivil-service boys who would help make the United States safe for democracy in 1936 could be hired as stuffing and bread pudding inspectors, which is a more gentlemanly job than planting privet hedges in the Muscle Shoals littoral—and the sucker taxpayers pay anyhow. NED ALVORD.

AGAINST 'EM ALL.

Chicago, April 21.—THE TRIBUNE is to be commended for its fight against the Anti-Saloon league a few years ago. Now go after some of the wet organizations that are becoming more and more blatant and obnoxious, even to wets. I refer especially to the Crusaders and that women's organization with the long name.

The officials of Indiana used to dance every time the Anti-Saloon league cracked the whip, and now Gov. Horner of Illinois feels constrained to dance every time the Crusaders crack the whip. The people are tired of dry organizations, damp organizations, wet, farmer, labor, or any other species of organization. Reformers are anathema to me, whether their noses are blue or red.

CHARLOTTE GROSSE.

SUBSTITUTE FOR CASE WORKERS.

Chicago, April 19.—Why must we have so many case workers in this relief work, thus adding to the cost of this tremendous burden? Why not consult the clergymen of our various churches who know the needy of their parish and who would deal honestly with the situation—and gladly give of their time? And why not enlist the aid of the precinct captain? He also knows his poor because quite often he goes into his pocket to supply their needs. And methinks a good number of the needy could be doing the case work and, in turn, drawn from the emergency fund for their support. If this trend toward case work continues, we shall soon have a social worker for every city block. M. B. X.

VISITORS TO FAIR TO SEE PART OF SCIENCE MUSEUM

Only Synthetic Coal Mine in U. S. to Be Ready.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Three sections of the old Fine Arts building, one of the glories of the 1893 World's Fair, now reconstructed permanently in Indiana limestone, will be open to the public on June 1 as the Museum of Science and Industry. It will supplement the exhibits of A Century of Progress in many ways and will have one feature which is unique in American museum exhibits, a real coal mine in operation.

A complete experience in the life of the Illinois coal miner awaits visitors to this Jackson park structure. It will be partly illusion and partly reality. The central pavilion, the north and south wings of the building, will be filled with exhibits and working models showing every phase of this industry, from the formation of coal beds to the production of perfumes and drugs as by-products.

Tipple and Fan Houses.

Towering sixty feet from the floor of the south wing is a real tipple such as one sees at the mouths of the mines in southern Illinois and in Indiana. Just beyond stands the fan house where the visitors can see the operation of blowing the 30,000 cubic feet of air per minutes required for the mine far below the surface.

A cage car large enough to carry thirty persons will take visitors from the head of the mine into the 500 foot shaft. Down near the center of the shaft the air becomes cold and the musty smell of the mine penetrates the car. At the bottom of the shaft the pumproom and the mine superintendent's office are inspected, and then the visitors are taken for a half hour trip by car through the vast workings of the mine. They go down dark tunnels upheld by pillars of coal lighted only by the lamps of the miners, twelve of whom will be working there.

Regulation Mine Train.

The latest and best in mining machinery will be in operation. A rotary dump will take full sized loaded mine cars, turn them upside down and then place them upright and empty. The trip is made on a regulation mine train consisting of an electric locomotive and two cars. The visitors leave the cars at stated points and watch the mechanical cutters saw into the low seams of coal, see the Jeffrey arc wall cutter operating in another room, the drillers at work preparing holes for the blasters, and the coal gathered in the arms of a Joy loader and placed in a car on its way to the surface.

Workmen are busy putting all this machinery in place and arranging the coal tunnels and walls. An artificial coal has been developed which defies detection and which is fireproof. A perfumer has produced a liquid which is called an earth odorant and which gives the same smell that permeates a bituminous coal mine.

Announce Exhibits to Be Ready.

Exhibits which have been prepared for other parts of the museum when it is completed will be arranged in the three sections for the exposition period. These include coal storage and handling, coal preparation, drainage and ventilation of mines, auxiliary mining tools, mine safety, analysis of coal, the geology of coal, its distribution throughout the earth, its use in manufacture and transportation, in making gas and coal tar. Press a button and work the model yourself. This is to be the method of education.

In another section will be exhibits in physics and communications, chemistry, metal working, bricks, power, agricultural machinery, textiles, forestry, printing, locomotives. An electromagnet will be demonstrated, a threshing machine and engine, and the history of the electric light will be shown in three exhibits. Motion pictures of various phases of mining will be shown in a small theater in the museum.

Dog Pays for His Shelter by Barking a Fire Alarm

Jack, a mongrel dog accepted as a steady boarder when he appeared at the back door three weeks ago, repaid his benefactors, Emil Reimann and his wife, Emma, 9806 Avenue M, early yesterday. The Reimanns were awakened by the barking of the dog shortly after fire broke out in the hall outside their second floor bedroom. Reimann summoned the fire department and the blaze was extinguished with an estimated damage of $300.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN BANKRUPT; PUTS HIS DEBTS AT $107,084

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy, filed yesterday in the United States District court in behalf of Francis X. Bushman, former moving picture star, listed as assets clothing valued at $100. The petition estimated the actor's liabilities at $107,084, of which $106,512 are unsecured by any collateral.

F. X. BUSHMAN.

A representative of the law firm of Lapkoff & Weinstein, who filed the petition, said that Bushman in 1922 was worth several million dollars, most of which was lost in a New York bank crash.

Among the 75 creditors listed in the petition and the amounts owed them are: Mrs. Josephine Bushman, the actor's first wife, $62,000; Miss Bernice Bushman, a daughter, $7,500, and Samuel F. Bushman, a brother, $15,000.

Another liability was incurred on April 15, when Superior Judge Harry B. Miller ordered Bushman to pay $3,500 to Mrs. Margaret O'Malley Brand, 300 South Hamlin avenue, to satisfy a judgment for injuries received when Bushman's auto, driven by his chauffeur, struck the woman.

Snoring Wife, Thrown from Bed, Is Granted Divorce

Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court yesterday granted Mrs. Dorothea Rosengren, 2127 South 5th avenue, Maywood, a divorce from Frank Rosengren when she testified that he threw her from bed when she snored on March 11 and March 13. Rosengren is the superintendent of the Edgewater branch of the postoffice. Mrs. Rosengren was awarded the household furniture and $400 in cash, and waived alimony. The couple were married Nov. 5, 1932, and separated March 14, 1933.

LIST 50 NAMES IN SEARCH FOR NEW U. OF I. PRESIDENT

A list of more than fifty educators from all parts of the country has been drawn up from which to choose a successor to Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase as president of the University of Illinois.

This was revealed yesterday by Edward E. Barrett of La Grange, president of the university board of trustees, whose committee on the selection of a new president of the school met yesterday with committees representing the faculty and alumni at the University club.

Representing the trustees were Mr. Barrett, Mrs. Marjorie Robbins Hopkins of Chicago, Walter Williams of Benton, and George A. Barr of Joliet. Representing the faculty were Dean Herbert W. Mumford of the college of agriculture, Dean David J. Davis of the college of medicine, Prof. A. B. Coble, and Prof. A. C. Willard.

Mr. Barrett said the committees would not diclose the names of any candidates under consideration at this time. It will be two or three months before a choice will be announced.

MILK DEALERS TOLD FARMERS SEEK PRICE RAISE

Chicago milk dealers were informed yesterday that dairy farmers who supply most of the city's milk are preparing a move for an increase in the price of their raw products.

The warning was given at a meeting in the Hotel La Salle of the sales committee representing the 18,000 members of the Pure Milk association. This conference was regarded as the forerunner of a definite price demand to be made within a few days.

Don Geyer, manager of the Pure Milk association, said the sales committee was acting on account of the economic plight of the milk producers. Large numbers of them, he said, are being forced into bankruptcy. The present country plant price paid to farmers is $1.45 a hundred pounds of milk.

It was said that the producers and distributors would watch proposed price and regulatory actions in Washington before making any further move.

EVANSTON MORON GETS 1-14 YEARS IN ROBBERY CASE

Sigmond Bukovitz, 17 years old, 1623 Greenwood street, Evanston, who has escaped 17 times from various juvenile delinquency institutions, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Rudolph F. Desort to serve one to 14 years in Joliet penitentiary, on a charge of attempted robbery. Bukovitz, who also is charged with rape, attempted rape, and robbery, was a fugitive from the Dixon state institution for mental defectives at the time of the alleged crime.

He was found guilty by a jury yesterday of the attempted robbery of Mrs. Anna Gabriel, 1502 Greenwood street, Evanston, on Dec. 30, last year.

FORFEITS $10,000 BOND ON CHARGE OF CARRYING GUN

A $10,000 bond posted by Edward Kerbeck, 32 years old, was forfeited yesterday when he failed to appear for trial before Judge Joseph A. Graber on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and possessing a shotgun with a defaced serial number.

Assistant State's Attorney Julius Sherwin asserted that the case against Kerbeck has been continued twenty-one times before ten Municipal court judges in a year. These postponements included three changes of venue. Sherwin charged the defense was "kicking the case around to avoid prosecution."

Kerbeck and seven others were arrested March 5, 1932, following a robbery in a gambling house in Barry avenue near Halsted street. A shotgun dropped from his coat when he was arrested, police said. Kerbeck was acquitted on the robbery charge. He denies carrying the shotgun.

Makes Women Lose FAT SAFE WAY

To take off unhealthy, excess fat in the SAFE way—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast. Kruschen is the SAFE, HARMLESS way to reduce, which many physicians prescribe and use in their own practice.

One jar of Kruschen that lasts 4 weeks costs but a few cents at any leading drug store. If the results from first jar don't joyfully satisfy you—money back. Of course you can hasten results by cutting down on potatoes, pastry and fat meats but no rigid diet is necessary. And please remember this: while reducing your chin—hips—thighs and ankles—you'll gain spirited activity—appealing physical charm will come to you.

• • •

Loses 7 Lbs. In Week

Miss Rea M. Haines of Dayton, writes: "I weighed 180 so started to take Kruschen. I never was so surprised as when I weighed myself the first week—I lost 7 lbs. I just bought my 2nd jar and am down to 145 and never felt better in my life."

Physician Advises Kruschen

"Since my accident I've been unable to get any exercise and realized I was getting very stout (220 lbs.). My physician advised me to take Kruschen. I did and am now down to 172 and feel fine. It has such a stimulating effect. Many thanks and may Kruschen live forever." Miss Lida Wilson, City Island, N. Y.

Reduces 57 Lbs.

Mrs. A. Roplak of So. Milwaukee, Wisc., writes: "I lost 57 lbs. by taking Kruschen and it had no ill effect on me. I did not cut down on a single food—I recommend Kruschen to everyone that is overweight.

From 192 to 169 Lbs.

"I weighed 192 when I started to take Kruschen 4 months ago. Today I am 169 and am so proud of my results—Kruschen has done wonderful work for me." Mrs. Rose Peters, Rockville, Conn.

Delighted With Kruschen Results

"I'm using Kruschen to reduce. Have taken off 50 lbs. in 6 months. Was 236. Am now 186 and intend to continue until I'm 154—my normal weight." Mrs. L. W. Pearce, Tiffin, Ohio.

BEWARE: Imitations may be offered you but your health comes first—so don't get stung—get Kruschen Salts—the ORIGINAL—the GENUINE. Safety first is the Kruschen promise.

"It's The Little Daily Dose That Does It"

DR. FELIX ADLER, PHILOSOPHER AND REFORMER, DIES

Founded Ethical Culture Society in New York.

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Dr. Felix Adler, 82, famous as a philosopher, as a civic and moral reformer, and as the founder of the Society for Ethical Culture, died last night in Mount Sinai hospital. He had undergone an operation last January for an intestinal ailment.

DR. FELIX ADLER.

Always an articulate member of the community in which he had lived for more than half a century, Dr. Adler took as active a part in the political, social, and religious life of New York as any other New Yorker.

Banished from Cornell.

Banished from Cornell university in 1876, presumably for his radical ideas, Dr. Adler was honored with an endowed chair at Columbia, a professorship of social and political ethics, in 1902. From that time on he devoted himself to a career that has been called by many one of the most noteworthy in the recent history of New York.

Born in Alzey, Germany, in 1851, Dr. Adler came here six years later when his father, Rabbi Samuel Adler, received a call to the ministry of Temple Emanu-El in Manhattan. The son was educated in private and public schools and took his A. B. at Columbia in 1870. It was decided that he should prepare himself for the Jewish ministry and so he pursued his theological studies at Berlin and Heidelberg, where he took his Ph. D. in 1873.

At 23 he succeeded his father in the ministry of Temple Emanu-El. But, as he said years later, "My heart was not in my work." He decided not to become a rabbi, going instead to Cornell, where he taught Hebrew and oriental literature.

Promotes Right Living.

Cornell proved to be inhospitable to his "radical and dangerous" ideas, and so he returned to New York in 1876 and founded the Society for Ethical Culture, which advocates the promotion of the principles of right living independent of sectarian, dogmatic, or religious views.

Dr. Adler's many books included "Creed and Duty," "The Ethics of the Political Situation," "Life and Destiny," "Marriage and Divorce," "The World Crisis and Its Meaning," and "An Ethical Philosophy of Life."

Hummell Chosen Trustee of Bankrupt Liggett Stores

Fred E. Hummel was elected trustee in bankruptcy for Liggett's Drug Stores, Inc., at a meeting of creditors yesterday before Federal Referee Garfield Charles. Federal Judge John P. Barnes ordered officers and directors who have been managing the company under court jurisdiction without a receiver to turn over the assets to Mr. Hummel. The court order provides for setting up a $75,000 reserve for payment of debts and obligations incurred since the filing of the bankruptcy petition about a month ago.

'Rattlesnake Bill,' Circus Character, Is Dead at 70

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Vassily Laren, known to his fellow employés of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus as "Rattlesnake Bill," who could spin yarns of adventure as a Cossack in the Imperial Russian army, and as a cavalryman in the American army, died of lobar pneumonia today in Bellevue hospital. Laren, who was in his seventieth year, drove to the hospital in a taxicab Monday, less than 24 hours before he died.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Back to Business

L. J. ROSENWALD URGES JEWS TO AID CHARITIES

Chicago Jews were urged to maintain their traditions and support of the needy of their race last night by Lessing J. Rosenwald, son of the late Julius Rosenwald. Mr. Rosenwald came from Philadelphia to address a meeting of workers who are raising a $1,605,000 budget to finance the program of the Jewish Charities of Chicago in 1933. The meeting was held in the Standard club.

"I beg you to continue your efforts in this enterprise," Mr. Rosenwald said. "It takes wisdom and courage in times like these to raise the funds so vitally necessary."

Workers reported that $162,000 has been raised of the extra $405,000 needed to complete the budget. A large portion of the $1,605,000 goal is expected from 6,000 regular contributors to the charities. Mrs. Samuel Alschuler, chairman of the women's division, reported that her group had raised $33,000.

Other speakers included Mrs. Felix A. Levy, Samuel A. Goldsmith, executive director of the charities; Rabbi Samuel A. Goldman of Anshe Emet congregation, and Sol Kline, president of the charities.

LIST OF 13 GIRLS IS EXPLAINED IN ALIMONY BATTLE

John F. Grigoleit, vice president of the Chatham Heating corporation, 8909 Cottage Grove avenue, denied he is a "second Brigham Young" when Attorney Joseph H. Becker, counsel for his estranged wife, Mrs. Maye Grigoleit, 7823 South Michigan avenue, accused him before Circuit Judge Craig Hood yesterday of possessing a list of thirteen women. Grigoleit maintained that he had the names of the girls as hostesses for his mother's dance pavilion, which is to open shortly in Glenwood. Judge Hood cut Grigoleit's alimony arrears from $119 to $50 and ordered him to pay within a week, after Grigoleit testified his daughter, Margaret, 18 years old, is living with him. Mrs. Grigoleit is suing for separate maintenance, charging desertion.

Will of Elgin Banker Leaves Nephew $50,000

An estate valued in excess of $250,000 is to be distributed under the will of Henry I. Bosworth, Elgin banker who died March 19. The will was filed for probate yesterday in the Circuit court at Geneva. It provides for $12,000 in bequests to Elgin welfare agencies and bequeaths the Bosworth home and $50,000 to a nephew, Walter H. Bosworth. The residue of the estate is divided among nine nephews and nieces. Mr. Bosworth was a director of the First National bank of Elgin for 57 years.

Puts Stomach Sufferer Quickly On His Feet

"Before taking your treatment, I was practically dead on my feet. Didn't care whether school kept or not. Suffered with stomach pains and gas for 15 years. Tried doctor after doctor without relief. A friend recommended Udga. Now I sleep soundly and my nerves are steady. I eat everything I want and enjoy it to the uttermost. Your medicine has put me back on my feet."

Udga Tablets, a doctor's prescription, have a world wide record of success in the treatment of gas pains, excess acid belching, bloating, pains after eating, sour stomach, constipation, heartburn, poor digestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other conditions caused by hyperacidity or faulty diet.

Why suffer when you can try this safe and harmless treatment without risk? Get a $1.00 package of Udga Tablets today. Use the entire box and then, if you are not positive that they have done more for your sick stomach than anything you ever used—return the empty box and get your money back. Ask Walgreen's for Udga today and see what a real treatment can do for your sick stomach.

FIGHTING PARSON, A.W.WISHART, DIES IN GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 25.—(AP)—The Rev. Alfred W. Wishart, pastor of the Fountain Street Baptist church here and nationally known for his militant crusades against vice and corruption, died tonight following a long illness with angina pectoris. He was 67 years old.

The exploits that won him most renown were his acquisition of a newspaper, while a pastor in Trenton, N. J., to further his campaign against vice and political conditions, and his part in solving the slaying of a prominent Grand Rapids resident in New York which sent the victim's son-in-law to the electric chair.

Dan Young, Merchant 50 Years, to Be Buried Today

Funeral services will be held this morning from St. James church in Maywood for Dan Young, 72 years old, who died Sunday at his home, 157 South 17th avenue, Maywood. Mr. Young conducted a hardware store at 2246 West Madison street for 50 years. He belonged to several business associations on the west side. His widow, Mrs. Susanna Young, and one son, Dan Jr., survive.

William J. Whinery, Tax Lawyer of Hammond, Dies

William J. Whinery, 65 years old, an attorney, died yesterday at his home, 35 Detroit street, Hammond, after a long illness. He was counsel for a group of taxpayers' associations attacking levies in Lake county, Ind. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Whinery, former Republican county vice chairman.

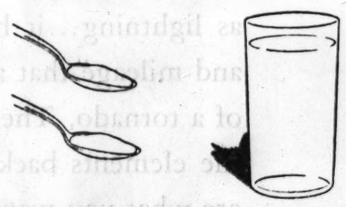
ACID STOMACH EASY NOW TO CORRECT

Just Do One Thing—That's All

THE SIGNS OF ACID STOMACH

Nervousness, Neuralgia, Indigestion, Auto-intoxication, Sour Stomach, Mouth Acidity, Nausea, Loss of Appetite, Frequent Headaches, Feeling of Weakness, Sleeplessness

WHAT TO DO FOR IT



TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

According to many authorities, some 80% of the people of today have acid stomach. This because so many foods, comprising the modern diet, are acid forming foods.

It usually makes itself felt in headaches, nausea, "gas," "biliousness," and most frequently in stomach pains that come about thirty minutes after eating. So you can easily tell if you have it.

Now Quickly and Easily Corrected

If you do have acid stomach, don't worry about it. You can correct it in a very simple manner. Just do this. It will alkalize your acid soaked stomach almost immediately. You will feel like another person.

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia with a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Neutralizes Food and Tobacco Acids a few minutes after taking.

What This Does

That's all you do. But you do it regularly, EVERY DAY, so long as you have any symptoms of distress.

This acts to neutralize the stomach acids that foster your "upset" stomach, that invite headaches and that feeling of lassitude and lost energy.

Try it. Results will amaze you. Your head will be clear. You'll forget you have a stomach.

BUT—be careful that you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy; genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "Phillips" is stamped clearly on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Sister of Thos. J. Bowler, Sanitary Board Head, Dies

Mrs. Florence Probasco, sister of Thomas J. Bowler, president of the sanitary district, died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital following an operation. She was 34 years old and lived at 2509 North Crawford avenue. Burial will be from a sister's home at 5808 Navarre avenue, Norwood Park, the time to be announced later. Mrs. Probasco's mother and two sisters also survive.

Four English Novels Arrive with Plaudits

But Critic Doubts Ratings Given Abroad.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

Four novels from England, two of the soil and two of more urban dwellers, have had and will have their meed of praise. The two of the soil, published on the same day, are interesting in their contrast, the one "economic" in its implications and the other utterly unconcerned with the economic relation of man to the soil.

MARGUERITE STEEN.

"Stallion," by Marguerite Steen [Little-Brown], comes to us trailing clouds of glory from London critics, such luminous clouds as "A holy temple built over the cesspool of D. H. Lawrence . . . pages of . . . lovely tenderness . . . fine diamond prose" and "a great book and one that will live," and "This is that rare thing, a book it is difficult to find fault with."

Perhaps it is the perverseness of human kind that, when anything is labeled perfect, immediately one sees its flaws, perhaps it is that there is little soul-stirring for American readers in the earthy English novel, and perhaps it is only because a book called "Cold Comfort Farm" was so diabolically clever a satire that, like "Captain Traprock" which made it absolutely impossible to take books about the South Seas seriously until one had forgotten the satire on it, "Cold Comfort Farm" is the book to end all books about earth-earthy passions and the pull of the soil. Anyway, for whatever reason, "Stallion" seems to me to be less than the godhead of the year's fiction. It is primarily too almost perfect in its pattern (human life doesn't usually fit into perfect grooves). It is about Ursula, a woman of the soil who saw in a clump of three trees the proper relationship of man and woman, the male tree sheltered, but given its head (so to speak) by the two female trees which bent away that the sun might bathe their master in its richness.

Ursula is a wholly "noble" character whose nobility takes unconventional form before the book is over. Her husband Jim's business in the spring is to walk the stallion from one farm to the next, and he is himself filled with the same spring urge. A gypsy girl, Tamar, makes him her man but never gives any of her real self to him, and thus drives him to a crime for which, while he bides his time in jail, Ursula does the paying. The pattern is the pattern of the three trees and of the stallion, too artificial, to my mind, to be truly great art. "Cold Comfort Farm" so brilliantly satirizes the whole earth and sex-rooted school of English fiction that to most readers so soon after reading it the "Stallion" would be an open and an already read book on the stallion motif. Perhaps "Stallion" is a great book. It seems to me the best of its type, but the type has too much of the stamp of artificial on it, for my simple fictional standards.

"Pond Hall's Progress," by H. W. Freeman [Holt], is by the author of "Joseph and His Brethren" and it tells the economic story of rural England since the war. Its hero, coming back from the war with an Italian wife (whom he wooed as a convalescent and was made to marry as a cured man) is confronted with the problem of farming with his bare hands in a community and a period when farming has lost its intensive individualism. His battle is not only with new economics but with new emotional standards, and the result is inevitable. "Pond Hall's Progress" is a serious, sound book, but without any thing to give ballyhooers for it any special ammunition.

"Unfinished Symphony," by Sylvia Thompson [Little-Brown] brings us the latest work of the author of "Hounds of Spring." It seems to me to have the same fault as "Stallion," that it is a book written to a pattern rather than the genuslike bursting of human emotion in print. The pattern of "Unfinished Symphony" is not so good — nor so unusual — as that of "Stallion," but, granted its inadequacies, "Unfinished Symphony" is a well worked out popular book. Its heroine is a girl brought up alone on an island in the Mediterranean by her father, who as a successful dramatist left civilization with a shudder, rescuing his baby girl from its clutches. Her adjustment to life and love is the theme of "Unfinished Symphony," which is, I should say, the perfect rental library novel.

"Jenny Wren," by E. H. Young [Harcourt-Brace], is the latest charming tale from the gentle pen of the author of "William" and "Miss Mole." There is something fragrant about an E. H. Young novel. There is no devastating genius in it, but there is a delightful Mrs. Gaskell-like serenity.

"Jenny Wren" is the story of a family of a mother and two daughters (Jenny, who inherits her superior father's sensibility, and her sister, who has more of her mother's buxom flamboyance), who were forced to take in lodgers after the death of the head of the family. It, too, has a little of the type pattern about it, but, since its pretenses are not to greatness but to simple charm, the reader is liable to forget the pattern in its lulling allure.

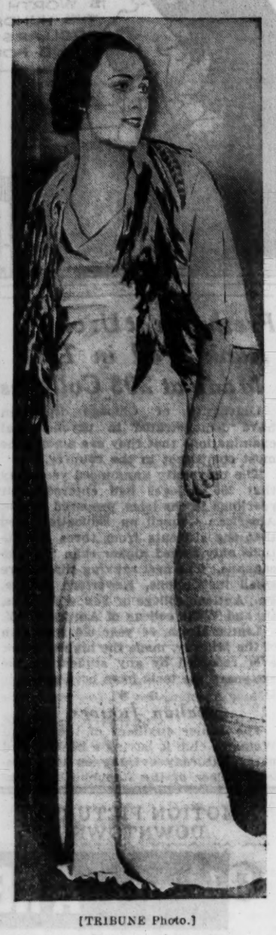
Society Women Show Smart Fashions



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Suave, clinging draperies, a deep draped cowl neckline and a long, decorative and becoming feather collar combine to make a charming dinner gown for spring. Worn by Mrs. John J. Finlay, the former Jane Scriven.

Mrs. J. Beach Clow could remove the long sleeved jacket she has on after dinner and be gowned in a lovely dance frock which is splashed generously with field flowers in gay spring colors. A nosegay of flowers duplicating the colors in the dress accents the softly draped cowl neckline on this double duty costume.

Nothing more becoming for evening wear than transparent black over white shoulders and arms ever has been discovered or invented and in this gown Miss Louise Brewer is looking her best. Silk net is used for the cape which is banded with ostrich feathers and the dress is of silk crepe.

Natural Blonds Growing Rarer, Expert Claims

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Dr. Morris M. Estrin, dermatologist, writing in one of the better known hair trade papers, says: "It seems as if we are slowly becoming a dark-headed people. Natural blonds, male and female, are becoming less frequent year after year and generation after generation, even among the blond races."

The reason for the disappearance of the blond species, Dr. Estrin admits, is not known. A suspicion, however, is fastened on the bleaching fad and the platinumizing popularity and other artificial blond measures. In any event, Dr. Estrin figures it out that only one person in 15 has blond hair.

Red hair among men is conspicuous by its absence, too, it seems. Only one man in 50 has red hair, according to our authority. The female of the flaming species is represented more widely. One woman in 16 has some shade of red hair.

Fifty percent of men and 40 per cent of our women it is claimed by the dermatologist have medium dark or medium brown hair. Twenty-five per cent of men and 30 per cent of women have dark hair—that is, dark brown to black.

How does one come by blond hair? By red, by brown, black? The color of the hair depends on the amount of pigment in and on the hair and the amount of air present in the hair, according to Dr. Estrin. If there is an excess of black pigment granules, the hair will be black. If there is a preponderance of light pigment granules, the hair will be blond. Combinations of these two produce the varying shades in between.

The natural "tow heads" or the very pale blonds have no black pigment in the hair at all. Albinos have no pigment at all in the system.

Since there is no way yet known to drive the air out from the hair, one must be contented with the color one has, unless one resorts to dye or hair coloring.

If what Dr. Estrin holds about blond shortage is true, the blonds had better take exceptional care of their locks, since their scarcity will make their preference even more pronounced.

Friendship Knot Given to Quilt World in 1861

Chap Tries to Scare Girl Into Marrying Him

BY DORIS BLAKE.

The girl says she likes the fellow. She does not love him. He tells her that if she refuses to continue going with him he'll take to drink and sink so low she will be sorry. The girl doesn't want to see the boy follow the down course. There is another young man who appeals to her and who she'll lose, she feels certain, if she continues with the first.

We'd certainly argue for letting go the life line for the weak brother. No young woman is responsible for the downward course taken by a rebuffed suitor. That's his own doing. And we claim a young man who tries to cement his hold with threats of the sort is distinctly not worth having on an acquaintance list.

Dismiss the threat as having no part or responsibility in your life, "Sue." It's a weak one's way of trying to shift his own responsibility. We are not our brother's keeper, as you must have heard tell. He alone is responsible for what he does with his life. He wouldn't be worth tying up with, anyway. Any young man who has to sell himself to a girl with threats isn't worth the shoe leather it would take to get to the license bureau.

We know women who have been wheedled into marriage on just such weak-kneed promise. They're not among the happily married couples known, however. The weakness of the male accumulates with every expected responsibility and the women are a regretful lot that they didn't use more brains about their mate choosing.

Women Learn White Elephants to Them Are 'Finds' to Others

Some Want Articles Brought to Tea Given to Boost Stock of Rummage Shop.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE four decorative birds made of crystal beads that at some previous time have decorated the dining table of Mrs. D. Mark Cummings may have become white elephants to her, but to Mrs. William J. Chalmers they are something to be desired, or so she said yesterday at the tea party Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine and Mrs. Charles W. Dempster gave at the Casino to obtain new stock for the White Elephant Rummage shop which is conducted for the benefit of the Children's Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Chalmers will have to wait, however, to purchase the birds later at the shop, for none of the donations received yesterday were sold and as soon as the last guest had departed all the white elephants were bundled into the shop's truck which had been waiting out on Delaware place most of the afternoon and were taken over to the shop on East Ohio street to be marked and added to the stock gradually.

Mrs. Chalmers wasn't the only one, either, who contributed a white elephant and who found that she liked somebody else's white elephant enough to want it for her very own, for if the committee members had wanted to they could have sold almost everything they had received right there at the Casino. Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson's passport for admission was a large cloisonné jar, a stunning thing if one had just the right place for it, and one that bore the earmarks of having cost a pretty penny; Mrs. Frank Hibbard was laden down with white elephants—a pair of shoes, 2 books, 2 ash trays, a box full of tumblers, several hats, 3 dresses, 3 pieces of lingerie, a sweater, and some playing cards; Mrs. Royal C. Vilas Jr., a recent bride, apparently had nothing of her own to cast off, so she contributed some of her husband's things, including a pair of spats and some collars and ties.

Some Guests Bring Cash.

Mrs. David W. Cook apparently has more pocketbooks now than she needs so she gave four of them to the shop. Bills of various denominations, ranging from five to fifty dollars, were the white elephants of some fortunate women, and about $300 was taken in at the tea to swell the amount to be contributed by the shop to the social service fund of the hospital.

A few of the many who were at the party and enjoyed the program of music and dancing as well as the delicious refreshments were Mrs. Bernard J. Mullaney, Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Alvin C. McCord, Mrs. Townsend McKeever, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt, Mrs. Wallace Wakem, Mrs. Frederick H. Rawson, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. Charles G. Le Forgee, Mrs. Edward A. Weltons Leave Today for Wedding

Today Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dorman Welton of Bellevue place are leaving by motor with their son, Arthur Dorman Welton Jr., for Baltimore. They will arrive just in time for a tea, a bridal dinner, and a rehearsal that are to precede young Mr. Welton's marriage to Miss Juliet Gover Streett Earle at 1 o'clock Saturday in St. David's Protestant Episcopal church. Miss Earle is the daughter of Swepson Earle of the eastern city.

Mrs. Welton is to be the special guest at the tea Friday afternoon which is being given by Mrs. E. A. Johnston at the Baltimore Country club. Another guest will be Mrs. Percy Rockefeller of New York City. After the wedding rehearsal which is to follow the tea Mr. and Mrs. Hope H. Barroll II. [Mrs. Barroll is a member of the bridal party] are having a buffet supper for the betrothed couple at the Roland Park home of Mrs. Barroll's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Maselin.

The wedding on Saturday will be followed by a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and the immediate families at the Woman's club of Roland Park.

Mr. Welton is having only two of his Chicago friends as ushers, Thomas Underwood and James M. Hopkins Jr. They are going east by train tomorrow. And on the same train will be Mr. Underwood's parents, the Thomas I. Underwoods, and the Harold Beacoms, only recently returned from a European holiday.

Mr. Welton and his bride are to spend their honeymoon in Bermuda.

Good morning!

Why are children streaming into the Majestic theater this week? I can tell you. Quin Ryan's "Scalawags" are appearing there in person.

There on the stage are Jean and Donny Dreamer and Wishbone, showing just how they do things before the "mike" in the W-G-N studio every evening at 6 o'clock. You learn what makes the storm storm, the horses' hoofs clatter, the door creak. The children read one of their clever little sketches—a "western"—that brings in all the various realistic noises which come over the air.

After the play's been read Wishbone clogs a bit—and that's all. And HOW youngsters and the grownups with them did enjoy the little show the other afternoon. I think we were all disappointed not to see Uncle Quin—Quin's manager of W-G-N, you know, and of course he has to stay on the job.

The picture—"West of Singapore"—is a program melodrama with plot of ancient vintage. The tale depicts an Englishman having a difficult time between his oil refining tribulations and his women folk. Weldon Heyburn plays the hero commendably.

Nice to see Betty Compson again! Margaret Lindsay gives a good account of herself as a crisp English girl. Noel Madison is slimy as a false friend, and other rôles are capably handled. None of them are burdened with opportunity for their interpreters. Sound, photography, sets are all right.

See you tomorrow.

Drs. George W. Crile, J. B. Collip Will Talk to Medical Society

Two medical scientists, Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland and Dr. J. B. Collip of McGill university, Montreal, will lecture before a special meeting of the Chicago Medical society at 8 o'clock tonight in the Medical and Dental Arts building at 185 North Wabash avenue.

The physicians will describe their most recent researches into new uses for the endocrine glands. Dr. Crile, director of the Cleveland Clinic foundation, will discuss the treatment of goiter and certain nervous ailments by denervation of the adrenal glands.

Dr. Collip, noted for his work in purifying insulin and making it generally available for the treatment of diabetes, will explain new uses for the anterior pituitary hormone in treating human ailments. He is professor of biochemistry and pathological chemistry at McGill university.

Bright Spring Styles Cheer Busy Shopper

Greatest Days of Fashion World Arrive.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Wandering shoppers, during the last few days, have that completely dazed but happy appearance. . . . They saunter in and out of stores and shops; they have bundles, parcels, bags and small packages they, for the first time in many weeks, shift their fur pieces further back around their necks, coats are flapping merrily in the breeze and the great drive is on. Spring clothes, crisp prints, quantities of bright new gloves and handbags, all sorts of gay and giddy hats, and even gawdier blouses, are the surest signs of spring that any doubting person could want for proof.

In spite of warm breezes that slow the procession down a bit there is lots of excitement wherever you shop. . . . Beauty salons are filled to capacity with long locked bobs disappearing under the scissors . . . everything humming with spring action. In the millinery departments spring has settled with wide brimmed hats that are the last arrivals . . . stunning looking smooth straws trimmed with lovely feminine bows, rosettes, and even frills of chalk white organdie.

These are the hats that you pull over your eyes when you wear the colorful silk suits of print or the clever one piece dresses of prints and printed and plain combinations. There has been an unusual flurry in red hats, knockout red affairs, also with brims, that will do grand things for either simple prints or dark silks.

And at last the first white organdie berets and matching scarfs have been unpacked . . . and they are something to really write home about. If at first you had your doubts as to what these organdie creations would look like, and imagined rather slimsy, thin things that would look limp and weary after a couple of shopping hours, you are due for a surprise. The newest berets are tucked with tiny pin tucks, in effective formations that trim as well as hold the entire hat stiff and wearable. . . . Some of them are cut and sewed together in intricate get-togethers, fashioned as skillfully and as knowingly as any fabric or silk creation.

White piqué has practically inundated the town. . . . You see it everywhere, in new high hats, in snug little sailors with narrow brims, in wide floppy brims and moderately sized models . . . and inevitably, wherever there is a hat, there is a matching scarf, or bow, or collar, or tailored ruff, to go places with the top piece.

If this snowstorm of white accessories continues it augurs well for soap manufacturers . . . for every bit of the crisp chic of contrasting white costume accents is totally lost unless it is spotlessly perfect.

Some new dotted crêpe handbags have been unpacked . . . red with white, brown, black and blue, spattered with cool white spots . . . all of them typically spring, and quite irresistible because of the modest price tags.

The Changeling Bride

By Martha Ostenso

SYNOPSIS.

The Hendersons—Meryl and Margaret, sisters; Flint, their older brother, and Andrew, the father—have lived for twelve years in poverty in a fishing settlement on the shores of Lake Superior, after losing their fortune in Chicago. Great-Aunt Letitia, formerly dean of a girls' school in Ohio, is the liaison between the Hendersons and a cultured past. Flint and his friend, Ned Bremner, hope to build up a great export business. A forest fire brings Blake Lawrence, injured and lost, to the Henderson cottage. There were two great names in nearby Agate Bay and its environs—Lawrence and Greer. When Blake returns to Agate Bay he takes Meryl with him to be his bride. Meryl learns, after the wedding ceremony through Lucia, a snobbish cousin of the Lawrences, that Blake married her as an escape from Christine, the wife of Julius Greer, with whom he had been in love. Meryl prepares to return home. Theresa, Blake's sister, persuades her to stay for six months, for Blake's sake, whom she still loves, and not to hurt her people. Theresa promises to teach her social service work. Greer at one time saved the Lawrence fortune and Blake feels honor bound not to interfere with the crooked schemes he knows Greer is engaged in. Meryl believes Blake won't fight Greer because of Christine. Greer causes the death of Ole Palka, an old friend and neighbor of the Hendersons. Theresa and Meryl go to New York to attend a charity conference. Blake's separation from Meryl makes him realize he is in love with her, though he thinks Meryl is now interested in his friend, Cy Granville, whom Meryl has met in New York. Meryl returns home with a determination to fight Greer herself, with the aid of Cy. Meryl learns, through one of her charity calls, that Blake's business partner is allied with Greer.

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.

DOUBLE CROSSED.

"No, no! You must not speak to Anton," Mrs. Ascewicz warned Meryl anxiously. "Anton good man—maybe he throw Steve out. Anton would fight. Steve good man, too. But he get no work. He go employment bureau. Thees Englis he see him—t'ree, four time—before he give him job just signing paper and writing check. Steve, he write good."

"I'm sure he goes," Meryl observed absently.

She felt heart stick. Did Blake know that Fred Inglis was helping Greer in his infamous scheme? She would not believe it! It was almost impossible to believe that Blake could be double crossed in this shabby way by his own partner!

"You expect Steve to meet Mr. Inglis here this afternoon?" she asked.

"Steve say to make you go 'way before t'ree o'clock," the Polish woman replied plaintively. "He come then with Mr. Englis."

Meryl had been thinking rapidly. She could stay and confront Inglis. But it would be unwise to make a scene here in the house with Mrs.

Meryl saw Fred Inglis enter the Ascewicz home.

Ascewicz ill. And in any case, it was a matter for Blake to handle. He must be put at once in possession of the facts. And yet, she must be sure of her ground. She decided that she must know beyond a shadow of a doubt that it was, indeed, Fred Inglis who was dealing with Steve Pulaski.

"Don't worry about this Mrs. Ascewicz," she said soothingly. "I'll look into the thing, and I'll let you know about it. Don't tell Steve you told me."

She patted the woman's hand and left at once.

From the doorway of the grocery store across the street, ten minutes later, she saw Fred Inglis enter the Ascewicz home with Steve Pulaski.

For a moment she considered what she must do. Above all was her desire to rush at once to Blake and tell him what she had discovered. But Cy had warned her against that—and perhaps Cy was right. She would telephone Cy at once, in the hope that he might have gone back to his hotel. But Cy's room was empty and he was not to be found anywhere in the lobby. She telephoned the Community house only to learn that Theresa was out on a case.

Finally, in sheer desperation, she telephoned Blake's office. His secretary admitted that Blake was in his office, but was in conference for the moment—if there was any message—he had asked not to be disturbed——

"But I've simply got to speak to him!" Meryl interrupted the girl. "It's very important."

Presently Blake's voice sounded on the telephone.

"I'm awfully sorry to disturbe you, Blake," she apologized, "but I've got to see you at once."

His voice was maddeningly cool. Couldn't she wait until dinner time?

"I can't wait another minute, Blake!" she assured him and then bethought herself. "You haven't heard from Cy, have you?"

She could hear his chuckle before he replied. "Weren't you out to luncheon with him?"

"Of course, but I want to see him as quickly as I can. I have some very important news for him."

There was an interminable pause at the other end of the line.

"Blake—please!"

"As a matter of fact, Cy is sitting here in my office right now," Blake confessed at last.

"Hold him there until I come. Tell him I've got what we want. I'm taking a taxi. I'll be about twenty minutes."

She banged the receiver into place and hurried to the street.

Blake had left a message at the hotel earlier in the day asking Cy Granville to call at the office as soon after lunch as possible. The message had not reached Cy until he had gone back to his hotel after leaving Meryl. But he had lost no time in answering the summons. He found Blake ready to receive him, and heard him instruct his secretary to see to it that he was not disturbed until he had finished with the business he had on hand.

"I have brought you here, Cy," Blake told him as soon as they were settled and the door closed behind the retiring secretary, "because I have something to say which I want you to hear—before I tell it to any one else."

"I don't understand why you should pick on me, Blake," Cy observed. "But I'm willing to listen."

"Have a drink first," Blake suggested, and opened a drawer of his desk. When the formalities were over, he stretched himself in his chair and lighted a cigaret.

"You and I have understood each other from the first, Cy," he continued. "I mean, of course, the opposite positions we have held with regard to the Greer deal."

"I have offered very little criticism of your position, Blake," Cy replied, "and what I have had to say, I have said to you."

"I know it. We need not go into that. My sympathies have been with you from the first and you've known that."

"I think so."

"There is an angle to it," Blake went on, a little more hesitant, "which I do not intend to discuss with any one but you. In fact, I merely want to mention it. It calls for no discussion. It's Meryl."

Cy shifted uncomfortably in his chair. "Well?"

"We have not been making a go of it, Cy," Blake confessed frankly. "I never did anything more unfair in my life than I did when I picked that little girl up and carried her off bodily to the courthouse in Agate Bay."

"On the other hand, old man, you probably never did a wiser thing," Cy argued.

"I might almost grant that—if it were not for the fact that we have lived in a perfect hell for six months. I can't go on with it—and I can't ask her to go on with it."

"You can hardly expect to become perfectly adjusted in six months," Cy ventured. "I should think——"

"It isn't a question of adjustment, Cy. I'm the responsible party—and six months is too long for a man of any self-respect to waste fighting out his own battles—with himself and his own rotten pride."

"If that's all there is to it——" Cy began.

"A man has to come clean—when he comes to a girl like Meryl," Blake put in quickly. "I didn't realize that six months ago—but I have realized it ever since. I never knew I could love any one as much as I love that girl. But two things have made it impossible for me to go to her with a clear conscience. In one of them I have been a cad. But that's all washed up now and we needn't say anything more about it. In the other, I have been a proper damned fool—and a coward. That's what I want to tell you about."

"Well, you're not exactly sparing yourself, are you?" Cy grinned.

"For years I have wanted to throw in with you and help you prevent the destruction that Julius Greer has been planning in the Lake country. I haven't had the guts to do it. That's a fact! And I've gone about like a whipped dog until I can't stand it any longer."

Joan Blondell Gives Up Tour to Go Fishing

Accompanies Husband on Short Vacation.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., April 25.—[Special.]—Joan Blondell was all set for a personal appearance tour through the east when her husband, George Barnes, cameraman, got a chance to take a vacation and desired to go fishing. So Joan gave up the personal appearances and the money involved and proved herself a sportswoman as well as a wife by leaving with George for Oregon to fish for a couple of weeks.

Sally and the little girl became so attached to each other that both became quite tearful at the mere idea of being separated for any length of time.

When Charles R. Rogers, producer pho puts out his individual films at Paramount studio, comes back from New York, he probably will use Victor McLaglen and Eddie Lowe in a revival of their Captain Flagg and Sergeant Quirt soldier adventures, to be called "No More Women." They will play members of the American border patrol.

Paramount has signed Richard Cromwell for the next Cecil De Mille film, "Battle Cry," a Bart Cormack original.

MINUTE MYSTERY

BY H. A. RIPLEY

(Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.)

GANG MASSACRE.

With a sigh Prof. Fordney continued his examination of the bullets. That morning the most horrible gang massacre in American history had been perpetrated. Eight men had been lined up in a garage and mowed down with machine gun, revolver bullets and shotgun slugs.

Only one person had been found who knew anything about it—a thoroughly reliable woman. She informed the police that she had seen a car with four men draw up to the garage opposite her house. Three men, two in police uniform, entered it—the fourth remaining at the wheel. In a few seconds a number of shots were heard and in less than two minutes the three came out and drove off. They all wore overcoats.

Fordney had arrived with the police and after carefully inspecting the gruesome scene accompanied the coroner to the morgue where the bullets and slugs were extracted from the bodies and turned over to him. Each of the victims had three or four revolver and many machine gun bullets, as well as a number of shotgun slugs in them. They had been literally riddled!

"Here's how it must have happened, Joe," said Inspector Kelley, later reconstructing the crime. "Those three men bluffed the gangsters that they were police—lined them up and gave them the works! Afterwards . . ."

"Come now, Jim," interrupted the professor. "Think for a moment . . ."

"Why—by Gad, Joe, you're right!" exploded the inspector. "Why didn't I see it before? I'll change our whole investigation at once!"

HOW DID FORDNEY KNOW KELLEY'S RECONSTRUCTION WAS WRONG?

Events on the Stage

"Yoshe Kalb," Maurice Schwartz's impressive dramatization of I. J. Singer's Yiddish novel, now at the Apollo theater, will end its Chicago engagement with next Sunday night's performance, and will then move eastward to continue its tour. Next fall the company will return to its home theater in New York, where it has acted "Yoshe Kalb" for eight months, to give a supplementary engagement. Matinee performances will be given at the Apollo today, Saturday, and Sunday.

"Hi-Dee-Ho," a Negro revue with Jules Bledsoe, well known baritone, as its star, will probably follow "Yoshe Kalb" at the Apollo. At any rate arrangements have been made for a spring engagement in Chicago, at one of the Shubert theaters. The entertainment is now in the last phase of a successful engagement in Boston.

"Leonardo da Vinci" is now in performance at the Goodman theater by the senior students of the School of Acting. The play was written by Maurice Gnesin, director of the school, and deals with the career of the painter of the "Mona Lisa," depicting him as an arrogant and blustering genius in his prime and a remorseful graybeard, mourning over his rejection of Lisa's love in his old age.

The stage settings, designed and painted in the Goodman's workshops, reflect high credit upon this phase of the school's activities. They have art theater value. The cast for "Leonardo" seems to contain some promising material for the professional stage. The play itself is ineffectual and only one of its six scenes comes to life with dramatic interest.

Walter Hampden's schedule for his week at the Grand Opera house, beginning Sunday, May 7, assigns five performances to "Caponsacchi" and three to "Hamlet." The latter will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Saturday afternoon.

Freshmen at U. of C. Rank Well in Tests Made at 205 Colleges

University of Chicago freshmen have demonstrated in psychological examinations that they are among the most competent in the country.

The university announced yesterday that 205 colleges had entered their yearlings in the tests, prepared by the American Council on Education, and that the students from three institutions only scored higher than the Chicagoans. The first ranking three were small institutions, Haverford college, Pa.; Antioch college of Yellow Springs, O., and Wells college of Aurora, N. Y.

Linton Keith, 36 year old freshman of the Midway, made the highest score ever recorded by any student in the six years the tests have been given.

Women Desire Them for Own Homes.

Upon their return to Chicago they will make their home at 45 Bellevue place, next door to the senior Weltons' home. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Welton are motoring to New York for a week's visit with friends.

Isobel Pirie Becomes Bride

Miss Margaret Noyes of Evanston was the bride's only attendant yesterday at the marriage of Miss Isobel Pirie, daughter of Samuel Carson Pirie of Sea Cliff, N. Y., to Benjamin Davis Williams of Baltimore. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's father, Craig Varra, at Sea Cliff, in the presence of about a hundred relatives and close friends, the Rev. Norman Nash of Cambridge, Mass., officiating.

The bride, a granddaughter of the late John T. Pirie, Chicago pioneer merchant, wore her mother's wedding gown and veil, and Miss Noyes wore a green organdy gown that was a part of the late Mrs. Pirie's trousseau. Rodney W. Williams of New York was best man for his cousin, and ushering were the bride's brothers, Samuel Carson Pirie Jr., John T., and Lockwood Pirie, all of Chicago; H. Benthall Marshall, Robert McLean, Lawrence Simmonds, A. Preston Petre, and Joseph A. W. Iglehart, all of Baltimore; Barry E. B. Hall of Middleburg, Va., and Thomas E. Shryock Jr. of Radnor, Pa.

One of the most interesting guests at the wedding was the bride's great-aunt, Miss Margaret Carson, who celebrated her one hundredth birthday on March 16. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will live in Towson, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Carson Pirie Jr., who are in the throes of moving from an apartment at 40 West Schiller street to Highland Park, and the John T. Piries, who live in Glencoe, will return on Saturday. Lockwood Pirie, who is a bachelor, probably will return at the same time.

Banquet Tonight of Bates Settlement

Two hundred boys are to have the time of their lives tonight and so are a dozen or more prominent Gold Coast residents. The men's and women's boards of the Eli Bates settlement are having their annual athletic banquet for the young men who take their exercise and some of their instruction at the Elm street settlement house. There is to be a health talk, music, and games.

Clay Judson will be one of the hosts and so will Robert Doyle, Wesley M. Dixon, and William Spencer. The women's board will be represented by Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Spencer, and Mrs. William McCormick Blair, among others.

The Cradle society announces that at 11 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. William B. Johnson, 202 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston, Dr. Horace J. Bridges will give the second of his course of lectures for the benefit of the Cradle society. His subject will be "Chancellor Hitler and the German Jews."

Mrs. Patterson Here for Day

Two interesting visitors who will arrive in the city this afternoon are Mrs. Eleanor Patterson and her daughter, Princess Felicia Gizycka. Mrs. Robert R. McCormick is asking a few of Mrs. Patterson's old friends to have dinner with her tonight at the Astor street residence of Col. and Mrs. McCormick, and at 10:30 Mrs. Patterson and her daughter will be off in their private car for—somewhere, Mrs. McCormick did not know where yesterday.

As Miss Alice Gerstenberg is the "member for drama" of the Originalists group and it was her turn to do something about their monthly meeting, she invited them all to a preview of her play "Sentience" tonight at the Arts club.

The first performance of "Return to Folly," a three act drama of contemporary life, was given last evening at the Durand Art institute at Lake Forest college. Actors in the cast included Roberta Thorne Ellis, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin and Mary Faith Wilson. The première was witnessed by an audience of 450.

Society Attends Polo Match

Society filled the boxes and there were many smaller parties scattered throughout the stands at the polo games at the 124th Field Artillery armory last night.

Lieut. George S. Smith, aide to Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, was host to a party in Gen. Parker's box. In the party were Mrs. Smith, Col. and Mrs. James M. Graham, Mrs. Charles A. Thuis, Mrs. Edward V. Mason, and Capt. and Mrs. John B. Bellinger.

To the left of the official box there were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bering with the Hampton Winstons, Gilbert Scribner, and Maj. Frederic McLaughlin. It was hard for Maj. McLaughlin to make up his mind last night between the polo game and the Lake Forest première of Harlan Ware's comedy "Return to Folly" in which Mrs. McLaughlin is starring. After due deliberation, however, he cast his vote in favor of the game.

Miss Dorothy Marshall was stunning in a mustard wool suit and a matching hat. Miss Marshall was with her father, Benjamin H. Marshall, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Brashears.

There was another box party made up of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp and Miss Edna Doering. And still others were George Bates with Mr. and Mrs. Thurman S. Robinson, Miss Eunice Anne Schmidt and Charles Robins; and "Chip" Gibbs, John Goodwillie, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes, and Herbert Lorber.

Miss Narcissa Swift was in the west stand and Miss Louise Neff, smart in a gray costume, was with a gay young party at the north end.

Paulist Choir Concert May 2

A musical treat in store is the annual concert of the Paulist choristers on May 2 in Orchestra hall under the direction of the Rev. Eugene F. O'Malley. This will be the 29th concert of the choir. The program will be dedicated to A Century of Progress, and Rufus C. Dawes, president of the fair; Mrs. Dawes and other officials will be guests.

Among those who have taken boxes are the Edward A. Cudahys, the Joseph M. Cudahys, the Stuyvesant Peabodys, Mrs. Edward Hines, Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, Mrs. Henry A. Blair, Mrs. Edward F. Carry, the Vaughan C. Spauldings, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hamill, the Henry Bartholomays, the David F. Bremners and Mrs. Daniel E. McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence Plamondon are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter, for whom her father has chosen the charming name of Diane.

Another baby girl born at the same hospital Monday afternoon is the John M. Ashenhurst's third child.

Engaged

CATHERINE CHINIQUY.

[De Don Ceramic Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chiniquy of River Forest announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Marcia, to Thomas B. Conlon, son of the Walter J. Conlons of Oak Park. Miss Chiniquy is a graduate of Choate school in Brookline, Mass., and attended Mills college in California. No date has been set for the wedding.

BY MARY MEADE.

Tongues are wagging all over town—beef tongues, calf tongues, lamb tongues, etc. It's only a shame that they aren't a bit more articulate waggers. For what they are really trying to tell us is that there is a whole realm of tongue cookery yet unexplored by most kitcheneers that it would be a wise idea for us to investigate.

For a tongue is just about as versatile and adaptable a meat cut as any we enjoy. It is boneless, except for a few odd, porous bones which are sometimes left on at the base or throat end. At this end, too, we are likely to find the muscle fibers quite sturdy. But the main part of a tongue, if rightly cooked, is so free from connective tissues and heavy muscles that it can be cut—almost mashed—with a fork. Any one of the four kinds of tongue—and that includes the ox tongue as well—may be cooked in water, corned, baked, smoked, or pickled. And after it has passed through one of these processes, there is an endless array of tempting concoctions in which it may be served up.

TONGUE OMELET.

Beat 5 eggs until frothy. Add 2 tablespoons of milk, salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon of minced parsley, and, finally, ¼ cup chopped, cooked tongue. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a frying pan and when hot, pour in the omelet mixture. Let it cook over a medium fire, raising it from the sides occasionally to allow the uncooked portion to run underneath. When your omelet is nearly firm on top, place it in a quick oven to brown. Fold and serve with an accompaniment of horseradish cream, tomato sauce, raisin sauce, or currant jelly.

These last named additions to good tongue flavor, by the way, make top notch running companions for tongue in almost any form in which it appears. Next, tomatoes, onions and beets the tongue enthusiasts among the vegetables. And potatoes au gratin, creamed or escalloped are the proper also-rans in the starchy foods.

TONGUE IN JELLY.

All you need is 1 medium sized beef tongue and ½ box of granulated gelatin. Simply boil the tongue in salted water—about 2 hours. Remove the skin and press the meat into a brick shaped mold. Take 2 cups of the hot tongue liquor, dissolve the gelatin in it and pour the mixture around the tongue in the mold. Chill until the gelatin is set and serve in slices.

In almost any dish calling for tongue, either fresh, smoked, or pickled tongue from the pork, mutton, or beef animal may be used. Pickled tongue may be a bit too salty and will need to be soaked in cold water a few hours. Smoked tongue should be left in water over night. Likewise two hours baking will rid a fresh tongue of any mucous which may still be on it.

ROASTED CALVES' TONGUE.

This makes a delicious dish served with fresh vegetables and tart currant jelly. Simply boil the tongue just until the skin will strip off. Run lardoons of salt pork through the tongue and roast in a moderately slow oven [325 degrees F.] for one hour, basting with some of the tongue stock mixed with a little butter and a tablespoon of chopped onion. Ten minutes before the tongues are roasted tender, sprinkle them with buttered crumbs, raise the heat and brown well. Now move the tongues to a hot platter and make gravy in the pan with a little more stock, seasoning, and flour. Add 2 teaspoons of vinegar to the gravy, and when hot, serve up as a companion for the roast tongues.

FRIED TONGUE.

Boiled tongue spells Sunday night supper when served cold and sliced. But if you want it hot and whole, boil it as usual, then brown in a frying pan and serve with gravy made by adding stock, meat extract, seasoning, flour, and a little lemon juice to the pan.

Child Often Confused by Adult's Rules

Conflicting Commands Puzzle Him.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

"She's so bad!" said the young mother. "She took one of my best teacups from the table and banged it on the floor until it broke."

If we could only cut out those words "good" and "bad" in our handling of little children we'd be much more successful and our children would be much happier. What can a little boy or girl around 2 or 3 or 4 know about "goodness" and "badness"? They know that some things they do bring disapproval and other things bring approval. And they learn—laboriously—to try to do those things that do not bring scoldings, or perhaps slapped hands or even spankings.

Now what really did happen that this mother described as bad? What did the little girl do who is mentioned above? She took a cup from a tea table and banged it on the floor until it broke. But that same little girl, when she's in the kitchen, is allowed to play with the pots and pans and covers and to bang them around. How could she tell the difference between, say, an aluminum cup, that makes a nice sound when banged on the floor and brings a smile to her mother's face, and a china cup which when banged makes a much nicer crash? Why should the second happening bring scolding or a spank? These things are confusing to children.

Children, even when very little, can be made to understand much more than we give them credit for. The little girl who broke the cup could have been told that the things in the kitchen could be played with, but that her mother didn't want her to play with the china because she liked it and needed it and didn't want it broken.

Of course, when children are very, very little—just beginning to feel the thrill of using their muscles and experimenting with their sense of touch, even reasons won't avail. They are too young. It is up to us to do the managing then and to keep them out of what we call mischief, or to handle them intelligently when damage is done.

But at a surprisingly early age a little child can understand. Without slaps or scoldings he can be carried along through the age of handle and touch if we do our part well.

Some suggestions as to how to accomplish this are contained in our leaflet, "Don't Touch," which will be sent on receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope.

French Coats Wearing Their Sleeves Short

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Coats have gone short sleeved by a big majority. There's no regulation length, however. Any sleeve that isn't full length is okay. Vionnet shows lots of coats with elbow length bell sleeves. Lanvin likes them anywhere from elbow length to three-quarters. Chanel rolls hers up to varying degrees of shortness, and so on.

Coat collars, too, diminish, and just as often as not are left off altogether. The coat is something that isn't going to be burdensome, even in hot weather.

Paris particularly likes the coat that isn't full length, that has short sleeves, and that has a collar reduced to its least pretentious proportions. The Marcel Rochas coat in our sketch is the favorite kind. The fact that it is pale gray in color and worn over a darker dress is another style point.

This coat is made of ribbed wool, with ribs in drunken lines, not straight. It is as straight and uncomplicated as a nightgown, with short, kimono sleeves to which are sewed hour glass circular ruffles, held in the middle by padded rolls of the goods. These eke out the sleeve length to the elbows. The long sleeves of the black dress show frankly.

The neckline of this coat is round and close to the neck. A series of cloth loops hold the narrow twisted cloth ties that have black wooden gadgets at the ends.

Rural Pastors Park Flivvers; Use Old Dobbin

Country Church Problems Told at Conference.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The country pastor's flivver has rattled its last and its place has been taken by horse and saddle bags of pioneer circuit rider days.

This was disclosed yesterday at Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston, where country pastors and church leaders from five central west states are meeting for a three day town and country conference.

So far as money is concerned the pastors report that they are poverty stricken because their flocks have no money. But because there is a surplus of foodstuffs and also as a result of the return of primitive barter and exchange, the pastor is getting on about as well as he ever did. Prof. Murray H. Leffler of the department of sociology at Garrett, has been obtaining reports from agricultural areas of the west in anticipation of the present conference.

While there is ample food on the farms, Prof. Leffler pointed out, the money poverty of the rural areas presents several acute social problems. The chief of these is the result of postponed marriages of younger people. Couples desire to be married, but they have no money. As a result marriages are postponed for long periods. This, said Prof. Leffler, leads to broken morale among the younger folks and often to a breakdown of moral codes.

As the money famine increased, pastors reported to Prof. Leffler that they had no money to buy gasoline or rail transportation. In a number of cases pastors have cut down the trees in the parsonage yard for fuel. Many, he said, are burning candles while others are riding horseback on their pastoral calls. Even church support has become a matter of barter, said Prof. Leffler.

The barter system is now being made useful toward the maintenance of Garrett Biblical institute, Prof. Leffler explained. The seminary, he said, is partly supported by general contributions. With the disappearance of cash, he explained that pastors are now collecting nonperishable food stuffs from rural members which is shipped to Evanston where the seminary credits contributing churches with the donations.

A FRIEND IN NEED

If you are in need, perhaps I can help you. If you have household articles or clothing you can no longer use, please tell me. I can place such things with needy families. Address Sally Joy Brown, The Tribune, Chicago.

Would Borrow Shorthand Books.

"Dear Madam: After two and one-half years of unemployment I have just secured work. It is necessary that I learn shorthand within two months, and I want to ask the help of your readers. Could any one lend me a set of books on either the Pitman or the Graham system? I would return them as soon as possible. May I beg your help? H. J. N."

Request for Baby Clothing.

"Dear Sally Joy Brown: I wonder if you can help me. My husband hasn't worked for 3 years. We have 5 small children and I am expecting a baby in May and I have absolutely no clothing for the newcomer. Mrs. E. H."

JAPS ANNOUNCE PLAN TO SEIZE NORTHERN CHINA

Drive Is Opened to Clear Area of Defenders.

PEIPING, China, April 25.—(AP)—A general attack south of the Great Wall was launched today by the Japanese with the intention of clearing the area of Chinese troops.

The Japanese military command, saying that it had "lost patience as a result of continued Chinese attacks" near Kupeikow pass on the road to Peiping, declared its expectation of occupying soon the strategic points in the North China area.

The new offensive, which follows heavy fighting over the week-end near Kupeikow, would seek to open the way to Peiping. The Chinese announced that they were holding their positions near the wall.

Manchukuo Shuts Open Door.

TOKIO, April 25.—(AP)—Tokuzo Komai, privy councilor for Manchukuo, said today that reciprocity by other nations was presupposed in the Manchukuo government's promise of an open door trade policy.

Only countries recognizing Manchukuo would be benefited by the policy, the councilor said. He added that, although the principle of reciprocity between nations would generally follow recognition, foreigners doing business in the state which show friendliness to the Changchun régime will be given special facilities and treatment.

Recall Japan's Stand.

When Japan recognized the Manchukuo government in September, 1932, Foreign Minister Hsieh Chieh-hsih said that if any of the world powers doubted Manchukuo's intention of maintaining the principle of the open door and fulfilling its international obligations it behooved those powers to follow Japan's example of recognition and to conclude treaties with the Changchun government.

JAPANESE CLAIM KIDNAPED YANK IS NEAR FREEDOM

MUKDEN, Manchuria, April 26 (Wednesday).—(AP)—Japanese authorities said today that negotiations looking toward the release of Dr. Niels Nielsen, kidnaped American missionary, were progressing favorably, warranting hopes he might be freed within a week.

Dr. Nielsen, a native of Minneapolis, Minn., was kidnaped about two weeks ago.

3 Britons Reported Alive.

NEWCHWANG, Manchuria, April 26 (Wednesday).—(AP)—The British consul here today received a letter from Chinese bandits holding three British officers whom they kidnaped from a British merchantman on March 29. The letter said the captives were alive and in no immediate danger.

FIRST AIR SHOW TICKETS SOLD

Sale Begins Today

President Emmett Whealan of the Cook county board and Commissioner William Busse yesterday bought the first two tickets to the American air races, to be staged at Chicago airport on July 1, 2, 3, and 4 under the sponsorship of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Tickets will be placed on sale this morning.

Earl M. Harvey, director of ticket sales for the air races, announced that general admission tickets will sell for 50 cents in advance of the races and 75 cents at the gate. Grandstand seats will be sold for $1.25 in advance of the races and $1.75 at the gate. Reserved seats will be sold for $1.75 in advance of the races and $2.50 at the gate. Boxes, containing six seats each, will be sold only in advance of the races at $25 a box per day.

"Free parking will be provided for all who buy their tickets in advance of the races and preferred parking area is reserved for the purchasers of box seats," Harvey said. Tickets will be on sale today at THE TRIBUNE Public Service offices at 1 South Dearborn street, in the lobby of TRIBUNE Tower, in room 222 of Hotel Sherman, and at 139 North Clark street.

The aviation committee of the Association of Commerce, of which George B. Foster is chairman, heard Maj. R. W. Schroeder, director of events of the air races, describe them yesterday and voted unanimously to support the charitable project.

THREE CONFESS SLAYING CASHIER IN BANK ROBBERY

John Scheck, 5040 Wellington avenue, 21 year old robber who seized a policeman's pistol early yesterday in the detective bureau and tried to shoot his way to freedom, became docile a few hours later. He joined his confederate, Carl Grundhofer, 20 years old, 3177 North Keating avenue, in confessing a career of banditry that included the robbing of the National Bank of Niles Center on April 7 and the murder of the cashier, Harry Mueller.

Scheck, in his battle at the bureau, shot and wounded Detective George Tucker, from whom he took the weapon. At the Little Company of Mary hospital it was reported that Tucker had suffered only a flesh wound in the foot.

The confession of Scheck corroborated that made by Grundhofer. Both said that four men were involved in the bank robbery, in which $4,800 was obtained. Frank Reglewitz, 24 years old, 3831 Normandy avenue, the third member of the band, is under arrest and the fourth bandit, known as Hodd, is being sought. Scheck admitted that in dividing the loot he concealed $1,800 from the others and then gave each of them $750. Later he presented his mother with $1,000 and his sister, Mary, with a new automobile.

Rank of Eagle Scout Is Conferred on 50 Boys

Fifty boys were made Eagle Boy Scouts last night at ceremonies held in the council chambers in the city hall. Medals elevating them to Eagle rank were presented by Mason Phelps, Scout executive. S. G. Gorline, Scout commissioner, and Stanley Miller, assistant executive, also officiated. Friends and families of the boys attended.

JAIL 4 AS POSTOFFICE ROBBERS.

Hannibal, Mo., April 25.—(AP)—In the arrest of four men, Postal Inspectors T. F. Rhea and T. E. Shutt said today they believed they had solved six postoffice robberies in Missouri and Iowa. The men are booked as Arthur Dixon, 48, and John P. Cunningham, 31, held in the Palmyra, Mo., jail, and J. P. Collins, 28, and Jack Carrain, 23, held in Chicago.

Wife of Brazilian President Hurt, Aid Killed by Rock

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 25.—(AP)—Senora Vargas, wife of President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, suffered a broken leg and one of the president's aids was killed tonight when a boulder rolled down a mountainside and crashed into the president's automobile. The president was uninjured.

GETS LIFE ON ASSAULT CHARGE.

Bend, Ore., April 25.—(AP)—Charles Kimzey, convicted last week on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, was today sentenced to life imprisonment in Oregon state penitentiary.

FRENCH EXCLUDE U. S. FROM NEW ANTI-WAR PLAN

GENEVA, April 25.—(AP)—To what extent the United States government will participate in an anti-war pact of consultation dominated discussion today at the opening of the world disarmament conference. The belief that the United States and England will agree to a consultative treaty was expressed.

To assure military help for a country that might be the victim of aggression, France asked the inclusion in the treaty of a European pact pledging the nations to mutual assistance. The French delegates indicated a belief that a mere consultative pact in which the United States would participate is not a sufficient guarantee for the peace of the world.

The American continent was excluded from the French plan, presented by Rene Massigli, acting head of the French delegation, on the ground that it was impossible at present to make the pact universal.

He suggested the creation in the capital of each signatory power of a commission which would determine violations of the Briand-Kellogg pact and the rights of a victim to assistance.

INDICTMENT OF MITCHELL ONCE MORE CHANGED

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—A new superseding indictment against Charles E. Mitchell, the former chairman of the National City bank, was handed up to Judge Frank J. Coleman today by the federal grand jury.

It differs from the three preceding indictments, all of which it supersedes, in that it cites an additional $666,666.67 in Mr. Mitchell's income in 1929, which he is charged with failing to report in his income tax returns.

Mitchell was originally indicted twice—once for income tax evasion in 1929 and once for the same offense in 1930. Last week these two were combined in a superseding indictment, which has now itself been superseded.

Mitchell was present in court for pleading, accompanied by Max D. Steuer, his counsel. He pleaded not guilty and Judge Coleman fixed Monday, May 8, as the date of trial.

For the year 1929 Mitchell reported $595,565 income from the National City bank and $510,629 from the National City company. The indictment charges that the amount he actually received from the National City company was $1,177,295, and that his total income from salary, wages and commissions from both sources was $1,872,861.

The indictment further charges that Mitchell's gross income for 1929 was $3,649,623, and that his net income was $3,466,324.

Two Illinois Towns Cut Pay of School Teachers

Cambridge, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—Seven grade school teachers have accepted contracts with drastic pay reduction to $490 for next year, $70 a month for seven months. School may go nine months, which would raise the total to $630. High school teachers were cut 17 to 30 per cent and the number reduced.

Morrison Cuts Staff.

Morrison, Ill., April 25.—Morrison High school staff was reduced from thirteen to nine teachers and the 1933-'34 school year cut from forty to thirty-six weeks in a measure to cut the budget from $45,000 to $35,000.

RIOT SQUADS QUELL FIGHTS IN YANKEE GAME

WANT BARGAIN? CHICAGO'S GOLF CLUBS HAVE IT

Seek New Members to Fill Quotas.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Chicago, one of the few golf centers in the United States which has come through the economic storms of the last four years with flying colors insofar as the mortality of clubs is concerned, is now the scene of a number of membership campaigns designed either to increase the regular quota of the club or bring it back to its normal level.

F. R. ELLIOTT.

A number of Chicago district golfers have been forced to withdraw from private clubs because of inability to maintain the payment of dues and expenses, leaving the rosters of those clubs incomplete. It is to make up this membership deficit, varying from ten to fifty members, that a number of clubs throughout the district are selling special memberships. Others are conducting the same type of campaign with a view to raising the number of members above the regular quota.

A playing membership good for the duration of the season only is popular with many clubs, since it will enable members who have dropped out because of financial difficulties to resume their regular memberships when they recover. A few clubs are still leasing memberships for the playing season through special arrangements with the original holder and the board of directors of the club.

Membership Prices Drop.

The excellent condition in which the Chicago golf district finds itself as a whole may be attributed largely to the reductions in membership costs made by the clubs to meet economic conditions. A comparison of membership costs of the present and those obtaining during and before the boom times reveals the fact that the price of memberships at leading clubs has dropped as much as 94 per cent in some cases.

These special membership drives are not common to the Chicago district, but the success which they have had here is unusual, many of them having filled a limited quota of special memberships before the season proper has started.

Midlothian was one of the first to complete its quota, having started last November to enlist 120 new members. A $52,000 watering system, already paid for, proved to be a prime selling point in interesting newcomers. The club is in excellent financial condition, according to David B. Johnson, president.

Olympia Fields Enrolls 75.

Olympia Fields, which discontinued the practice of leasing memberships this year in favor of a membership campaign, also has had considerable success, President William G. Wise said yesterday. Seventy-five new members have come to Olympia Fields since Jan. 1. Full equity memberships are now selling at $300 and the club dues will be cut from $15 a month to $12 beginning May 1. Memberships formerly were valued at as high as $1,200.

A tentative plan to reduce fees and sell annual memberships at Glen View will be discussed by the board of directors Saturday. Frank R. Elliot, president of the club, reports. It has been possible for the last year, Mr Elliot said, for members to lease their memberships, but none has done so.

The normal membership quota of Oak Park is 300, but this year the budget was set to fit a quota of 275. The sale of 25 memberships at a special rate of $110, including tax, has completed the new quota, Tom Heneage of the club said yesterday. Monthly dues have been reduced from $20 to $15. The club has no property indebtedness and its watering system is now 75 per cent paid for.

At Skokie a regular membership which once was worth $1,600 now sells for $200, with a transfer fee of $100 and annual dues of $215, according to President R. M. Cunningham. Twenty class A memberships with playing privileges are being offered at $225 each.

St. Charles Offers Bargain.

Joseph E. Fitch, president of Evanston, said yesterday that the club now has 330 members, with a normal quota of 350. A permanent membership sells for $400, with conditional associate memberships to be had for the annual dues of $200 and an option to buy a permanent membership for $550 at the end of two years.

One of the most unusual membership drives in the district was revealed recently by Tommy Meehan, professional at the St. Charles Country club. Lester J. Norris, president of the club, purchased 25 memberships and turned them over to the club to be sold as "treasure memberships" at $1.10 each, together with the payment of the regular monthly dues, entitling the holder to all the privileges of the club.

Although Exmoor has no system of playing memberships, James Aubrey of the club said yesterday that it is now carrying its full membership quota of 400.

Ridgemoor, according to Harry E.

THE GUMPS—HEART OF MY HEART

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

WAKE LETTER BOX.

DEAR HARVE: President Veeck of the Cubs acted wisely in warning Manager Grimm and Gabby Hartnett not to engage in a brawl with Rogers Hornsby at St. Louis last Saturday. In the first place it would have done no good of any kind and might have resulted in their suspension.

Secondly, Hornsby is gone as manager and whether or not his removal last year in midseason was beneficial, which it apparently was, there are many of us who still remember that Rogers was the main factor in the Cubs' pennant victory of 1929.

Hornsby is past his prime as a baseball player, but trying to make a comeback. I understand his baseball earnings have not stuck with him. Let's forget his present remarks about the Cubs and remember when he was hitting .380 in a Cub uniform in 1929.

HTW: I wonder if you realize that 99.9 per cent of all gym classes in athletic clubs, turnvereins, playgrounds, and Y. M. C. A.'s have volleyball on their schedule. These classes include boys, girls, men, and women, ranging in age from 10 to 50 years and over.

This year the national tourney will be held in Chicago as part of the athletic program of A Century of Progress exposition. We in Chicago volleyball circles are hoping our city will regain the national title now held by San Antonio, which two years ago took it away from Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., which had held the title four times.

Now, Harve, don't you think this game deserves more recognition than it is receiving? George N. Case.

Wake: About 20 odd years ago I went with Cartoonist Pete Llanuza to see Packey McFarland, now a member of the state athletic commission, take a workout at a loop gym in preparation for a pending bout. Packey was buffeting a colored boy all over the ring to the great delight of his loyal admirers from back of the yards, but they wanted more, and were shouting "Knock him out," "Don't ease up, Packey, you're loafing."

PACKEY McFARLAND.

As the round ended for the minute's rest Packey strolled over to the side of the ring, leaned gracefully over the ropes and said in confidential tones, "Say, fellows, please cut out the sarcastic remarks." Henry Vallely.

But Getting Better Now.

HTW: Our first grade teacher had the word "times" in her spelling lesson. She asked if any one in the class could use it in a sentence. Zaralee, a little colored girl, raised her hand and here's the result: "Times is tough." Billie.

OPTIMISTS WIN CLASS A TITLE IN INDOOR POLO

10,000 See Guest Trio Whip 6th Corps, 16-8.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Winston Guest's Optimists galloped away with the national class A indoor polo championship last night. After giving the Sixth Corps Area team four goals by handicap, the New Yorkers rode to a 16 to 8 victory before 10,000 cheering spectators at the 124th field artillery armory. This is the second consecutive year that Guest's trio has taken the class A title.

In an exhibition game which opened the program the Cleveland Riding club defeated the 124th Field Artillery Cardinals, 9½ to 5, with the aid of a six goal handicap.

The game between the Optimists and the Army started in whirlwind fashion. Before the easterners were able to do anything toward wiping out the four goal handicap, Capt. Stub Davis stole the ball from the entire Optimist team and sent it spinning down the field. Racing after it, he scored with an offside forward shot to give the Sixth Corps a five point lead.

Army's Lead Short Lived.

Capt. Wilkinson made another for the Army while Mike Phipps was scoring three for the Optimists and the period ended with the count 6 to 3.

But the Sixth Corps' advantage was short lived. Swiftly the easterners cut down the lead and before the second chukker was half over Guest slammed home a long offside under the neck shot to tie the score at six-all. Then Phipps hammered in a near-side backstroke as his horse was galloping away from the goal to take the Optimists into the lead.

Throughout the remainder of the game the New Yorkers drew away steadily in spite of the stubborn defense of their adversaries.

Phipps led the scoring with eight goals while Guest was making five. Stub Davis knocked in three for the Sixth Corps.

The Army trio was never able to launch a sustained offensive. Every attack was broken up in the making by the aggressive Optimists and each Army goal was well earned. Davis and Wilkinson were forced to do their scoring from long range and always on the run.

Once Stub Davis came down the field at a thundering gallop following one of his shots toward the goal. Leaning far out of his saddle, he reached for the ball, and as he did so his horse fell. But man and animal were on their feet almost immediately and the game went on as furiously as ever. However, Davis was badly shaken by the fall and suffered a cut over one eye.

Guest All Over Field.

Guest played on the defensive to a greater extent than he did last Saturday, when he set an armory record of eleven goals. In fact, he went everywhere that the ball went. As the Army team came into the attack Guest was back with Shaffer, helping beat off the enemy, and when the Optimists took the offensive Guest and Phipps went storming in together toward the goal.

Saturday the Optimists will play again against the Sixth corps—this time for the open championship.

The next tournament games are scheduled for tomorrow night, when Maj. Hunter's 124th field artillery team will meet the 112th field artillery of Trenton, N. J., for the class C championship. A Chicago Riding club team will play an exhibition against Fort Sheridan officers.

Cubs Drop to Cellar; Homer by Bottomley Wins for Reds

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., April 25. — Sunny Jim Bottomley lashed out that home run bat of his this afternoon with two on base and the repercussion therefrom quite eclipsed the Los Angeles earthquake, for it jolted the champion Cubs right into the National league cellar, an environment utterly strange to them for, lo, these many years.

JIM BOTTOMLEY.

Thereafter the Cincinnati Reds marched on to a 5 to 3 victory to sweep their first series with the Cubs. This, the Reds' third victory of the season, lifted them out of the cellar and extended the Cubs' losing streak to four.

Pat Malone, who won the only victory the Cubs have accomplished since leaving home, was the pitching victim this afternoon. Pat was not the pitcher he was in St. Louis. Among other things he did besides pitching a home run ball to Bottomley, was to hit three batsmen, lifting his total in two games to four, which is more than some hard working pitchers hit in three years.

Held to Seven Hits.

The Cubs, who have been watching the Reds and the Cardinals in an effort to discover what bats are made for, were held to seven hits by a second and a third string pitcher. Benny Frey made his first start of the year, and all the Cubs' runs were made while he was at work. Ray Kolp, doing his first pitching of the season, shut out the Chicagoans on two singles during the last four innings. Both of the hits came in the seventh.

Bottomley's homer, which came in the fifth, was an enormous one. It went into the right field stand, the screen of which is 377 feet from the home plate.

Red Lucas, who whipped the Cubs Sunday, couldn't pitch today, but he was not denied some of the glee which the fading champions afforded the ladies' day crowd of 6,000. Red, pinch hitting for Frey to open the fifth, softened up Malone for Bottomley by doubling.

At Pittsburgh Today.

The Cubs, obviously in a state of panic, would be glad to be getting out of this town, which they consider their jinx locale, but for the place they're going. They left for Pittsburgh, where they will be slaughtered in games tomorrow and Thursday unless they recover the use of their bats, not to say their poise.

The Cubs scored two runs in the first inning. Babe Herman walked after two were out and went to third on Stephenson's single to center. English singled to right, scoring Babe Herman and putting Stephenson on third. Grantham booted Grimm's grounder, Stephenson scoring. Koenig popped to Durocher.

Malone's first pitch hit Grantham. Morrissey flied to Demaree in short center and Demaree, seeing Grantham with a big lead, threw to first, although Grimm was not there. The ball went into the stands and Grantham was waved to third, whence he scored on Bottomley's fly to Demaree. Lombardi was hit by a pitched ball, but Moore was thrown out by Hartnett.

Babe Herman Scores Again.

Babe Herman scored again in the third. He doubled to left with one down and scored on Stephenson's single to right. English hit into a double play.

The fifth inning was played in a heavy shower. Malone, Demaree, and Bill Herman went out in order in the Cub half, but here's what happened to Malone during the Red half: Lucas batted for Frey and doubled to right. Douthit ran for him. Grantham fouled to Hartnett. Morrissey's single put Douthit on third. It was at this point that Bottomley hit that 377 foot homer, scoring Douthit and Morrissey ahead of him.

The Reds made their superfluous run in the eighth when Moore singled off Yerkes, took second on Roettger's sacrifice, and scored on Rice's double.

HORNSBY SPURS CARDINALS; BEAT PIRATES, 10 TO 3

St. Louis, Mo., April 25.—(AP)—Inspired by the presence of Rogers Hornsby, their former manager, at second base after an absence of six years, the St. Louis Cardinals won the final game of the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates today, 10 to 3. It was the third victory in three starts for Bill Hallahan, southpaw.

Hornsby, who has been bothered by a heel injury which was slow to mend, showed fairly good speed. Hornsby got one hit, a single in the fifth with the bases filled. He also started a double play in the first inning.

Frankie Frisch, shifted from second to short, handled seven chances without an error. He and Watkins hit homers, each with a man on base. Score:

DERBY HORSES on Parade

BY FRENCH LANE.

Doubting Thomases.

What causes them to wiggle their ears and shake their heads and think that Ladysman, the Kentucky Derby favorite, cannot run a mile and a quarter at top speed?

Surely they haven't looked up the good old stock in Ladysman's family. They act as if great race horses grow on trees or tomato vines, or come out of a pump.

A look back at the ancestry of Ladysman will convince the wisest breeding men that this horse can run to the Rocky mountains and back or step quite lively all the way from Maine to California.

Ladysman's daddy is Pompey. Of course, Pompey failed in the Kentucky Derby which Bubbling Over won. Maybe Pompey didn't feel like running that day. He should have done better, for he is a son of Sun Briar-Cleopatra.

From Route Running Line.

When Sun Briar was mated with Cleopatra to produce Pompey it was the most noteworthy event in American thoroughbred horse breeding until a few years later when Reigh Count and Anita Peabody were mated.

Sun Briar, from a route running family in England, has produced among others Sun Beau, the world's money winning champion. Cleopatra, the mother of Pompey and the grandmother of Ladysman, was one of America's greatest racing mares. She could run fast and she could run far. She demonstrated many times that she could perform any task as well as our more recent great feminine thoroughbreds such as Princess Doreen, Anita Peabody, Rose of Sharon, and Top Flight.

Stamina lines just as strong are to be found on the mother's side of Ladysman's house. So if this colt, which was unquestionably the best 2 year old of last year and which has won his one and only start this season impressively, can't run a mile and a quarter he's the black sheep in a great family. He looked like anything but a black sheep last year when he defeated every topnotch colt of his age.

Should Beat Rivals.

The Ladysman of last year, with no more than the average improvement which a race horse makes between his 2 year old and 3 year old campaigns, should conquer all others in the Derby field. If he doesn't, some physical defect will be responsible.

Ladysman races for W. R. Coe of New York. It is possible he will have two stablemates, Pompoleon and Pomponious, running with him in the chase for the $50,000 prize.

As their names suggest, they also are sons of Pompey. Both were highly tried last year and were found wanting. Yet each triumphed in high class company in Maryland at the first asking this spring. They are bred much alike, each being out of a Polymelian mare.

Most persons ambitious to win a Derby would trade their right eye and throw in their right leg to boot for Mr. Coe's Derby chances this year.

SOX AND TIGERS BALKED BY COLD; TO MEET TODAY

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

In the interests of good health, their own as well as that of fans whose enthusiasm might have induced them to wander out into the cold, the White Sox and Tigers refrained from putting on the opener of their three game series yesterday at Comiskey park. The sight of snow swirling around the premises was sufficient to bring out the cancellation before the noon hour.

Given a break in the weather today the Sox and Tigers will do what the schedule makers had intended for them to do yesterday. The delay will not result in either of the two managers thinking up some new line of pitching strategy. Sam Jones for the Sox and Lynwood [Schoolboy] Rowe for the Tigers was yesterday's program. It will be followed this afternoon.

How About a Pennant?

The brisk rate at which the 1933 variety of hose has been traveling has caused no end of comment at the 3.2 per cent gathering places, but it is not yet advisable to forward any orders for world series seats. The team, stimulated by the addition of the three Athletics' stars and revived by a new attitude, is at least once again as strong as the 1932 article. Against the three other western clubs this strength has been evident almost daily, but there is the little matter of three eastern clubs remaining for consideration.

The eastern clubs—the Yankees, Senators, and Athletics, the class of the circuit so far as anybody can prove to date—will begin pouring into Comiskey park May 2. If the Sox can hold an edge over these raiders it will mean something—probably a first division berth. The latter is almost a certainty if the pitchers don't fall apart.

Walsh, Fieber Released.

The lull in proceedings yesterday gave the Sox officials a chance to lop a couple of names off the roster. Ed Walsh Jr. went to the Oakland Pacific Coast league club, with which he served last season. Along with him went Clarence Fieber, the giant southpaw, who needs a few seasons of minor league experience before reaching his peak. Both releases were on option. Ten pitchers now remain and at least one of these will be dropped. Two of them may go if Manager Fonseca spots a chance to pick up a southpaw hurler on a waiver claim.

Some disposition also must be made of Joe Chamberlin, the young infielder who walked into the training camp hotel and walked right out again. Before Mystery Joe can be released to any minor club he must be located, and that's a man's job. Because he is supposed to be a prospect of unusual promise the Sox officials don't want to release him unconditionally.

BILL TO ABOLISH COMMISSION IS BEATEN, 80 TO 22

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]—The Illinois house of representatives today refused to abolish the state athletic commission which had been asked in the name of economy by Representative James T. Burns [Dem., Kankakee]. The vote was 80 to 22.

Burns is pushing bills to abolish various departments, boards, and commissions and institute a scale of salary cuts, the total amounting to a saving of about $15,000,000 annually. Today he asked passage of the measure to eliminate the boxing commission and vest its duties with the department of registration and education.

A roar of disapproval ensued. Among the objectors were Howard L. Doyle [Dem., Decatur], R. V. Libonati [Rep., Chicago], L. M. Green [Rep., Rockford], and M. E. Bray [Dem., Litchfield].

Representative John M. Bolton [Dem., Chicago] has withdrawn his bill to place amateur boxing under the control of the state athletic commission. His motion this evening to strike the measure from the calendar was adopted by general consent, without a vote and without comment.

GENOA, April 25.—(AP)—Prima Carnera, booked to sail on the Conte di Savoia today for the United States and his forthcoming heavyweight championship match with Jack Sharkey, delayed his departure from his home town of Sequals for so long that he arrived here two hours after the boat had sailed.

MYER, CHAPMAN START BATTLES; ARREST 5 FANS

New York Defeats Washington, 16-0.

Washington, D. C., April 25.—[Special.]—Five spectators were arrested and four players ejected from the game during a riot in which members of the New York Yankees and Washington Senators and several hundred fans participated following a fist fight between Buddy Myer, Senator infielder, and Ben Chapman, Yankee outfielder.

GEORGE MORIARTY

After the players, Chapman and Dixie Walker of the Yankees and Myer and Earl Whitehill of the Senators' were ejected and order was restored play was resumed under heavy police guard, the Yankees winning, 16 to 9. It was their first victory in the three game series.

Ill feeling, which has existed between the two teams since the Bill Dickey-Carl Reynolds fight of last summer, flared to a white heat in the fourth inning when the Yankees were leading, 1 to 0. Chapman slid into second base and knocked down Myer, who was taking a throw from Cronin on a force play.

Myers Kicks Chapman.

Indignant, Myer got up and kicked Chapman in the thigh. Chapman, in an even greater rage, scrambled to his feet and began punching Myer, who retaliated in kind. All the players of both teams and Umpires Moriarty and Geisel rushed to the scene. After a scuffle of several minutes order was restored and Chapman and Myer were ordered off the field.

The game was about to be resumed when hostilities broke out afresh and with greater intensity. Chapman, who had to pass through the Senators' dugout to reach the clubhouse, suddenly wheeled on Earl Whitehill, who apparently had dropped some trite remark. With a well directed punch, he cracked the Washington pitcher flush on the mouth. Others piled on and the fighting soon assumed riot proportions as hundreds of the 6,000 fans in attendance came pouring out onto the playing field.

Walker, utility outfielder, not engaged in the game, dashed out of the Yankee dugout to go to Chapman's assistance, but immediately became embroiled with a group of fans. He was getting the worst of it until Lazzeri and Dickey battled their way to his rescue.

Fans Enter Fight.

Yankee players, most of whom were back in the New York dugout by this time, again rushed out and police reserves were summoned from a nearby station. The spectators began pounding the heads of such New York players as they could reach.

Vernon Gomez, slender Yankee pitcher, meanwhile was having a personal argument with a policeman. He slugged the officer, but nothing came of it. Police reserves finally restored order.

As the umpires signaled for a resumption of the game, fighting broke out among fans in the right field bleachers. Police vaulted the front railing of the stands and fought their way into the thick of the battle, which lasted as long as the brawl on the field. The five spectators were arrested here.

After the game the Yankees were escorted from the park by a squad of policemen. Hundreds of fans stood by jeering and booing as the players got into taxicabs. The New Yorkers entrained for Philadelphia immediately.

The outbreak seemed to unnerve the Senators completely, and enabled young Russell Van Atta, making his debut as a Yankee starting pitcher, to score an impressive five hit shutout.

Gehrig hit his fourth home run of the season. Lazzeri also hit a home run. Score:

CATAWBA ENTRY FIRST, THIRD AT HAVRE DE GRACE

Mr. Khayyam Scores Over Trace Call.

Baltimore, Md., April 25.—[Special.]—The Catawba entry ran first and third in the Glen Oaks race, Havre De Grace, feature, today. Mr. Khayyam won and Good Advice finished third. Both are Derby and Preakness candidates. The Audley farm's Trace Call, also a Derby and Preakness candidate, split the entry, getting the place in a hard stretch battle.

Mr. Khayyam, making his first start as a 3 year old, ran the six furlongs in 1:11 3-5. The entry paid $12.60 to win. Trace Call was at $20.40 to place. The entry was $9.60 to show.

Rush Hour Is Favorite.

Rush Hour was the favorite. He was close to Mr. Khayyam on the back stretch. Then Good Advice took the lead, and Jockey Mills gave Mr. Khayyam a breathing spell. In the stretch Mr. Khayyam came again and withstood the challenge of Trace Call.

The race of Mr. Khayyam was regarded a splendid qualification for the Derby.

C. O. Ferguson's Night Patrol won the fifth race by a length from the B. B. stable's Royal Ruffin. Backgammon was third. D. Bellizzi rode a waiting race on Night Patrol and passed three horses in the stretch.

Winner Returns $8.60.

Fervid and Backgammon set the pace to the turn into the stretch. The time for a mile and a sixteenth was 1:45 4-5. The winner paid $8.60.

Character won the third race, showing a sparkling performance, running the six furlongs in 1:11 4-5, well ridden by Buddy Hanford.

WHITNEY HORSES ILL

New York, April 25.—[Special]—The famous pink and black silks of Mrs. Payne Whitney, owner of the Greentree stable, are not likely to be seen in competition often this spring. Almost all of her thoroughbred stock is or has been ill. A fortnight ago horses at her farm at Red Bank, N. J., were stricken with a cough and fever, and now the same ailment has hit all but two of those she is campaigning at Harve de Grace.

While their sickness is not serious, it played havoc with their training and racing schedules. As a result only one or two will be able to compete at Jamaica and all of Mrs. Whitney's Kentucky Derby candidates have been declared out of the $50,000 stake.

Several horses at the farm resumed training yesterday, but none of them will be in condition to race until the Belmont Park meeting, and a few will not be thoroughly fit for competition until the Saratoga meeting in August.

Those put under saddle yesterday will be shipped to Belmont Park early next week.

Chicago Golf Clubs Offer Big Bargains

Radix, president of the Chicago District Golf association, now has 250 members and until Decoration day will sell a limited number of memberships at $110, including tax. A few years ago a membership was worth approximately $2,000.

Bob O' Link Has Several Plans.

Bob O' Link, according to A. C. Perry, president of the club, is offering several unique membership arrangements. One of these will be limited to visitors to A Century of Progress, who will be here during the period of the entire exposition, for $50. The same fee will hold for special junior memberships. A limited number of special memberships is being sold for $250, a figure which includes dues, tax, and locker and service fees.

Glen Oak, which also has practically a full membership, is selling fifty playing memberships for the season at $110, P. F. Kuhlman, president of the club, said yesterday. At one time a Glen Oak membership was worth $1,750.

Kildeer, carrying a full membership, is offering a limited number of equity memberships at $110. The club showed a profit last year and dues, locker and caddy fees have been reduced.

Flossmoor, with its full quota of 315 members filled, is conducting a drive for 40 new members. The club dues were cut this year from $180 to $150. Flossmoor is one of the most financially sound clubs in the district, being free of any mortgages and having repaid a sizable bank loan recently.

HARPER VISITS WEST POINT TO DISCUSS GAME

New York, April 25.—[Special.]—Jess Harper, athletic director of the University of Notre Dame, today went to West Point to discuss with Maj. Lud Worsham and Lieut. Gar Davidson, Army's new football heads, plans for the next Army-Notre Dame game in New York. He brushed aside with an open grin suggestions that there remained anything to smooth out between Army and Notre Dame as a result of last fall's game at Yankee stadium.

Chicago to Get Softball Title Series in September

The world's softball championship will be decided in Chicago next September. Joseph B. McDonough, commissioner of the World's Fair Softball league, yesterday said teams from nine large cities in the United States will compete for the title in a tournament which will be held in conjunction with A Century of Progress. An elimination tournament to decide the Chicago champion will be held during the summer.

350 POUND CAB DRIVER TO SEEK A. A. U. MAT TITLE

Sannoakie in National Meet; Opens Friday.

Osley Sannoakie, 350 pound taxicab driver, has entered the heavyweight division of the national championship wrestling tournament of the Amateur Athletic union to be held Friday and Saturday nights in the Central Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, 19 South La Salle street.

Sannoakie, who is being coached by the veteran wrestler, Lou Talabar, will have spirited opposition in his division from such stars as Bob Jones, football full back at the University of Illinois, who is Big Ten conference champion; Ralph Teague of Southwestern State Teachers college of Oklahoma, national collegiate champion; John Barga of the Lennox Hill A. C., New York City, and Ralph Silverstein of the Jewish People's Institute, Chicago.

Plan Entertainment Program.

Officials of the A. A. U. have planned sightseeing tours, visits to baseball games and other entertainment for the wrestlers who will begin arriving in Chicago today.

They will be taken on a tour of A Century of Progress grounds, to Comiskey park to see the White Sox battle the Detroit Tigers tomorrow, and to Wrigley field to watch the Cubs play the Cincinnati Reds on Friday.

To Use Two Rings.

The entry list is so large that two rings will be used in the preliminary matches Friday night. By Saturday night, however, the field will be reduced to such an extent that action may be confined to one.

Schedule Two Handicaps on Aurora Card

Two $1,200 handicaps at six furlongs and four $1,000 overnight allowance events will headline the first week of racing on the 18 day Exposition park meeting, which opens at the Aurora track Monday, it was announced yesterday. The program for the last two weeks of the meeting, which marks the beginning of the 1933 Illinois Turf association season, will be issued next week.

The first fixture on the program is the Aurora Inaugural handicap for 3 year olds and up. The $1,200 purse coupled with the six furlong distance is expected to attract most of the good sprinters stabled at Aurora. Other purses on Monday's seven-race card range from the minimum of $500 to $700.

On Saturday, when eight races will be run, another $1,200 handicap is scheduled. The sprinters and routers will have two opportunities to take down a $1,000 purse on the other four days next week. On Tuesday and Thursday, the allowance races which serve as features, will be at six furlongs. On Wednesday the distance will be a mile and 70 yards, while Friday's fixture will be at a mile and a sixteenth.

PEABODY HORSES ARRIVE

The Stuyvesant Peabody stable of 15 horses arrived at Sportsman's park, the half-mile race track in Cicero, yesterday under the direction of Trainer Bob McGarvey. The stable had been quartered at Lemont, Ill., where Peabody has his breeding farm.

Meloy and Miss Melody, two favorites with half-mile fans last year, headed the arrivals, which included several 2 year olds and Martie Flynn, the sprinter who is expected to win consistently on the small course, particularly when the going is heavy.

The 2 year olds were led by Technocracy, which Peabody regards as the most promising youngster in his stable. Other 2 year olds were Gay Follies, Dusty Lane, Farmer Bob, and Hip Boots. The horses were assigned to barn G, where they will remain during the meeting which opens Monday.

KNOCKAWAY HAS SPEED

Louisville, Ky., April 25.—[Special.]—While the Derby colony today awaited the arrival of Col. E. R. Bradley's favored pair, Boilermaker and Broker's Tip, several horses worked out over the muddy Churchill Downs track. The imported Irish gelding Knockaway made the most impressive showing of the day. Boilermaker and Broker's Tip were expected late today from Lexington.

Knockaway, which will make his debut in the Clark handicap, feature of the opening day's program at Churchill Downs Saturday, went five furlongs over the sloppy strip in 1:03. Jockey Lester Pichon rode Knockaway in the test for the Clark handicap and the Kentucky Derby, which will be run May 6.

Knockaway covered the quarter in :23 2-5, three-eighths in :35 3-5, and the half in :48 3-5. Knockaway lost about 30 yards because of the barriers which were along the rail. The barriers are placed on the track when it is muddy to keep the horses from the rail.

Fair Rochester and Friend Charley, two other Derby eligibles, also worked out. Fair Rochester went a quarter of a mile in :26 3-5, while Friend Charley went five furlongs in 1:12 2-5. Fair Rochester, it was announced by his owner, Lon Jones, will go a longer distance tomorrow.

Two other horses took their stables today. Isaiah, owned by J. W. Parrish, and Captain Red, owned by J. C. Milan, were the new arrivals. They probably will start their workouts tomorrow.

Far Corners of World Supply Fly Patterns

BY BOB BECKER.

Manufacturers of trout flies, now turning out scores of attractive patterns which are designed to fool brown, brook, and rainbow trout, are reaching into the far corners of the world these days to obtain materials for their lures. In order to manufacture the gay colored feather concoctions which delight the fisherman's eye and fool the fish it takes an amazing number of bird feathers and various kinds of animal hair.

A few days ago we dropped into the shop of a Lake Zurich fly manufacturer to look over some of the interesting raw materials which are used in the manufacture of trout and bass flies. As box after box of material was opened we jotted down some of the items which importers bring in for American fly makers or collect from various parts of the United States. Here is a partial list which shows what a world-wide atmosphere prevails in a fly manufacturer's shop:

All Kinds of Feathers.

Among the feathers we found those from the South American condor, African ostrich, peacock, Lady Amherst pheasant, golden pheasant, ring neck pheasant, turkey, jungle cock (Asia), white geese, game cock (hackles), partridge, bantam rooster, and European starling. American birds such as the crow, wood duck, mallard, pintail, teal, and the pigeon also contribute their bit to the stocks of feathers.

This list refers only to birds. Another source of material for the fly manufacturer is our animals. For example, many lures require bucktails and squirrel fur. Then the pelts of the badger, skunk, muskrat, beaver, seal, ermine, polar bear, otter, and mink also are needed in order to get just the right hair combination in certain flies.

Beaver Underfur Used.

The other day when we were looking at these raw materials we saw large, fluffy masses of the underfur from the beaver. This is a highly desirable material for what the manufacturers call dubbing, that soft, woolly stuff which forms the body of many of the artificial nymphs.

Bird fans who lament the arrival of the European starling in the central states will be delighted to know that at last some use for this rapidly increasing competitor to our native species has been found by the fly tyers.

Until we visited the "lure factory" we did not know that the feathers of the starling were used in certain fly patterns. However, in the stock of materials we saw a prepared skin of a starling, imported from Europe. The purplish irridescent feathers of this bird make excellent wings for trout flies.

Not How Much? but how much real enjoyment!

MEN in all walks of life smoke El Producto—day in and day out. They have discovered that no matter what they want to spend, El Producto gives them more real enjoyment for the money they pass over the counter. It isn't a matter of price class—or any other class. When you buy cigars, you invest in real enjoyment. And El Producto has been famous for real enjoyment these many years.

Distinctive character, sparkling tang, rich mildness are all the result of the uncopyable El Producto blend. Only quality can do it—quality tobaccos, quality blending, quality workmanship.

Yes, your real enjoyment starts with the first puff—and keeps right on going. Smoking smoothly, evenly, holding its fire—El Producto never varies in the quality of its real enjoyment. A dime invested in quality is worth more than any amount paid for quantity. El Producto will prove it! Many sizes, 10c to 25c.

GIANTS POUND CLARK; DEFEAT DODGERS, 8 TO 2

Brooklyn Held to 5 Hits by Schumacher.

New York, April 25.—(AP)—Mel Ott's batting and Hal Schumacher's pitching combined to give the Giants their second straight victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 2, today.

Schumacher pitched a five hit game and lost a shutout through Danny Taylor's homer after Stripp's single in the third. The Giants hammered Watson Clark in the first two innings to score seven runs. Ott smacked a homer with two on base in the second and drove in another run with a single in the sixth. Score:

RED SOX BEAT A'S, 6-4

Boston, Mass., April 25.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox handed Bob Grove, Athletics' pitching star, his first defeat of the season today, while beating The A's, 6 to 4. Grove yielded nine hits and six runs before he retired at the end of the fifth inning, three of the runs coming in that inning. Bill Dietrich, who relieved Grove, held the Red Sox scoreless the remainder of the game, and allowed only one hit. Score:

INDIANS, 4; BROWNS, 1.

Cleveland, O., April 25.—(AP)—Catcher Frankie Pytlak, starting his first game of the season for the Indians, picked out the seventh inning to make his first hit—a home run—and give Cleveland a 4 to 1 victory over St. Louis today. Pytlak's drive brought two runners in and broke up a pitching duel between Bumps Hadley and Clint Brown. An error by Cissell helped St. Louis score its run in the third and spoil a shutout for Brown. Cub Standing of .333 Brings Back Dark Days of '25

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., April 25.—[Special.]—Its only April, of course, but the presence of the champion Cubs in the cellar carried the way back wheners to the season of 1925. The Cubs finished in the cellar that year with a mark of .442, which is considerably more than the .333 which follows their listing in the percentage tables tonight. The Pittsburgh Pirates, now in the National league lead, won the pennant in 1925 with a mark of .651.

With his first line faltering day after day, Manager Charley Grimm would be looking toward his reserve strength if he had any reserve strength. Grimm's greatest need, aside from a few fellows of any description who can hit is a fast outfielder who also can hit.

Frank Demaree, counted upon to make the fans forget Cuyler until Ki gets well, is proving something of a bust. He is not playing center field with any brilliance, and his batting record to date is .139. During the four games of the current losing streak Frankie has made two infield scratch hits, both wasted, for an average of .112.

Demaree might be benched to cool off, but the team is without a reserve fast enough to roam center field. Harvey Hendrick can play right or left, but wouldn't be so warm in center. Nor would Stephenson or Babe Herman be such hot shakes in center. It is said that Manager Grimm this evening put in a long distance call to President Veeck the man with the moneybag. It would be unfair to blame everything on Demaree, however—the whole outfit appears to be choking to death.

The Cubs now haven't a starting pitcher who hasn't had at least one loss. Root is the only one of the big four who hasn't had his ears pinned back. Root has lost two, but the team never has given him a lead while he still was in the game.

Bush, with a record of two losses and no wins and one ear pinning experience, is slated to go against the Pirates tomorrow. Root will try to get some backing in Thursday's game in Pittsburgh.

The Cubs expected Swetonic in the Pittsburgh opener, but Steve worked in St. Louis today.

GOLF LINKS HIT BY RACKETEERS, COURTNEY HEARS

State's Attorney Courtney yesterday started an investigation of rumors that racketeers were seeking to place slot machines in club houses of daily fee golf courses by intimidation of course owners and employés. The state's attorney, who said that he had received no definite complaint, assigned two policemen to make a tour of investigation of the public courses.

The hoodlums are said to have visited several courses and left slot machines despite the objections of the owners. The machines were installed, it was said, with the intimation that failure to use them would mean that the greens would be torn up or the owners beaten.

FIGHT OR FACE BAN, PROMOTER'S EDICT TO SALTIS

Bud Saltis must meet Ray Tramblie in an eight round bout Friday night or face suspension by the Illinois athletic commission, Billy Cepak, Cicero stadium promoter, announced yesterday after learning that Saltis had decided to cancel the match.

"We have Saltis' contract, and he will be forced to live up to it," Cepak said. "His excuse that he is ill has been found to be groundless."

Later Saltis' manager, Charles Martin, said that Saltis' inability to make the agreed weight of 165 pounds was the real reason for withdrawing from the Tramblie match. The lowest poundage Saltis can make is 167, according to Martin. A month ago Saltis weighed a little less than 165 pounds in a bout with Tramblie.

Freddy Langford, who stopped Jack Moran at the Coliseum last February, stands ready to box Tramblie if Saltis fails to go through with the match.

Charley Retzlaff fought an imaginary King Levinsky yesterday while preparing himself for a 10 round match with Levinsky at the Chicago Stadium next Wednesday. With chalk he drew a likeness of King, a crown adorning his head, on the heavy bag at Kid Howard's gymnasium and tossed hard rights in the general direction of Levinsky's chin for several rounds. Over at Trafton's gymnasium Levinsky lengthened his drill by sparring an additional two rounds with Larry Johnson. He concentrated on a two handed body attack.

Izzy Gastanaga yesterday signed to fight Salvatore Ruggirello in an eight round bout on the Levinsky-Retzloff card. Gastanaga accepted the contest when negotiations for a bout with Johnny Risko at New York on May 19 fell through. Solly Dukelsky and Young Walker, Chicago welterweights, have agreed to meet in one of three preliminary encounters. An eight rounder between Art Laskey and Tiger Jack Fox completes the program.

Nick Scalba, west side featherweight, is scheduled to return to New York Sunday. . . . Eddie Stiegal, stockyards welterweight, has accepted a match with George Shrosbree at the Rainbo Fronton Friday. . . . Mike Copolla has been appointed matchmaker for a show to be presented at 116 West Madison street on May 11. . . . Jimmy Ellopoulos, Chicago bantamweight, will resume drills Monday after a layoff due to a cut over his eye.

Marty Sampson, New York 160 pound boxer, has been offered a match with Teddy Yarosz at Pittsburgh on May 5. Sampson faced a southpaw for the first time when he lost to Frankie O'Brien at the Stadium last Friday. He has had 65 bouts.

Adolph Wiater, Green Bay, Wis., heavyweight, returned to Green Bay last night to meet Lon Warner in an amateur bout tomorrow . . . Big Bob Cook, Kansas City, Mo., heavyweight, is to clash with Jack Kranz of Gary, Ind., in the intercity amateur show at the Stadium, May 12. Kranz will represent Chicago.

Two amateur cards will be presented tonight, one at Fenwick High school, Washington boulevard and East avenue, and the other at De Paul auditorium, Webster and Sheffield avenues. Twenty-four boys from Bishop Quarter school will box at Fenwick high. Bouts at De Paul will bring together intramural champions.

An interscholastic meet between boxers from Fenwick High school and St. Philip will be held tomorrow at St. Philip gymnasium.

WEIR RECEIVES BALFOUR AWARD AT INDIANA U.

Bloomington, Ind., April 25.—[Special.]—Woodrow Weir of Scottsburg, Indiana university basketball forward, has been awarded the 1933 Balfour award in basketball, Director of Athletics Z. G. Clevenger announced today. Members of the athletic department make the annual selection.

L. G. Balfour of Attleboro, Mass., presents the award annually in basketball, as well as in football, wrestling, and track, on the basis of ability in the sport, as well as in general attitude and scholastic standing. John Keckich received the football award announced last fall.

Weir is a junior and has one more year of eligibility. He started his career brilliantly as a sophomore. Last season he suffered an injury early in the campaign, but recovered in time to take part in the comeback of the Hoosiers toward the end.

Ralph Jones Leaves for Vacation in Colorado

Ralph Jones, recently appointed director of athletics at Lake Forest college, has left for his cabin in Colorado to spend the summer. Before leaving, Jones spent several days in Lake Forest going over the prospects for his football team next fall. He met several of the players and made an inspection of the playing field and gymnasium. He will return to Lake Forest the middle of August to make his home on the campus.

Glenbard's Bob Grieve Aims to Be World's Fastest Human

Four years ago, Charles Paddock, whose sprinting earned him the name of the world's fastest human, visited Glen Ellyn, Ill., to deliver a talk before Glenbard High school athletes. In that group was a 15 year old student who listened as Paddock told how to become a great runner.

These instructions were put into practice by that same youth, and he is now rounding out his prep career with one of the greatest records ever achieved by a Chicagoland high school athlete. His name is Bob Grieve.

Grieve is seen daily on the high school field in Glen Ellyn practicing for the Illinois state meet at Champaign and the National interscholastic meet which will be held at Soldiers' field. These events will close his high school competition.

Wins 55 Races.

A year after Grieve heard Paddock he became a member of Glenbard's track team. Since then he has competed in 55 races, winning 36, being second in 18 and finishing third to George Simpson, former Ohio State sprinter, and Glass of Oklahoma Aggies in the Olympic tryouts at Dyche stadium last year.

He has run the 50 yard dash in :05.4 three times to tie the record made by the late Walter Eckersall when he was attending Hyde Park in 1903. Two weeks ago Grieve competed in the Springfield invitational meet and ran the 100 yard dash in :09.6, which tied the national interscholastic record established by Draper of Huntington Park, Cal., High school last year. This was accomplished without starting blocks, it being the first time Grieve raced without them.

A month ago Grieve beat several leading college sprinters, including Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette university, in the Central A. A. U. meet at the Univeristy of Chicago fieldhouse. Grieve defeated Metcalfe in the preliminaries of the 60 meter race, but the colored sprinter won in the finals.

Also Football Player.

Track is not the only sport in which Grieve has participated at Glenbard. He played left half back on the championship Glenbard football team for two years and was rated as one of the outstanding players in the West Suburban conference.

Grieve also is an excellent boxer, according to Charles Butler, Glenbard athletic director. Two years ago he entered the White City trials of THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tournament, but was eliminated by Johnny Farrel, after he suffered a broken hand in the first round.

During the summer Grieve is seen on the Glen Oak Country club course, where he has caddied for five years. He has received lessons from Harry Cooper, a club pro, but complains that he can't shoot better than 92. However, that score brought him a prize in a caddy tournament three years ago.

Will Enter Illinois.

Grieve will be graduated from Glenbard on June 8, but will be eligible for the National interscholastic meet which is scheduled for June 16 and 17. After that meet, in which he hopes to climax his prep career with another record breaking performance, Grieve will matriculate at the University of Illinois.

His roommate at the Kappa Sigma fraternity house will be Huddie Hellmich, Illini sprinter and basketball star. Hellmich, whom he met at the Illinois state high school meet at Champaign last year, has visited Grieve at his home in Lombard several times during the winter.

Perhaps Grieve will attain the heights at Illinois. He will be the most disappointed athlete in America if he does not win a place on the United States track team for the 1936 Olympic games.

GOLF COURSES OF SOUTH PARKS TO OPEN SATURDAY

The two golf courses in Jackson park and the course in Marquette park will be open to golfers Saturday morning with the same fees as those of last year in effect. The fee for the two 18 hole courses in Jackson and Marquette parks is 40 cents and for the nine hole course in Jackson park, 20 cents.

Tennis courts, about 150 in the various parks of the south park system, also will be opened on Saturday.

William J. Schultze, superintendent of small parks and playgrounds for the west park board, said that opening date of the golf courses had not yet been decided. The 152 tennis courts are open now. There are nine hole golf courses in Garfield and Columbus parks.

The Lincoln park golf courses will be opened on May 5 at reduced fees, it was announced by Harry O'Hare, director of recreation.

Tennis courts will be opened on May 1. The beaches will be opened on June 1, according to tentative plans, depending on the weather.

The course at Diversey avenue will be operated with a fee of 20 cents, a reduction of 5 cents from last year. The new North course will be operated at a fee of 30 cents and a fee of 40 cents with a reservation. On Saturdays and Sundays the fees will be 35 cents and 50 cents with a reservation.

SCHAEFER SETS HIGH RUN RECORD IN BEATING HOPPE

Jake Schaefer Jr. of San Francisco broke the world's high run record in cushion carom billiards last night in winning the second block of his 1,500 point match with Willie Hoppe for the world's championship.

Schaefer scored 265 points to Hoppe's 250 in 44 innings with a high run of 39. The old high run record was 38, set by George F. Slosson in 1883. Hoppe now leads in total points, 500 to 462. Hoppe's high run during the night's game was 28.

At the end of the first ten innings of the block Hoppe was leading, 279 to 244, and twenty innings later he was still out in front, 404 to 385. Ten frames later he was leading Schaefer, 464 to 451, a margin which he maintained through the three remaining innings of the block. He ended the block with an unfinished run of eight.

The third block of the match will be played this evening at the Morrison hotel, starting at 8:15 p. m. Score by innings:

Six Points Beat Covenant Five in A. A. U. Final, 39-27

The Six Points quintet defeated the Covenant Baptists, 39 to 27, last night to win the championship of the annual A. A. U. heavyweight basketball tournament at the Community Recreation center, 4711 Madison street. The Six Points were ahead at the half, 25 to 12.

A silver basketball was awarded to the new champions as a team while the individual members received gold medals. In the consolation game for third place in the final tournament standing the Mark Conboy Boosters whipped the Wentworth Merchants, 38 to 32.

Budrick of the Six Points was the scoring star in the title game, sinking six baskets, most of which were from difficult angles.

Soderquist Named Head of Postoffice League

The Chicago Postoffice Baseball league last night elected the following officers: Carl G. Soderquist, president; Walter De Laby, vice president; William McVoy, secretary, and Alex Trostrud, publicity director. Members of the commission chosen were Frank Bodtke, Harry Hahn, and Arnold A. Lampert.

Salvatore Wins by Knockout in A. A. U. Tourney

Three Other Chicago Boys Remain in Meet.

Boston, Mass., April 25.—[Special.]—Geno Salvatore of La Salle, Ill., a veteran of Chicagoland Golden Gloves competition, fought his way into the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. boxing tournament tonight by knocking out a favorite for the lightweight championship.

The clever little Illinois 135 pounder punched August Camarata of New Orleans around the ring almost at will and then landed a crushing right to the jaw which ended the bout in the second round. Camarata had been hailed as a finalist.

The process of sifting the field to 32 for the semi-finals and finals tomorrow brought defeat to three Chicagoans tonight. Moss Brawner, Central A. A. U. heavyweight champion, lost a decision to Izzy Richter of Philadelphia; Jimmy Christy, Chicago featherweight, was whipped by Leo Sweeney of Pittsburgh, and Frank Mirabal, Chicago bantamweight, was knocked out in the second round by Sammy Angott of Washington, Pa.

Three Other Chicago Survivors.

In addition to Salvatore, Chicago still has survivors in Billy Treest, middleweight; Billy Celebron, welterweight, and Max Marek, light heavyweight. Treest pounded a decision over Werner Jurkowski of New York; Celebron threw too many punches for Buster Hardy of Newark, N. J., and Marek beat George Bittner of New Salem, Pa. Treest, Celebron, and Marek were members of the Chicago Golden Gloves squad which routed New York in the intercity matches last winter.

Johnny Dobler of Cleveland, also a member of the Chicago intercity Golden Gloves team, won his lightweight bout. He outpointed Benjamin Pierce of Kansas City in three rounds.

Two Cleveland boys who were unsuccessful in the Chicago Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions also won their bouts. They are Tommy Hudson, who gave Sedgwick Harvey, New York featherweight, a beating, and George Baratko, who defeated Richard Ambrose of Pittsburgh in a welterweight battle.

Katz Scores Knockout.

Julie Katz, brilliant New York Golden Gloves bantamweight, scored a third round knockout over William Brunig. Another New Yorker, Charles Greene, easily won his flyweight match.

ASK STUDEBAKER OFFICIAL ABOUT WHITE PURCHASE

Stockholders Stir Meeting by Questions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 25.—Criticism of the transaction whereby the Studebaker corporation acquired control of the White Motor company several months ago, and requests for further information concerning it were voiced today by minority Studebaker stockholders at that company's annual meeting at Jersey City.

To dissenting stockholders who said they were entitled to know "what's going on in the company," Fred S. Fish, chairman of the board, who presided, replied that the situation was beclouded by the receivership.

Pickup Brings in Cash.

"You must remember," he said, "we are in the hands of a receiver. We are just a shell. We have no money."

Later, however, Fish disclosed that as a result of business pickup Studebaker now has $1,250,000 in cash.

One of the minority stockholders asked Fish how much Studebaker stock he owned.

"That's none of your business," he replied.

Another question was why Studebaker had paid approximately $20,000,000 for the White company, when the latter was "not worth more than $7,000,000."

Stock Used in Purchase.

Fish said the price had not been $20,000,000 and that part of the consideration had been in Studebaker stock. Figuring this and other considerations, he said, the price was about $15,000,000. Studebaker has about 95 per cent of the White shares, and Fish, in response to a query, said he did not know why the other White shareholders had not accepted the offer.

A resolution was approved by the meeting providing for a 625,000 share increase in the authorized Studebaker common stock and to permit the directors to make all of the outstanding $15,625,000 issue of 6 per cent notes convertible into common stock after Dec. 31, 1934.

Retiring directors were reelected with the exception of A. G. Bean, one of the receivers, who resigned and was succeeded by J. M. Studebaker III. A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker company, did not attend the meeting. About 40 stockholders were present.

Anaconda Copper Co. Sales Are Largest in Two Years

The Anaconda Copper Mining company announced that it had sold 42,000,000 pounds of metal since April 1, at the market prices ruling during that period. This is the largest business done by Anaconda for any like period in more than two years.

Allied Chemical and Dye.

Please send me information concerning Allied Chemical and Dye company. —J. D. M.

Allied Chemical and Dye corporation is an outstanding American chemical producer. About half its revenues come from sale of heavy chemicals. Other important revenue sources are sale of dyestuffs, coal tar products, nitrates, paints and investments.

Practically every important industry has contact with the company. Important customers are soap, textile, leather, paper, and petroleum producers, whose demands have continued in large volume even during the last three years.

Extensive diversification and close attention to operating costs have enabled the company to report substantial earnings. Net income in 1932 was $11,441,000, or $3.62 per common share. Net for 1931 equaled $6.74 per common share, against $9.77 in 1930 and $12.60 in 1929.

Current position is strong. On Dec. 31, 1932, cash and marketable securities alone were well over a hundred million dollars, in contrast to current liabilities of $6,298,000. Total current assets amounted to $150,655,000.

There is no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 292,849 shares of 7 per cent $100 par preferred and 2,401,288 shares of no par common. The common has paid $1.50 a quarter regularly since 1927.

Inasmuch as the company's products are vital to so many industries, earnings should reflect immediately any improvement in general conditions. Any upturn in the price of farm produce, which would stimulate the sale of synthetic nitrate as fertilizer, would be of substantial benefit.

Convention Valuation.

I have been following your reports on insurance companies and have often wondered on what basis you arrive at figures for bonds and stocks in your articles. Do you use market values, par values, or what?—N. S.

Unless otherwise stated, "convention value" as approved by the National Convention of Insurance commissioners is used in listing stocks and bonds of insurance companies.

This provides that bonds be valued at amortized values when in good standing. Where in default, listed values are arrived at by deducting one-third of the difference between June 30, 1931, and Dec. 31, 1932, market quotations [where the statement is as of Dec. 31, 1932] from June 30, 1931, prices.

Stocks are valued as of June 30, 1931, quotations.

This does not give an accurate picture of present day conditions of a company. Insurance men, however, take the stand that insurance companies, investing as they do for the "long pull," are not affected by market prices of the securities they hold, provided the soundness of the security itself remans unimpaired.

PUBLIC BASES PRICE GUESSES ON WASHINGTON

Other Factors Useless as Indicators.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Stock and commedity prices fell off yesterday, some of them quite sharply, but the relapse was not interpreted as indication that the pre-inflation boom is over.

In fact, it wasn't interpreted at all. Traders and analysts have temporarily practically abandoned all attempts to read subtle little meanings into every twitch of the tape. This is a good pastime under normal conditions and it precipitates daily avalanches of verbosity which conceal the fact that nobody ever knows what's around the next corner.

Right now, however, things are happening so fast that it isn't even fun to try to predict prices with the usual ouija board equipment and you can pass a whole day in La Salle street without hearing about double tops and triple bottoms.

"Everything," says the trader, with an air of finality, "everything depends upon Washington."

Bankers in Agreement.

And away from the noise of the customers' rooms in the more deliberative atmosphere of offices where bankers are weighing events and making longer term decisions, the same opinion is voiced.

Everybody, of course, is merely seeking the answer to one question: "Are stocks and commodity prices going to continue advancing or are they going back?"

Nobody, perhaps, can advoid wishful thinking, but the individuals whose opinions are usually most sought after dope it out something like this:

1. The new Democratic administration has definitely placed itself on the side of inflation, rising prices, and a return to a credit structure something like that of 1926 or later.

2. Therefore, these Democrats, having made their choice in no uncertain words, can go in only one direction.

3. Under normal circumstance the wishes of the political party in power might or might not be carried out. The Hoover administration, for example, tried to arrest the deflation of credit and failed.

Democrats Have Power.

4. The Democrats, however, have the power to boost prices. To get this power they have been willing to expose the nation to all the dangers of a currency of fluctuating value. But there is no doubt whatsoever about their ability to raise prices. Later on it is possible that they may discover they have started something that they cannot stop, but the essential thing in this discussion is that they have the power to increase prices by cheapening the currency.

5. Just how much inflation will be required to accomplish this purpose or what type it shall be are at present unknown. The administration will have to do some exploring. Under the Thomas inflation bill several ways are opened to the President.

6. It is not to be doubted that the administration will keep trying until prices are up considerably from their present levels.

The question, therefore, resolves itself into something like this: Will the present administration do what it says it will do and what everybody agrees it has the power to do?

What the President considers the desirable level for commodity prices is still anybody's guess.

Await World Conference.

In the meantime developments at Washington seem to indicate that the matter of revaluing gold in terms of the various national currencies will await the world economic conference which is to be held in London, probably in July.

But currency expansion in the United States is not to be held up while the politicians of the world argue about the future gold content of the dollar, the pound, and the franc.

The word in banking circles is that the President's program of selling some three billions of government bonds to the federal reserve banks in return for "asset" money is to get under way immediately.

The governors of the twelve federal reserve banks who were in Washington for a week listening to instructions from the treasury have gone back to their respective banks and are understood to be ready to start pouring money into Washington in return for government bonds.

Other Distribution Plans.

This money will then be available for use by the treasury immediately. It may be used to build public works, to subsidize industries, or as loans to various agencies.

Another credit inflation scheme is also about to be announced, according to information in banking circles. Other stacks of the "asset money" are to be distributed to banks throughout the country which closed during the moratorium and haven't reopened.

The reserve banks, it is understood, are to take in certain assets of the closed banks and give the institutions "asset money" in exchange. The Reconstruction Finance corporation is also said to enter into the picture.

Whether the scheme calls for reopening of these closed banks was not definitely known. But even if the banks themselves do not open, a flood of money would be released, particularly in rural districts, it was said.

Such a scheme, it was pointed out, would do much to end criticism of the administration's bank policy, criticism which is becoming more and more voluble in states like Michigan where bank mortality has been heavy and frozen deposits large.

Broker Calls Inflation New Shell Game

James E Bennett, head of one of Chicago's leading commodity and stock houses, discussing inflation, says the whole business reminds him of the old shell game at the circuses—now you see it and now you don't.

"All talk of reducing the gold content of the dollar is an easy way of letting the debtor welsh," he remarked. "Why not have the courage to come out and say 'We'll pay 75 cents on the dollar'? Why should we ruin the lender by cutting down his assets?"

Some of the proposals put forth Mr. Bennett saw as "a lot of bunk from some near intelligent college professors." He said he can't believe that "we have gone insane or we shall follow the Robin Hood theory."

"If we were permitted to get back to natural conditions we'd work our way out of it," he continued. "The increase in wheat prices is due largely to natural conditions. All talk of cutting down acreage is the bunk as are proposals to give up our foreign markets. Look at New Orleans which formerly was the second port of the United States and is now the sixth. Agricultural prices were held so high that our grains couldn't compete in foreign markets. We have lost this business, a great part of which was handled by New Orleans.

"The only thing that is permanent is change. None of our experts have been able to do anything about weather changes and these changes, which are certain, will affect crops."

Exchange members are paying their dues more promptly now. The long dull period in the markets made the dues an onerous burden. Whether it is the increase in commission business or not, there are no members of the Board of Trade posted at present for nonpayment. A month ago eleven members were delinquent. Dues are $500 a year.

On the Chicago Stock exchange dues have been reduced twice to the present $200 a year. In 1929 they were $600 a year. With the cut rate only two members were suspended last year for nonpayment. Ordinarily a delinquent member is given 60 days of grace to pay up and may be carried on a little longer.

The exchange member adds dues to the two other certainties, death and taxes. Markets come and go, but the exchange collects its dues regularly.

Horseplay is the favorite pastime of floor traders on the stock and grain markets when there is lull in activity. Stiff fines are meted out to members by the conduct committee when the fun becomes too rough. Hazing of new members is always good for a few laughs. The initiate is apt to get a 5,000 share order and to his chagrin find that he has missed his price. He is left in mental agony until somebody tells him that the order was faked. This is one of the milder forms of hazing. In his novel, Henry Esmond, Thackery remarked about the rough practical joking indulged in by exchange traders. Apparently some things haven't changed much since Thackery's times.

The sensational spurt in the markets is drawing capacity crowds to the visitors galleries of the Board of Trade and the Chicago Stock Exchange. A large number of the visitors are women. Several groups of high school students yesterday visited the Board of Trade where they witnessed one of the most active trading days of the year. The rim of the wheat pit was jammed with traders gesticulating wildly. The scene was not unlike the playground of any grade school during a recess.

There seems to be no doubt that the public is "commodity minded." In 1929 the amateur speculator who played the commodity markets was rare. The constant iteration that commodities would lead the markets out of the dumps has apparently convinced the public. One large grain commission house yesterday received 500 telephone orders by noon.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Operators who had liberal profits in their lines of long wheat were again conspicuous on the selling side yesterday. There was continued buying by commission houses in small lots, regarded as for public account, but the undertone of the market was distinctly easier than lately.

While there was nothing in the news to account for it, general sentiment was much more conservative and many of the professional element were inclined to look for the wheat market to have a sharp recession.

Prices Close Near Bottom.

Houses with eastern connections were good sellers of wheat futures during the day. At no time were prices as high as the finish of Monday, while the close was about the bottom, with net losses of 1⅞ to 2¼ cents. May wheat, after selling within ¼ cent of the July, eased toward the last and closed at 67⅝ to 67¾ cents, while July was 68 to 68⅛ cents; September, 69¼ to 69⅜ cents, and December, 71¾ cents.

Inflation talk continues to be the dominating influence in attracting public buying to the wheat market, but it was less effective as far as advancing prices were concerned than for some days. Messages from the southwest were more optimistic as to the outlook for the winter wheat crop.

Weakness in the stock and cotton markets, as well as in sterling and Canadian exchange, had some effect on sentiment among wheat traders.

Corn and Oats Weaken.

Liquidation of a line of long May corn at the opening took the edge off that market, and while there was a good rally at one time, the late weakness in wheat had a depressing effect and the close was 1 to 1¼ cents lower. May finished at 35½ to 35⅝ cents, while July was 38 to 38⅛ cents and September 40 to 40⅛ cents.

Oats eased with other grains and closed 1 cent lower despite the best shipping demand in some time, with sales of 201,000 bushels reported. May closed 23¾ cents; July, 24 to 24⅛ cents, and September, 24¼ cents.

Rye was under pressure, due largely to sympathy with wheat, and closed 2 to 2½ cents lower. May was 47 cents and July 47½ cents at the last. Cash barley gained 1 to 2 cents for the day and sold up to 60 cents, a new high for the season, but futures were off 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents, with May 37¾ cents and July 39¼ cents.

New York City Avoids Default on Notes Due Today

W. B. Storey to Quit as Head of Atchison

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

William B. Storey is to resign as president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway and will be succeeded by Samuel T. Bledsoe, according to reports from Topeka yesterday. The annual meeting of the stockholders will be held in Topeka tomorrow and the report is stated to have originated in Topeka in connection with this meeting.

WM. B. STOREY. [Moffett Photo.]

Mr. Storey, questioned regarding the change, stated yesterday:

"I am not in a position either to confirm or deny the report."

Bledsoe Won't Comment.

Mr. Bledsoe, who is chairman of the executive committee and general counsel of the road, interviewed in New York last evening, refused to comment. The Topeka report stated that important changes in the officials of the Santa Fe were to be made at the annual meeting of the board of directors, which will be held in New York on May 2.

Mr. Storey has been president of the Santa Fe since Jan. 1, 1920, succeeding Edward P. Ripley. He was born in San Francisco on Nov. 17, 1857, and began his railway career as an assistant engineer for the Southern Pacific in 1881. He was made chief engineer of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley railway, now a part of the Santa Fe, in 1895. He was appointed chief engineer of the Santa Fe in 1900. Prior to federal control during the war Mr. Storey was vice president in charge of operations and during federal control acted as federal manager of the road.

Born on Kentucky Farm.

Mr. Bledsoe was born on a farm in Clinton county, Kentucky, in 1868. He entered railroading in 1895 as local counsel for the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, a subsidiary of the Santa Fe system, with offices at Ardmore, Okla. He was made general counsel of the Santa Fe in 1918 and was elected to his present position in 1930 when he moved from Chicago to New York.

Waukegan Bank Receiver Will Sue for Collateral

Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady at Waukegan yesterday authorized L. Elmer Hulse, receiver for the closed Waukegan State bank, to begin action in the Chicago courts against the Central Republic Bank and Trust company for the return of $841,000 in collateral given to cover a loan of $450,000. The receiver's attorney asserted the Chicago bank has since collected about $340,000 and still has much of the collateral left.

D. F. Kelly Is Re-elected President of Fair Store

D. F. Kelly was reëlected president and general manager and S. S. Kresge was renamed board chairman of the Fair, loop department store, at the annual meeting yesterday. Directors reëlected are Mr. Kelly, Mr. Kresge, P. B. Skinner, C. S. Maginnis, J. Espovich, A. Schindel, and W. David Owen. All officers were reëlected.

BARRETT WILL DISSOLVE MOST OF CLOSED BANKS

Finds Hope for Only Few of 226 Shut.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Plans for the early dissolution of the Illinois state banks which have not been licensed for business since the expiration of the general banking holiday are now being made, State Auditor Edward J. Barrett said last night.

Comparatively few of the 226 institutions which are still closed will be permitted to resume business, he stated. The reorganization plans of a number of Chicago banks which attempted to get new money and put their affairs in sound shape have failed, the auditor said. He added there is little hope any more than three or four of the Chicago banks still closed ever will reopen again.

Contest Auditor's Power.

Liquidation of many of the banks has been delayed because right of the auditor to appoint receivers is being contested in the state Supreme court. An early decision on the case is expected. Upon settlement of this point by the court immediate action will be taken to liquidate a large number of the banks throughout the state.

"It would be foolhardy to reopen most of these banks," Mr. Barrett declared.

The Chicago state banks which have remained closed since the moratorium are:

Actna State, 2375 Lincoln avenue.
Austin State, 5645 West Lake street.
Belmont-Sheffield Trust and Savings, 1005 Belmont avenue.
East Side Trust and Savings, 10101 Ewing avenue.
Edgewater Trust and Savings, 5545 Broadway.
Halsted Street State, 6910 Halsted street.
I-C Trust and Savings, 53d and Lake Park avenue.
South Chicago Savings, 2959 92d street.
West 31st Street State, 555 W. 31st street.
West Side Trust and Savings, 1201 South Halsted street.

Oak Park Bank Gets Capital.

The Oak Park Trust and Savings bank, one of the large suburban banks, has raised the necessary $500,000 of new money but as yet has not been licensed. Deposit waivers obtained by the bank are now being checked by the auditor.

Auditor Barrett last night gave the Putnam County State bank of Hennepin and the Crawford County State bank of Robinson permits to reopen this morning.

STOCK MARKET SLOWS PACE AS PRICES DECLINE

Leaders Fall Back 1 to 3 Points.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 25.—The Washington situation, so-called, was a shade more disturbing to speculative sentiment today. Senator Robinson's statement that the administration would go slowly on its special grant of inflationary powers sounded to some traders like a note of caution and the general uncertainty regarding the probabilities of intergovernmental conferences gave others pause.

The net result was a sufficient overbalance of selling orders to set prices back from 1 to around 3 points and to slow up activity materially. Turnover fell to around 3,500,000 shares.

Brokers said that most of the selling orders apparently represented profit taking by traders who think the market is ripe for a reaction and that almost any whiff of unfavorable news would be sufficient to bring it about. Many observers have been voicing the opinion that the "inflation" boom was going too fast for its own good.

Sell on Drop in Wheat.

The drop in wheat in the afternoon trading and the steadiness of the dollar on the foreign exchange combined to stimulate the selling to some extent in the late trading. Up to around noon, in fact, the list had done considerable seesawing with the bull leaders bringing forward one pivotal after another and one group after another in a vain effort to make headway against the tide of realizing orders.

Opening prices had generally been stronger and at the end of the first 30 minutes some of the leaders were up 1 to 2 points over their previous levels. Then came a reaction that sent the whole list 1 to 4 points lower, followed by another recovery. Backing and filling movements followed one another until around midafternoon when the list pointed definitely downward and continued to drop until the close.

Selling Is Light.

Selling was at a gentle pace and no group came in for anything even mildly suggestive of pressure. The majority of losses were around a point or so.

Trading in Radio and General Motors was unusually heavy most of the day the two issues accounting for around 300,000 shares of the total. Pool activity on a tremendous scale was evident in Radio and both the common and preferred B were pushed to new highs for the year on fractional gains. Both stocks finish behind plus signs.

FISH FURNITURE FIRM TO OBSERVE 75TH BIRTHDAY

The L. Fish Furniture company, one of Chicago's pioneer business houses, this week is celebrating the 75th anniversary of its founding, officials announced yesterday.

Organized in 1858, the firm's building was destroyed in the Chicago fire in 1871, then rëestablished at 19th and State streets. The company now operates eight stores. The general offices and warehouse are located at 2225-37 West Pershing road. The business is managed by the sons and grandsons of the founder.

U.S. Steel Pays Same Dividend on Preferred

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 25.—Directors of the United States Steel corporation today voted another dividend of 50 cents a share on the 3,602,811 shares of preferred stock outstanding. The payment will be made on May 29 to stockholders on the books of record as of May 1.

The board voted to reduce the dividend on its senior stock from the prescribed cumulative rate of $7 to the equivalent of a $2 annual rate at the January meeting. The action taken three months ago marked the first break in the long and hitherto unbroken dividend record on the preferred stock since payments were inaugurated in 1901.

The stock now has accumulated dividends of $2.50 a share in arrears, which must be liquidated when earnings permit before any disbursement is possible on the 8,703,252 shares of common stock outstanding.

Loss in First Quarter.

Operating results for the quarter continued to reflect the sluggish conditions prevailing in the period which covered the duration of the banking crisis during March, when the national banking moratorium came in the wake of the prairie fire of state moratoriums which swept the nation from the middle of February.

The net loss after all expenses, including ordinary repairs and maintenance, but before depreciation, etc., was $3,795,473, compared with a net loss of $3,828,272 in the December quarter, and with a net loss of $1,136,607 in the same quarter last year.

The net loss after depreciation, interest, etc., but before special charges explained in the statement below, was $14,711,411. This compared with a net loss of $14,499,714 in the preceding quarter and with a net loss of $13,218,549 in the first quarter of 1932.

After provision for preferred dividends at the reduced rate there was a final deficit for the three months of $16,730,271, compared with a total loss of $18,530,773 after full preferred dividend in the preceding quarter and a loss of $19,523,468 reported for the first quarter of the previous year.

Net earnings, monthly, by quarters, follow:

FIRST QUARTER.	1933	1932.	1931.
Jan.			$8,118,411
Feb.			6,155,548
March			7,190,877
Total	*$3,795,473	*$1,136,607	$19,464,936

* Deficit.

Inland Reëlects Officers.

Officers and directors of the Inland Steel company were reëlected at the annual meeting of the company held yesterday.

The steel company reported that operations for the quarter ending March 31 resulted in a deficit of $1,-.42,053, compared with a deficit of $820,541 for the quarter ending March 31, 1932.

Net earnings from operations after deducting administration expenses and all charges for repairs and maintenance for the March, 1933 quarter were $77,001. Interest on bonds totaling $465,750 and depreciation and depletion of $623,305 resulted in the deficit.

Republic Steel company reported net loss of $2,521,568 for the period after all charges against a loss of $2,476,-292 in the first quarter last year.

Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation showed a net loss of $2,060,645 after charges and taxes against loss of $2,399,089 last year. After preferred dividends there was a surplus debit of $2,207,430 against $3,426,582 in the March quarter of 1932.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube company reported net loss of $3,473,370, an increase over the $3,057,736 in the comparable 1932 period.

GEN'L MOTORS QUARTERLY NET BEST IN A YEAR

Profit Is 11 Cents on Common Shares.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 25.—General Motors corporation earned 11 cents a share on the common stock in the first quarter this year, it was announced today. This compares with 17 cents in the first three months last year.

Net income applicable to the common stock was $4,575,077. Net sales aggregated $120,000,163, as compared with $149,663,716 in the same quarter of 1932. Net earnings before preferred dividends were $6,870,007, as compared with $9,693,027. Preferred dividends of $2,294,930 were paid during the quarter.

The profit reported for the quarter was the largest for any period since the first quarter of last year, despite the fact that earnings were reduced somewhat by the bank holiday.

Sales Reflect Lower Prices.

Alfred P. Sloan, president of the corporation, told stockholders at the annual meeting in Wilmington, Del., that the earnings report did not reflect provision for losses on cash balances in closed banks, amounting to $13,943,878, since the extent of these losses "is not determinable at this time."

Mr. Sloan said the decrease in sales reflects the lower price of automobiles this year, as well as the larger proportion of sales of the popular priced models.

Sales of cars to dealers, including Canadian sales and overseas shipments, totaled 199,749, compared with 197,256 cars in the first quarter of last year. Dealers in the United States delivered to consumers 140,369 cars and trucks, compared with 143,514 in the corresponding period of 1932. Sales by General Motors operating divisions to dealers in the United States amounted to 167,584 cars and trucks, compared with 166,304.

Tells Cash Position.

"Cash, United States government and other marketable securities," Mr. Sloan continued, "at March 31 amounted to $148,211,686, excluding balances in closed banks, compared with $172,780,695 at Dec. 31, 1932, and $186,777,639 at March 31, 1932. Net working capital at March 31, 1933, amounted to $217,468,700, excluding cash balances in closed banks, compared with $225,437,194 at Dec. 31, 1932, and $271,536,282 at March 31, 1932."

Directors of the corporation will act next Monday on the quarterly common dividend of 25 cents a share.

SIX CONCERNS CUT EAST TEXAS OIL TO 10 CENTS

Five more companies have joined the Texas company in reducing the price of east Texas from 50 cents to 10 cents a barrel. The Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of Indiana; the Humble Oil and Refining company, the Tidewater Oil company, the Shell Petroleum corporation, and the Empire Oil and Refining company yesterday announced that they would pay the 10 cent rate.

OLD INFLATION FOE TELLS WHY HE HAS CHANGED

Illinois Manufacturers Hear Dr. Irving Fisher.

Today's expected action on the inflation bill in Washington is regarded by Dr. Irving Fisher, professor of political economy at Yale university, as the most important piece of legislation in all American, if not world, history.

Dr. Fisher was the chief speaker last night at the eighteenth annual dinner of the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association at the Palmer house. His subject was "Inflation and Deflation."

"For 25 years," he said, "I have been telling of the terrible evils of inflation. Yet tonight I have come to advocate a moderate degree of inflation, or reflation, as an offset to the deflation which we have had so recently and in such large measure.

Need New Unit of Value.

"What we need now is a real unit of value, a commodity dollar. Once we get hold of this idea we will no longer be shocked. Here we have for the first time in history a serious proposal by the President to change the supposed sacred gold content of the dollar in the interest of giving you business men a better standard of value.

"The greatest problem in the world today, and the most acute in America, is inflation and deflation.

"We can only spare ourselves further depression by stopping and reversing deflation. This can be done by devaluing the gold dollar, buying bonds with United States notes, or with federal reserve credit, guaranteeing bank deposits for a time, accelerating money velocity by the Riefler plan, or by stamp money or both, and by subsidizing the reemployment of labor.

Inflate or Liquidate.

"The alternative is liquidation, which has not yet begun. It would take years to do it and it would require bankrupting banks, savings banks, life insurance companies and railroads, with far more unemployment than now, with bloodshed and perhaps revolution.

"I do not anticipate that this alternative will be followed nor that the present administration will be so foolish as to allow it. If it should, it will, I believe, be soon forced to retreat by the humiliation of an unbalanced budget.

"When deflation 'gets' Uncle Sam as it is 'getting' municipalities, Uncle Sam will be compelled to use his prerogative of paying his bills with printing press money. The German people did not wake up to the fact that the mark had fallen at all until it had fallen 98 per cent. The American people have not yet waked up to the fact that the dollar has risen, though it has already risen 80 per cent.

"In either case the reflation should stop when the price level is restored to where the greatest justice is rendered to the greatest number—debtors, creditors and workmen. That would stop the depression. Then the price level would be stabilized. That would mean the stabilizing of the dollar and preventing booms and depressions for the future."

CORPORATION EARNINGS

HOUDAILLE-HERSHEY.

Corporation reports consolidated net loss for the three months' period ended March 31 of $88,314 for the after depreciation and all other charges. CATTLE AND HOG PRICES STRONG; SUPPLY LARGER Swine Average Up 5 Cts.; Lambs Are Weak.

Cattle and hogs retained Monday's full gain and in places scored additional slight advances, despite a 15 per cent increase in the Chicago receipts. This increase, however, was counterbalanced by decreases at relatively low outside centers, the aggregate total at all markets being little different than a week ago. The two day run at 20 points at 472,000 cattle, hogs, and sheep compared with 491,000 a week ago and with 477,000 a year ago.

Influenced at the opening by the reaction in grain prices, the hog market was slow in getting under way at Monday's quotations, but buying soon gained good volume and the bulk of offerings changed hands at steady to strong prices. The feature of the trade was the undercurrent of strength in medium and heavy grades, particularly in the biggest types, which finished at the high point of the session and 5 to 10 cents above Monday.

Rise in Lard Aids Prices.

The upturn in the lard market has stimulated buying of well fattened hogs. Lard and extremely heavy hogs are selling higher than in 1932. Heavy butchers sold within 5 cents of yesterday's top for light animals. A year ago there was a discount of 35 cents for butcher weights, while two years ago heavy hogs sold 55 cents under top.

Current quotations are 10 to 30 cents above the corresponding time last year and $1.10 to $1.20 above the low point of the winter. Prime 236 pound hogs brought yesterday's late top of $4.15. The general average for the day advanced to $3.95, showing 5 cents gain over Monday. A rise in prices at eastern points carried the top to $4.50 at Pittsburgh.

Chicago Prices Higher.

The uneven distribution of supplies because of the relatively high position of the Chicago market has been the subject of a good deal of comment, and has become rather puzzling, since this condition has existed for several weeks without material change.

Large local packers were aggressive in the cattle alleys yesterday, but met good eastern competition in the top grades. Shipping demand has expanded since a week ago.

Fancy 1,002 pound yearlings sold to Swift at $7.10, the highest price paid for cattle since March 22. Two weeks ago top sales were halted at $6.50.

The decided improvement in the hide trade has benefited the cattle market, and has become one of the outstanding bullish factors.

Lambs maintained a steady basis for a short time at the opening yesterday, but weakened later and closing quotations in some classes were as much as 15 to 25 cents lower.

BUTTER AND EGGS STEADY

Butter and egg futures were about steady on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Butter closed ¼c lower while eggs were ¼c lower to ¼c higher despite a very bearish storage report. The four markets reported 79,000 cases into storage, one of the heaviest movements reported in the last few years. The total was 24,000 more than last year. The news did not increase pressure materially, however. Buyers developed caution, but sellers held back. Butter news was neutral, the movement of storage stocks about the same as last year. November was under moderate pressure at the start and declined. At the close, however, buying caused a rally to the opening level. Sales: Butter 26 cars; eggs, 94 cars. Deliveries: Eggs, 10 cars.
